"BOMB" AT OPERA; AVERT PANIC

U.S. TO DEMAND ONE SUPREME WAR COUNCIL

Policy Once Defeated by Position of the British.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—[Special]—President Wilson and his cabinet decided today to exert the influence of the United States in favor of the creation of a supreme war council charged with the direction of military operations on all fronts and the control and disposition of supplies from all sources.

The administration would prefer a small council, composed of not more than five or six officials, representing the military and civil departments of government.

Col. House, chairman of the American war mission now in Europe, probably has been instructed to urge, perhaps to insist upon, the creation of this supreme war council when the matter is taken up in the inter-allied conference in Paris.

Action in Paris Council.

The administration was moved to this decision by several considerations, including the apparent need of abolishing the go-it-alone policy and establishing single control of all operations and the growth of the demands at home and abroad for such action.

The president is confident that the creation of this council will be the principal result of the Paris conference, particularly as the inter-allied board of military officers now directing the Italian defense may readily be expanded into the body he advocates.

Indications also are not lacking that the aggressive attitude displayed by Lord Northcliffe in condemning British war policies and advocating a supreme war council influenced the president and his advisers.

Will Take Leading Part.

Administration officials said tonight that the United States intends to assume an unmistakable leadership in the conduct of the war henceforth, and that its proposals deserve acceptance because the allies will be compelled more and more to rely upon America for men and materials.

Although Northcliffe refused to accept a ministerial position in the Lloyd George administration because he disapproves some British war policies, the editor and the premier are agreed on the question of the creation of a supreme war council. It is not unlikely, therefore, that the action of the president and his cabinet today will strengthen the position of Northcliffe and Lloyd George and tend to disarm the British criticism aroused by the premier's proposal of an inter-allied war board.

Urged Action Long Ago.

Lord Northcliffe's criticism of the British government was made more pertinent by the disclosure here tonight that England refused to enter into an agreement for a concert of action by the allies, urged as long ago as last July by the United States at a time when England and other entente nations were pleading with the American government for immediate assistance on an unprecedented scale.

The United States suggested that the entente countries should pool their interests and make a composite presentation to this country of their needs. That was just prior to the war conference of entente powers to which the United States sent no representative.

England, France, Italy, Russia, Belgium, and one or two more of the powers involved in the war against the Teutonic alliance had either sent or were preparing to send war missions to the United States. Requests for assistance were piling in on the Washington government from all sides.

Asked to Do Impossible.

Signifying its willingness to go the limit, the American government informed the representatives of the entente powers that it was being asked to do the impossible. This government, it was pointed out, was being asked to judge conditions concerning which it had no knowledge.

This government knew, it was pointed out, that England was asking for enormous credits, as was France, Italy, and the other entente countries. Nowhere was there available to the United States any adequate information as to the needs of the entente cause as a whole.

Accordingly the United States urged that the entente countries get together and arrive at an agreement

10,000 LOYALISTS BESIEGED IN KREMLIN

Foe Repulsed at All Points, Rome Asserts

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The British correspondent accredited to Italian headquarters, in a dispatch dated Thursday, says:

"Allied reinforcements are reaching Italy daily in increasing numbers. To save waiting for trains on the congested railway some French troops have been brought across the Alps through the snow covered passes.

"The allied troops are marching steadily forward to their appointed places in the Italian scheme of defense."

BULLETIN.

ROME, Nov. 16.—Pope Benedict's mother and sister, who were at Treviso, have gone to Bologna because of fear of the Austro-German invasion.

(By the Associated Press.)

The Italians continue daily to stiffen their front from the region of Lake Garda to the Adriatic sea. Nowhere have the Teutonic allies been able to penetrate their lines for new gains of great importance. On the other hand, their attacks have met with fierce resistance and ultimate repulse, except in the north, where the town of Cismon, on the east bank of the Brenta river, and several hill positions have been taken by the invaders.

All along the Piave a furious artillery action is in progress, and Italian airplanes again have come into the fray and are doing notable work in dropping bombs on the enemy lines.

To the south, near the mouth of the Piave, in the region known as the "Holland of Italy," Italian engineers have opened the dikes against the enemy forces which crossed the stream at Grisolera. These enemy forces possibly have been trapped by the inrush of the water.

Forms Huge Triangle.

The inundated territory forms a huge triangle about twelve miles on each side, with the apex at Dona Di Piave. The enemy had been driven back, but still held on within this triangle until the dikes from both rivers released the water over the low lying plain. The land is at or below sea level.

The chief menace at that point was that the enemy might be able to approach Venice, seventeen miles away, through the lagoon or bombard the city from his position between the rivers. The inundation interposes a barrier of water twelve miles across and several feet deep.

Regardless of this, however, the population of Venice has dropped from 160,000 to 20,000.

LINE HOLDS FAST.

ROME, Nov. 16.—All along the mountain front, from Asiago to the Piave river, the attacks of the Austro-German forces which are seeking to crush in the Italian line have been repulsed, it is announced officially. All the positions attacked yesterday remained in the hands of the Italians.

Take Another Town.

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 16.—The town of Cismon, on the northern Italian front, has been captured, the war office announced. Near the Adriatic, on the western bank of the Piave, Hungarian forces advanced and captured 1,000 Italians.

A later statement added:

"New attacks brought us successes in the mountains between the Brenta and the Piave."

REPULSE ALL ATTACKS.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Official dispatches from Rome received here today describe the situation on the fighting front as follows:

"The enemy continues to exert the greatest pressure against the extreme left of the Italian line, attempting in the meantime to force through the right in the swampy region along the sea. The attacks in the Giudicaria, although delivered with great violence in mass formation and preceded by intense artillery fire, have been successfully repulsed.

"We warn the world against German falsehoods. Italy has still powerful energies at her disposal, which she will employ to the extreme limit and without the slightest hesitation. An eloquent proof that the Italian military and political situation is still solid is indicated by the allies' military cooperation, which is limited to the supposition that the larger task will be accomplished by our army, which is rapidly recovering from its recent reverses."

18,000 REBELS FIGHTING TO RULE MOSCOW

Kerensky Beaten at Petrograd Gate; 1,500 Fall.

BULLETIN.

PETROGRAD, Thursday, Nov. 15, 5 p. m.—Seven thousand military cadets and 3,000 troops are besieged in the Kremlin at Moscow by 18,000 Bolsheviki, who are battering the ancient walls and buildings with heavy artillery, according to a well authenticated report received this afternoon.

The loss of life since the beginning of the insurrection is estimated at from 2,000 to 5,000.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Nov. 17, 3 a. m.—The Daily News' Stockholm correspondent says: "The Finnish Socialists have carried out a coup d'etat. With the help of Russian soldiers they captured telegraph and public institutions in Helsingfors and then went to the senate, which they declared dissolved as well as the landtag. The old Socialistic landtag will be convoked as early as possible and a new senate without any bourgeois elements will be formed with the Socialist leader, Tokio, as president. A general strike was declared in Finland Wednesday with the object of overcoming all resistance from the bourgeoisie. The coup d'etat was effected without disturbances or fighting."

LONDON, Nov. 16.—A belated dispatch from Petrograd to Reuter's, Limited, says 1,500 Cossacks were killed or wounded in fighting that occurred near Alexandrofsky station, five miles southeast of Petrograd. This information came from a Maximalist source, dated Monday, Nov. 12.

A Reuter's, Limited, dispatch from Petrograd, dated Tuesday, Nov. 13, says:

"Tsarkoe Selo has changed hands twice in the last three days. Adherents of Premier Kerensky first occupied it, after a short conflict, and continued to advance, and were reported at one time as being within five miles of Petrograd.

Use Armored Train.

"According to a Maximalist account, in the fighting at Alexandrofsky station an armored train commanded by Kerensky forces opened fire against the Bolsheviki ranks with guns and machine guns, but the attack was not successful.

"Cossacks attempted to advance near Pulkova, but were promptly checked by armored cars with machine guns. Maximalist scouts reported that the Kerensky Cossacks were so few in number that when they went forth to fight they were able to leave only small parties in Tsarkoe Selo."

Orders Prisoners Freed.

The first word received direct from Petrograd for several days came this afternoon in the form of an official wireless message mentioning Col. Mouravieff, the Bolsheviki military leader, as in command of the Petrograd military revolutionary district.

The message says Col. Mouravieff has commanded the Kissinov (Kishinev) soldiers and workmen's council to take the most energetic steps to liberate their comrades in the Kissinov prison who are serving terms at hard labor for revolting against "the deposed provisional government."

Guerrilla Warfare Rages.

According to official circles the latest news from Russia here is a message from the British minister dated Petrograd, Tuesday, via Haparanda and received last evening. It reported "all well here."

Another message from Haparanda reports a certain amount of guerrilla warfare in Petrograd and declares the city is in control of the Bolsheviki, whose soldiers are without officers. The telegraph and telephone offices had been wrecked, the message said.

The Russian embassy here is without advices.

THE TRAGIC STORY OF VENICE

[Copyright: 1917: By John T. McCutcheon.]

In 1796 Napoleon first swept into Italy, driving the Austrians before him. He forced Venice to surrender its liberty and then tossed it carelessly to Austria as a bribe for acknowledging the independence of his republics.

Austria again invaded Italy and in 1800 Napoleon returned and defeated the Austrians at Marengo. Venice was taken from Austria.

Napoleon became King of Italy and when he fell the kingdom of Italy fell. The old governments were restored. Venice falling to Austria, Genoa to Savoy.

In 1848, when the news of the French and Austrian revolution arrived, Milan and Venice rose in revolt and expelled the Austrian garrisons.

In 1849 Victor Emmanuel made peace with Austria, paying a heavy indemnity. Venice succumbed to cholera and famine, and the old policy of proscription and persecution was resumed in the Austrian dominions of Italy.

In 1859 Napoleon III. invaded Italy, made peace, giving Lombardy to Sardinia, but leaving Venice in the hands of Austria.

In 1866 Italy joined Prussia in her war against Austria and, after Austria was defeated, the Peace of Prague gave Venice to Italy.

What comes next in her tragic history?

COWDRAY QUITS POST AS CHIEF OF AIR SERVICE

Letter of Northcliffe Causes His Move to Resign.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Viscount Cowdray, chairman of the British air board, has resigned as a consequence of Lord Northcliffe's letter to Premier Lloyd George.

Lord Northcliffe had been offered the air ministry and in reply declined the position, criticizing in many ways the British conduct of the war, but not the air service.

Viscount Cowdray, in his letter to the premier tendering his resignation, protested against receiving through Lord Northcliffe's letter to the press the first intimation that the premier desired a change in the war ministry. Viscount Cowdray added that he hoped the resignation would be accepted as speedily as possible.

Press Views on Action.

The newspapers comment extensively on Lord Northcliffe's letter to Premier Lloyd-George, in which he criticized the government on the ground that it was dallying with such problems as unity of war control, eradication of sedition mobilization of man power, and introduction of compulsory food rationing.

The Globe says the gravest of all Lord Northcliffe's warnings is that concerning the temper of the American nation, that the American people think, and think rightly, that Great Britain's rulers have muddled the war. This newspaper declares the letter, while addressed to the prime minister, is in truth written to the nation, and adds:

"If we do not heed it we shall deserve any fate that may befall us."

Time to Take Action.

"The present government," the Pall Mall Gazette says, "has been almost a year in office and it would not be too soon for the premier to see whether it can be revised in the interests of greater energy and clearer perception of what is meant by war."

"Other distinguished men have felt like this," the Westminster Gazette says, "but none of them hitherto has expressed his sentiments in this blunt vernacular or made refusal of such high office the occasion for lecturing the prime minister on the shortcoming of his administration. . . . Those who make other scapegoats are always in fear of being scapegoats themselves."

Food Controller's Rules Help Him Lose 21 Pounds

GLASGOW, Nov. 16.—Baron Rhondda, the food controller, in a speech here today, referring to what he termed were suspicions that he was not practicing what he preached, said that whether due to rationing or to the anxieties of office, his weight had been reduced by 21 pounds in the last six months and that he felt all the better for it.

THE WAR

UNITED STATES.

President Wilson and his cabinet decide to support creation of a supreme allied war council to obtain unity of action on all fronts.

ABROAD.

Ten thousand loyalists are besieged in Moscow. The Bolsheviki have forced Kerensky's army to retreat after a battle five mile from Petrograd. Finnish Socialists have gained control of Helsingfors and declared a general strike throughout Finland.

Berlin reports that the town of Cismon, on the northern Italian front, has been captured. Rome says all attacks, from Asiago to the Piave, were repulsed.

Teutonic forces inundated when Italians open dikes of Piave to check advance on Venice.

London reports that the British army pursuing the Turks along the coast in Palestine has made further substantial gains.

FLAMES FLASH FROM GAS PIPE; CRANK SOUGHT

Fire Chief Is Told Dynamite Filled Container.

Twenty-two hundred opera goers in the Auditorium theater last night were startled and a panic was narrowly averted when the fuse of a mysterious gas pipe device flared up in an aisle of the main floor during the first act of the opera "Dinorah."

The first warning came when a small puff of white, acrid smelling smoke oozed up from the middle of the main floor of the theater. Several larger puffs followed. Persons near the smoke rose from their seats with low cries. Conductor Campanini immediately swung the orchestra into the notes of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The big audience checked its start for the exits and in a moment the threatened panic was averted.

Fire Chief Seizes "Bomb."

At the same instant that the conductor turned to his musicians, Battalion Chief Corrigan of engine company No. 10, who was on duty in the back of the theater, rushed down the aisle, picked up a sizzling piece of gas pipe, and, running to an exit, hurled it into the street.

Corrigan hurried back to help quiet the disturbed audience and then communicated with the federal authorities.

Early this morning the police and department of justice operatives under Walter Furbishaw, first assistant to Chief Clabaugh, were searching for the person or persons who had planted the explosive in the theater.

Say It Contains Guncotton.

The gas pipe was taken to engine house No. 10. There several firemen made a test, they said, of the contents of the pipe. They said the contents apparently were a mixture of black powder and guncotton, but this could not be verified. The bomb will be examined further today to determine its character. Chief Corrigan said early this morning that he was not ready to say how dangerous the bomb was.

"It is made from a piece of gas pipe about eight inches in length and about two inches in diameter," he said. "One end is stuffed with paper. I am unable to say what its contents are. One end may have contained a fuse, but it is burned away.

Smoke Puffs First Warning.

"I saw the first small puff of smoke when it was ignited. This was followed by several latter puffs, each increasing in size, and by the time I got to the thing, it had stopped smoking. I picked it up. It was hot. I ran to the door and pitched it upon the sidewalk and then ran back to help control the audience, which I feared was in a panic.

"I notified the federal people at once and they sent operatives to the scene at once. We got hold of the pipe length and took it to the fire station house. We could find no caps about nor could we learn that any one had heard any detonation. The first thing noticed was the smoke and the sulphurous odor that permeated the theater as soon as the smoke was visible."

U. S. Agents Seek Enemy.

Government officials were working on two theories this morning. One was that the bomb had been planted by a crank or an anti-American, who sought to blow up the theater.

The other was that it was not composed of a high explosive and had been placed in the theater as a protest against the expenditure of money for opera and to frighten the wealthy patrons.

One story that was told them was that three men in evening garb had been heard in the theater lobby cursing America and Americans. They were said to have conversed loudly and their accent betrayed German origin.

The only evidence the operatives got that the gas pipe was in the theater before the smoke was seen came from a woman, who sat near the scene of the explosion. She said when she sat down that her heel clicked against some metallic substance, but she did not look to see its character.

SCARE IN THE THEATER.

The opera, with Galli-Curci singing the title role, was half way through its first act, when a scream was heard far back on the main floor, just where the steps sweep up from the parquet

CULTURED GIRL DEAD FROM GAS; 'JACK' ONLY CLEW

"Jack": Some one you no doubt love, because she wore a gold pin with your name engraved on it, was found dead in her room at 1921 West Adams street yesterday. She was lying on the bed and the gas was flowing from an open jet.

Other than the pin no clew to her identity is known. She rented a room from Mrs. John Miller Wednesday evening. She said she was from Iowa and told Mrs. Miller her name. All that Mrs. Miller remembers, however, is "Bess."

She was about 25 years old and wore a blue silk dress, over which was a flowered silk kimono. An expensive brown and black checked coat and high topped shoes were on a chair near the bed.

Pinned underneath each cuff of her coat was a $5 bill. In her bag was a silk party dress and several pairs of silk stockings. She wore a small moonstone ring.

Several persons have visited the undertaking rooms at 2015 West Madison street, but have failed to identify her. Mrs. Miller said she was cultured. The police believe she was a member of a well to do family.

Window Smashers Escape with Jewels Worth $3,000

Four well dressed men hurled a brick through a plate glass window of the jewelry store of Charles A. Joneson, at 5915 South Halsted street, last night and escaped with jewelry and silverware valued at $3,000.

Joneson and his son, Theodore, were about to close the store for the night when they heard the crash and hurried to the street and saw the four men running away. They chased the men, but they escaped.

Tuan Chi-Jui, China's Premier, Has Resigned

PEKING, Nov. 16.—Premier Tuan Chi-Jui has resigned.

FOUR CHILDREN DIE, ONE HURT IN STREET CRASHES

Duit Larson, 13 years old, fell off his bicycle in front of a Chicago and Interurban car at One Hundred and Thirteenth street and Western avenue, Blue Island, yesterday afternoon and was so badly mangled that he died fifteen minutes later in St. Francis hospital. He lived at 110 Orchard street.

George Fritz, 12 years old, also of Blue Island, was hit by an automobile a few minutes later and was also taken to St. Francis hospital. His injuries are serious. Fritz lived at 493 Fulton street.

Ruby Schwartz, 12 years old, 1336 West Twelfth street, died yesterday as a result of injuries sustained when an automobile driven by Nathan Orenstein, 1856 South Avers avenue, struck her. Orenstein is held by the police. William Vorovansky, 746 Uhland street, died yesterday. He was struck Thursday by an automobile driven by J. J. Schmidt, 6628 Sheridan road.

Martin Garther, 13 years old, of 4723 South Dearborn street, a Negro, was crushed to death by an automobile truck in front of 4717 South Dearborn street. The boy was roller skating.

John Gets So Many Fish He Gets Stuck on Bar

John Roberts, fisherman, went out yesterday for a few rounds with the high cost of living. He was starting back with a load of fish when the fog came down.

Crossing the bar off Grace street John's boat stuck on the sand. Faint cries for help were heard on shore, and the Lake View crib, the Evanston lifesavers, and the Town Hall police were notified. Oscar Munsen, a policeman, and John Johnson, a fisherman, went out in a motor boat and pulled Roberts off the bar.

"It's a fine load of fish I got," said Roberts.

into the grand foyer. A second scream, a woman's, and then a shout, a man's, rang through the big theater. Then a tongue of flame shot six or seven feet into the air, while thick, dirty green smoke curled up and out and carried foul, acrid fumes through the building and into the corridors.

One-third of the 900 people who sat on the main floor made for the exits at the head of the aisles leading to the big foyer. The others—and it seemed, in the excitement of the moment, that they were led and directed and held firm by the women among them—stood their ground, called for silence and order. With great presence of mind they begged the scurrying ones to resume their seats, and then, when the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" were heard, turned, faced the stage, and sang it with a fervor, and passion, and volume which played a part in turning a threatened disaster into harmlessness.

Campanini Was Distinctly "There"!

Sig. Campanini, at the first sight of the peril, had stopped his musicians on the score of the opera, signaled Dua and Rimini, who held the stage, to quit singing, and, motioning the men of the band to stand, gave a sotto-voce command to play the national anthem. Not once did he turn his back on the orchestra until verse and chorus had been finished.

Those who, even while singing, could not resist turning to the spot where the flame had been, saw seven or eight men stamping and struggling—stamping to put out the last spurts of the fire where it was running over and licking up the nap of the carpet, and struggling to hold back the excited score or more who had not yet realized that safety lay in taking things calmly.

The fireman assigned to the Auditorium found his way to the stage, explained that there was no danger, and expressed the hope that the audience would sit down and enjoy the show. Campanini was signaling to the stage-managers to resume the action where it had been interrupted. They, in their excitement, were not quick to understand him and the audience again became uneasy.

Galli-Curci Sings Anthem.

Then Campanini motioned for Galli-Curci to come down from the wings to the apron, again told the orchestra to play "The Star Spangled Banner," and, when she joined in and ended on a high B-flat, the panic was a thing of the past, and the crowd, reassured, stood again to cheer her and cheer the director, who then took up "Dinorah" where he had left it five minutes before.

It was distinctly Campanini's moment.

What an Eye Witness Said.

As to what had actually happened, there were at least two hundred versions from that number of spectators within easy sight of the spot. One a woman who had held her poise throughout and taken a lusty part in the singing, gave this one, and the details would seem to have the support of the investigation subsequently made:

That a woman, being shown through the dark to her seat, kicked, in descending the steps, an object which gave back a metallic ring.

That, curious, she poked about with her foot until she dislodged the object from under the seat where the kick had sent it and that a low, dull explosion was heard, followed by a puff which sent clouds of blinding, acrid smoke into the air, followed by a high tongue of flame.

Oblong Box Is Seen.

That, as the smoke thinned out, an oblong box was seen on the step and that, when the firemen and attachés of the theater rushed in to stamp out the fire, one of them picked up this box and ran out into the corridor.

The first rumor was that a box of matches had been ignited through being caught in the hinge of a seat as it was lowered by a patron. But this was a mere guess made by the management in the excitement of the moment.

U. S. MISSION SPEEDING WORK TO WIN VICTORY

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The work of the American mission to the inter-allied conference is proving most satisfactory from both the American and the British standpoint. The conferences of the experts have resulted in an exchange of much fuller information concerning the resources and needs of the allies, both in the military and the economic fields, and the American ability to aid, than has been obtainable heretofore.

Col. House tonight substantially stated the foregoing opinion to the American correspondent. He indicated his belief that the results of the mission's labors will prove invaluable.

The members of the mission were invited to Buckingham palace this afternoon for luncheon with the king and queen.

Among those present at the king's reception were Premier Lloyd George, Arthur J. Balfour, secretary of state for foreign affairs, and the principal members of the royal household.

FOOD HELD UP; SWISS PROTEST

BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 16.—The closing of the Italo-Swiss frontier, which has been in effect since the beginning of the Austro-German offensive against Italy, has held up 300 carloads of food for Switzerland, much of which is perishable, according to the Neue Zuricher Zeitung. The newspaper advocates a new arrangement to permit freight to cross the frontier even when passenger and mail traffic and telegraphic communication have been stopped.

Refuse Citizenship to Austrians and Turks

Austrians, Bulgarians, and Turks who have been knocking at the doors of America for admittance as citizens, when they appear in Federal Judge Carpenter's court, are all getting the same answer these days. It is:

"Case continued until after the war."

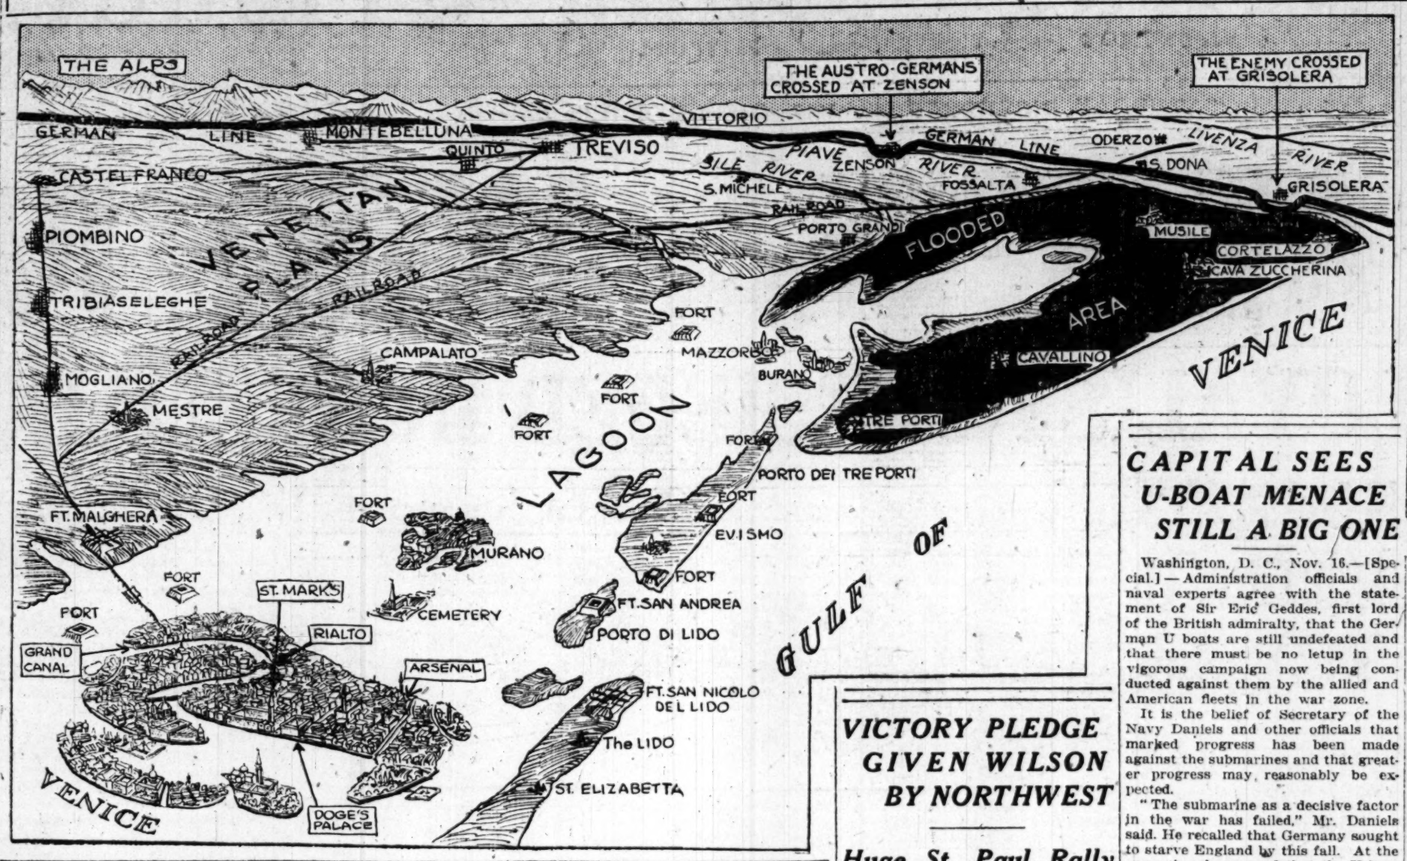

In some of the other courts men of these nationalities have recently been admitted to citizenship, but it is believed a uniform attitude will be taken soon.

'TIGER' WILL RUN ARMY OF FRANCE; PICKS CABINET

Clemenceau Selects Pichon as Foreign Minister.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Georges Clemenceau, called "The Tiger" throughout France, who is forming a cabinet in succession to that headed by Prof. Painleve, expected to present the complete ministry to President Poincare late today. The new ministry thus far is constructed as follows:

Premier and minister of war—Georges Clemenceau.
Minister of foreign affairs—Stephen Pichon.
Minister of justice—Louis Nail.
Minister of the interior—Jules Pams.
Minister of finance—Louis Klotz.
Minister of marine—Georges Leygues.
Minister of commerce—Etienne Clementel.
Minister of public works—Albert Claveille.
Minister of munitions—Louis Loucheur.
Minister of instruction—Louis Lafferre.
Minister of colonies—Henry Simon.

Creates Blockade Ministry.

A new ministry of blockade and invaded regions has been created, to which Charles C. A. Jonnart, minister of foreign affairs in the Briand cabinet, has been appointed.

Senator Jeanneney, chairman of the senatorial committee on army appropriations, has been appointed undersecretary of state to Premier Clemenceau with a seat in the cabinet. Deputy Albert Favre has been appointed undersecretary of the interior, and Deputy Jules Cels undersecretary of the navy, specially charged with questions concerning the submarine warfare.

Establishes New Record.

Deputy Colliard accepted the ministry of labor late today. Deputy Durand refused the post of minister of agriculture, and that department has been attached to the ministry of provisions under Deputy Victor Boret, with M. Villegrain as undersecretary, specially charged with general service connected with corn.

The rapidity of the formation of the ministry establishes a record in French politics. Premier Clemenceau began his task at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and completed it within twenty-four hours.

A committee of Radicals and Radical Socialists, by a vote of 59 to 26, approved of members of the party participating in the ministry. The attitude of the Socialists after the resignation of Premier Painleve, however, prevented Premier Clemenceau from inviting any member of that party to hold office.

Radicals Predominate.

The new cabinet, made up of four or five senators, fifteen deputies, and two who do not belong to parliament, represents a concentration of the republican groups, excluding the Conservatives, Royalists, and Socialists. The radicals predominate with seven portfolios.

The radicals of the left have five, the republicans of the left five, the republican Socialists three, the union of republicans and radical Socialists two, while two do not belong to any group.

Clemenceau's cabinet selections have been received with satisfaction by all the Paris newspapers but those representing the parliamentary left. The new premier, it is understood, will go before the chamber of deputies with a program that will have a real punch.

He is expected to carry the same punch into the interallied conference, which is scheduled to begin next Thursday. The mere fact that Clemenceau speaks fluent English should prove of the greatest assistance in facilitating his talks with Lloyd George and Col. House, neither of whom speaks French.

the German reichstag has requested the president to convoke an immediate session of the reichstag to discuss the peace offer of NIKolai Lenine, leader of the Russian Bolsheviki, the Amsterdam correspondent of the Central News cables.

The Independent Socialists also ask that the reichstag take up consideration of the new state of affairs as regards Courland, Lithuania and Poland.

No word has reached this country of the peace offer by the Bolsheviki to Germany, although telegraphic communication has been interrupted for nearly a week. The program of the Bolsheviki calls for an armistice, but it is understood their purpose is to address their proposals to all the belligerents and not to arrange a separate peace with Germany.

Kerensky Retreats.

PETROGRAD, Wednesday, Nov. 14, —[10:20 a. m.]—Premier Kerensky's forces, which advanced from Gatchina to Tsarskoe Selo, have been defeated by the workmen's and soldiers' forces between Tsarskoe Selo and Pulkova, twelve miles from Petrograd. The Kerensky contingents have retreated to Gatchina.

Bolsheviki Beaten in Kiev.

PETROGRAD, Tuesday, Nov. 13, 11:30 a. m.—Dispatches from Kiev say that the Cossacks and military cadets are in control in that city after considerable street fighting. The Bolsheviki made a stand at the government palace, where later their leaders were arrested.

In Kiev, while a patrol of Cossacks was passing through Kretchka street, the principal thoroughfare, they fired shots in the air to disperse the crowds. A bomb was thrown upon a passing street car, killing or wounding several persons.

Fighting in Petrograd.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 16.—A dispatch to the Politiken from Haperanda reports that according to latest advices barricade fighting is taking place in Petrograd.

Strike Cuts Off News.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 16.—Despite the reestablishment of telegraphic communication with Petrograd, only a few messages have been received, and these were dated Monday or Tuesday.

PETROGRAD BANKS CLOSED.

New York, Nov. 16.—Owing to political conditions in Petrograd state and private banks there have been closed since Nov. 7 and operations in transfers suspended since Nov. 6, according to a cablegram from the Russo-Asiatic bank of Petrograd received here by its New York agents. The agents believed this cablegram was sent forward about Nov. 9 and that through delays it had reached them only yesterday. They had no later advices, they said.

Francis Avoids Rebels.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Dispatches from Ambassador Francis at Petrograd dated Nov. 12 arrived today, but contained nothing not already reported in the news cables.

Ambassador Francis reported he had no written or oral communication with the Bolsheviki government. His message was the first received since Nov. 8, although it stated that he had filed cable reports every day.

Fighting was in progress in the streets, and, he said, the telegraph and telephone offices had changed hands several times. The failure of some of the ambassador's reports to come through may be due to the disturbed conditions. The ambassador had no knowledge of the situation outside of Petrograd.

OUR SYMPATHY

President Sends a Message to King Albert of Belgium Telling of America's Friendship.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—Renewed expressions of sympathy for the Belgians' sufferings and assurances of the determination of the United States to prosecute the war against its oppressors to a successful conclusion were sent to King Albert today by President Wilson in a cablegram congratulating the king upon his birthday. The message follows:

"I take pleasure in extending to your majesty greetings of friendship and good will on this your fête day.

"For the people of the United States, I take this occasion to renew expressions of deep sympathy for the sufferings which Belgium has endured under the willful, cruel, and barbaric force of a disappointed Prussian autocracy.

"The people of the United States were never more in earnest than in their determination to prosecute to a successful conclusion this war against that power and to secure for the future obedience to the laws of nations and respect for the rights of humanity."

It is believed that he fell from a passenger train. Two medals for bravery in the Boer war were found in Powers' clothes. According to papers of the dead man, his wife, Mrs. Cathian Powers, lives at 418 Hein place, Chicago.

VICTORY PLEDGE GIVEN WILSON BY NORTHWEST

Huge St. Paul Rally Backs President to Finish.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 16.—As a demonstration of the loyalty of Minnesota and the whole northwest, 8,000 persons representing every county of this state and the other commonwealths of the territory gathered in the Auditorium here today and affirmed their purpose to stand back of the government in its prosecution of the war against Germany.

The audience, through the passage of a resolution, affirmed its determination to see the war through to victory and pledged its support in "deeds, sacrifices and service," as a message from President Wilson read at the meeting suggested.

Message from Wilson.

The message from the president was as follows:

"Nothing could be more significant than your gathering to express the loyalty of the great northwest. If it were possible I should gladly be with you.

"The time has come when that home must be protected and that faith affirmed in deeds. Sacrifice and service must come from every class, every profession, every party, every race, every creed, every section.

Not a Bankers' War.

This is not a bankers' war, or a farmers' war, or a manufacturers' war, or a laboring man's war—it is a war for every straightout American, whether our flag be his by birth or by adoption. We are today a nation in arms, and we must fight, farm, mine, and manufacture, conserve food and fuel, save and spend to the one common purpose.

"It is to the great northwest that the nation looks as once before in critical days for that steadiness of purpose and firmness of determination which shall see this struggle through to a decision that shall make the masters of Germany rue the day they unmasked their purpose and challenged our republic."

CAPITAL SEES U-BOAT MENACE STILL A BIG ONE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—Administration officials and naval experts agree with the statement of Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the British admiralty, that the German U boats are still undefeated and that there must be no letup in the vigorous campaign now being conducted against them by the allied and American fleets in the war zone.

It is the belief of Secretary of the Navy Daniels and other officials that marked progress has been made against the submarines and that greater progress may, reasonably be expected.

"The submarine as a decisive factor in the war has failed," Mr. Daniels said. He recalled that Germany sought to starve England by this fall. At the same time he warned that the U boat campaign has not collapsed.

WARNING BY GEDDES.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—In reply to a question in the house of commons today Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, said:

"The good return of tonnage sinking by enemy submarines last week and indeed the comparatively favorable result of the last two months ought not to be taken as indicating that the submarine menace is a thing of the past or defeated."

He also reminded his hearers he had said mercantile marine tonnage was not being maintained against the depredations of submarines.

KEEPING THE QUALITY UP.

LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE, the World-Famous Cure for Colds and Grip, is now 30c per box. On account of the advance in the price of the six different Medicinal, Concentrated Extracts and Chemicals contained in LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE, it was necessary to increase the price to the Druggist. It has stood the test for a Quarter of a Century. It is used by every civilized nation.—Adv.

NATION'S WASTE MORE THAN COST OF WAR TO U. S.

President Tells Savings Campaign Body Its Work Is Needed.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—The national war savings committee, of which Frank A. Vanderlip is chairman, and the federal and state directors who will be in charge of the war savings campaign, were received today by President Wilson.

"I suppose not many fortunate by-products can come of a war," President Wilson said, "but if this country can learn something about saving out of the war it will be worth the cost of the war; I mean the literal cost of it, in money and resources. I suppose we have several times over wasted more than we are about now to spend. We have not known that there was any limit to our resources; we are now finding out that there may be if we are not careful.

"One of the most interesting things to me about the recent loans that have been floated is the extraordinarily large number of persons who have invested—almost one-tenth, I believe, of the population of the country. That is an extraordinary circumstance and it may have some very fortunate results.

"But the thing you are undertaking is more intensive and in a sense more important still. It is the matter of small savings, and I want to say that I for one warmly appreciate the number of volunteers of capacity and experience who are coming to our assistance at this time and doing things as interesting and important as this."

President Wilson today sent his check for $100 to the Young Men's Christian association war camp recreation fund. It was received by the local committee, which has about $54,000 of its $150,000 allotment.

PRESIDENT OF BRAZIL SIGNS REPRISAL LAW

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 16.—President Wenceslao Braz has signed the bill providing for reprisals against Germany.

A dispatch from Rio Janeiro Nov. 15 said the reprisals bill against Germany had been adopted by the chamber of deputies after its amendment by the senate. The bill authorized the government to proclaim a state of siege wherever necessary, to prohibit international commerce with Germans, and to intern enemy subjects.

STATE REVEALS HOW HEALEY TRAP WAS SET

Hunt and Fleming's Stories Clinch the Case, Claim.

With the testimony of two of its most important witnesses in the record, the state's attorney's office last night insisted that it had already made a case against former Chief of Police Charles C. Healey and his two codefendants, William R. Skidmore, politician, and Detective Sergeant Stephen J. Barry.

The three men are on trial charged with conspiring to bribe resort and gambling house keepers in return for police protection.

Edward J. Fleming, secretary to State's Attorney Hoyne, and former Police Inspector Nicholas Hunt were the witnesses of the day, which was marked by bitter controversies between attorneys for the state and defense. Court adjourned with Hunt on the stand ready to face the ordeal of cross-examination at the hands of Attorneys John J. Healy, Clarence S. Darrow, and Charles E. Erbstein for the defendants.

Fight to Bar Testimony.

Assistant State's Attorney Johnston, who is conducting the prosecution, started his case with testimony to answer the challenge of the defense, in its opening statement the defense had declared that the case against the men on trial was a "frameup" engineered by Hunt and "Mike de Pike" Heitler, former west side levee boss. The attorneys for the defense fought hard especially to prevent Fleming's testimony from going in at this time.

The two witnesses swore that neither Hunt nor Heitler had anything to do with the inception of the inquiry which resulted in the indictments. Fleming testified that the inquiry started in May, 1916, following a telephone conversation with Philip J. McKenna, a former attorney for the board of local improvements, and that neither Heitler nor Hunt came into the investigation until some six months later.

Tell of Traps Set.

The chief facts to be offered by the prosecution were outlined by the witnesses. They testified to tapping the telephone wires of the former chief and his alleged co-conspirators; to enlisting the aid of Heitler, one of the alleged police protection syndicate; to arranging with him to list the alleged graft money before a "split-up" in the office of Thomas Costello, another member of the "vice ring," and, finally, of the raid in which all of the alleged members of the conspiracy, except the former chief, were caught with the protection money on their persons.

They told details of the confessions which followed later from Costello, Heitler, and Lieut. Martin White and of statements made by Barry and Skidmore.

Fleming was subjected to a severe cross-examination without making any material change in his story told on direct examination. The defense derived some satisfaction from his admission that he knew it was an unlawful act to tap telephone wires.

Charge Jury Influence.

There was a near sensation at the close of the day's proceedings, when Attorney Erbstein informed Judge Sabath that he had been told that Mr. Hoyne, when he visited the courtroom in the afternoon, had smiled and nodded at a juror and that the juror had acknowledged the salutation. The juror, John Hogan, a grocer, had stated he was not acquainted with Mr. Hoyne when examined as to his qualifications. It later developed that Mr. Hoyne nodded at a newspaper reporter when he entered and the juror had smiled at his wife, who was sitting in the courtroom.

State's Attorney Hoyne was brought personally into the case by his secretary, who stated that the prosecutor was present during a conversation with Skidmore. It is expected that the prosecutor will be a witness later.

The state and defense each was favored in two rulings made by Judge Sabath. He held that the state could not introduce evidence tending to show that police lieutenants had paid money for promotions. He ruled with the state to permit the introduction of testimony concerning the transfer of Police Lieutenants Fitzgerald and Schumacher.

HUNT TAKES STAND.

Every neck in the courtroom was craned when the name of Nicholas Hunt was called as a witness. Jurors and counsel straightened in their chairs as the veteran police officer, central figure of a hundred criminal trials, walked slowly to the witness box.

"Do you know Charles C. Healey?" he was asked.

"I've known him since 1889," he answered.

Q.—What place on the police force did he occupy when you first became acquainted with him? A.—He came into the Chicago police force as a lieutenant when the old town of Lake was annexed to the city.

Knew "Mike de Pike."

Q.—Do you know "Mike de Pike" Heitler? A.—Yes. I've known him since about 1910, when I was stationed in command of the Desplaines street station.

Q.—How often did you see him? A.—Quite often.

Q.—Did you see Heitler during the last week of November, 1916? A.—Yes, at the corner of Randolph and Clark streets.

Q.—Did you hold a conversation with him? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you see Fleming? A.—Yes, a few days later.

Q.—Have a conversation with him? A.—Yes.

Q.—Was this conversation on the same subject matter? A.—Yes.

Q.—What did you do later? A.—Made an appointment to have Heitler meet Mr. Fleming.

Q.—Do you know Shelby M. Singleton? A.—Yes.

Q.—Was he present at the Sherman house? A.—Yes.

Q.—Who else was there? A.—Heitler was there and Fleming and Detective Sheehan of the state's attorney's office, I think.

Q.—What did you see? A.—I saw Fleming receiving some money from Heitler. Singleton and Fleming and Heitler counted it. There was $625. I saw them return the money to Heitler and he put it in his pocket.

Q.—Did you see Heitler after that? A.—I saw him and Lieut. White and Skidmore and Thomas Costello the next morning at 7 o'clock in the state's attorney's office.

Q.—Whom did you talk with? A.—I talked with White first.

Saw Them After Arrest.

The witness also said he saw and talked with Costello, Heitler, and Skidmore, but was not allowed to repeat the conversations except that held with Skidmore.

"What was said between you and Skidmore?"

The former inspector looked at Skidmore, who sat just below him, and replied:

"Skidmore asked what had been done with White. I said I had left him in the state's attorney's office making a statement. Costello pricked up his ears and says: 'What's that, Hunt?'"

"Object," shouted Mr. Erbstein and the reference to Costello was ordered stricken from the record.

Costello Goes to "Squawk."

Q.—Tell us what Skidmore said, if anything. A.—He said, "I knew that big stiff would squawk." Costello says, "What did he say?"

Q.—What else? A.—I told them that White had told of the money division and Skidmore then says to Costello to go on and tell about it, and Costello says, "Does that go for the three of us?" and Skidmore says, "Yes," and Costello says, "Did he tell you I gave him $35?" and I said he did, and Costello walks out with me.

Q.—How long have you known Stephen J. Barry? A.—Since I was at Desplaines street, about 1910.

HOW BARRY FIGURED.

Q.—After you resigned from the force did you see Barry? A.—Yes.

Q.—What were your relations? A.—Very friendly—always friendly.

Q.—Did you talk to Barry after the raid on Costello's office? A.—Yes. I went to Barry's house. He was in bed with a wound on the shin.

Q.—What did he say to you that morning? A.—He says, "Well, I see they're raising hell again down on the north side." I said yes, there was some trouble.

Q.—What else was said? A.—He says he sees that White is in a conspiracy with Skidmore and those fellows. And I says, "Steve, White made a statement implicating you. I thought I'd come and tell you that he says you and him was collecting money and dividing it among yourselves."

Told of Cash Division.

Q.—Yes, continue. A.—I said he had a book that gave the amount divided up and that White said he gave you so much and you gave him so much. I told him that White gave him $80 and Barry gave White $78. I said to him that I had seen Mr. Hoyne and that Mr. Hoyne was aware that I had come to see him.

Q.—What else? A.—He knew I was your friend and he said if Steve would come clean—make a full breast—tell where the money was collected and all that, that he'd talk to you. It's up to you, Steve; you're the doctor. If you feel like going, all right. He says, "I know nothing about what White has said." I says, "All right if you don't."

Gave Barry Work.

Q.—Did you see Barry after that? A.—Yes, several times.

Q.—Did he work for you after that? A.—Yes. He came to me and said, "I want work." I says, "I got a job for you," and I turned to my manager and told him to put Barry to work. He was sent to a factory where they are making telephones for the government at 34 West Austin avenue.

FLEMING'S INVESTIGATION.

When Fleming started to testify on direct examination the interrogation was interrupted every few moments by objections from the defense attorneys.

Q.—Did you make an investigation concerning Mr. Healey and the other defendants? A.—Yes, sir.

Got Reports from Men.

Q.—Did you conduct an investigation into vice conditions in the Second ward? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—About Sept. 1, 1916, what did you do? A.—I sent men out and they brought reports in to me.

Q.—What then? A.—I called up Police Capt. W. P. O'Brien about Oct. 1 and talked to him. I reported to Mr. Hoyne the result of the inquiry.

Q.—What next? A.—We got subpoenas duces tecum for the mayor, the chief of police, his deputies and officers in charge of specific districts.

Q.—What date was this? A.—Between Oct. 4 and Oct. 15.

Retained Detective Agencies.

The witness then testified that he had known Nicholas Hunt in a casual way and that he came into the inquiry by being employed by the state's attorney about Nov. 1, 1916. He also told of employing the Soule and Thiele detective agencies to assist in the investigation. He told of meeting Heitler and the tapping of the telephone wires.

Q.—After a conversation with Heitler what did you do? A.—Reported to Mr. Hoyne and then the telephone wires of Skidmore, Heitler, Costello and Chief Healey were tapped.

Q.—You read the daily reports of the men who listened to conversations over these telephones? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Do you recall a meeting attended by Heitler, Shelby Singleton, and others? A.—Yes, it was on Jan. 8, 1917, at the Sherman House.

Money Was Marked.

Q.—Who was there? A.—Capt. Hunt, Singleton, Heitler, and myself in one room and Assistant State's Attorney Dwight McKay and a stenographer in another room.

Q.—What was done? A.—We took some money from Heitler—several hundred dollars—and went to the adjoining room. Singleton took the money and it was listed—the numbers on the bills were read—by McKay, Mr. Owens, and Singleton. Then we took it back to Heitler. Heitler then left the room.

Q.—What did you do then? A.—I got Detective Sheehan and eight or ten officers and directed them to go to 109 Dearborn street.

Entrapment Is Charged.

Q.—When did you see any of these men again? A.—The same afternoon on Jan. 8 in the state's attorney's office.

Q.—Who besides Heitler was there? A.—Costello, Skidmore, and Lieut. White.

Q.—What further? A.—I talked to Lieut. White about 6:30 in the evening. Then I had a conversation with Costello and Skidmore about 7 o'clock.

Q.—What was said at that time?

Mr. Erbstein objected, saying that this was a clear case of entrapment of his client. He was overruled when he sought to stop this line of interrogation.

Q.—What was said? A.—Skidmore says: "What's it all about, Ed?" I said it was protection of resorts and gambling houses. He says, "Not me," and I said yes, he knew all about it, that his telephone wires had been tapped. He said he didn't know anything about it and asked about getting a bond. I told him there was no chance for a bond until we got the others implicated, the collectors and the keepers and inmates. He wanted me to arrange a conference with Mr. Hoyne and I said I would try to.

Erbstein "Ball of Fire."

The witness said there was further conversation concerning a bond for Skidmore that night and the next day, Tuesday, without result. He then told of seeing Skidmore on Tuesday afternoon and telling him that Attorney Erbstein was in court with a habeas corpus writ to obtain Skidmore's release.

Q.—What did he say? A.—He said he wondered who hired Erbstein and says, "Why, that little ball of fire is near the penitentiary himself. I don't want him to get me out."

There was a chorus of objections from the counsel for the defense, but louder than all was the shout of Erbstein:

"Let it go in, let it go in," he said. "It shows what this witness is trying to do to prejudice the case of my clients here."

Admits Tapping Illegal.

Q.—What was then said? A.—I called one of the lawyers in the office and had him prepare a statement to the effect that Skidmore wanted to remain in our custody and reciting that Erbstein had no authority to act for him.

Attorney Healy, on cross examination, drew from Fleming the admission that he knew it was unlawful for the state to tap telephone wires.

"Didn't you know that it is against the law to interfere with the telephone company's property?" the attorney asked.

"Well, Mr. Hoyne ordered me to do it," was the reply.

Q.—The chief law enforcing officer of the county directed you to tap these wires? A.—Yes, sir.

Bar Word "Criminal."

Q.—And you knew that it was a violation of the law and yet you and the state's attorney and the other men concerned joined in a criminal conspiracy to violate the law?

Attorney Johnston interrupted with an objection, especially as to the word criminal. The attorney changed his question and asked if they had not entered into a conspiracy to violate the law. The witness said they did tap the telephone wires.

Q.—You knew that you could be prosecuted and punished criminally for that?

Another objection by Mr. Johnson was sustained.

Denies Healey Prejudice.

Q.—Do you know that a conspiracy to violate that law is punishable by the same penalty as the conspiracy of which these defendants are charged—that is, a fine of $2,000 or five years in the penitentiary? A.—No.

Q.—Weren't you present at the interview given out by the state's attorney recently when he threatened to prosecute men for wire tapping?

The state objected and the witness was not required to answer.

Mr. Healy sought to show that Fleming was prejudiced against the former chief because the name of the witness had been coupled with that of a woman in a police case. Fleming denied that he had any feeling of animosity.

Q.—Didn't you say repeatedly that you would get even? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Didn't you say at some time that he had made charges against you? A.—Yes.

Q.—That didn't disturb you or make you bitter against him? A.—No, sir.

Mr. Erbstein in his cross-examination of Fleming asked him if it wasn't a fact that Fleming had interceded with Capt. William P. O'Brien on behalf of Sol Van Praag, who is said to have operated a crap game at 2222 South Wabash avenue. Fleming denied that he had interceded for Van Praag at any time, and declared he never knew that he operated a crap game.

Mr. Erbstein read a list of alleged disorderly hotels and saloons to the witness, and asked him if he knew they were in operation now and that some of them had been recently raided. Fleming denied knowledge of their unlawful operation.

Mr. Erbstein tried to make Fleming admit that twelve Criminal court indictments were held over the head of Heitler as a threat to make him testify for the state. The witness denied that he knew anything of the cases against the former levee boss.

In response to a question about the reason for the raid on Costello's office, the witness said:

"We were going to let things run along three or four months, but Mayor Thompson announced that he was going to suspend Chief Healey, so we acted more quickly than we had intended, because Mr. Hoyne wanted to catch them in a 'splitup' before the chief left office."

Q.—Didn't you mention that the boss wants to get it on Thompson and we can do it with the "little fellow," meaning the chief? A.—I did not.

The testimony was closed here.

DOING THEIR BIT

In a room on the top floor of the Illinois theater there is one of the busiest groups of Red Crossers in the city. They are the women of the stage, who have been organized by Mrs. Otis Skinner into the Chicago branch of the Stage Women's War Relief, a society started in New York by Rachel Crothers, and now branching out all over the United States. Yesterday fifty or more women met, under the direction of Dr. Anne Burnett of the National Surgical Dressings society, to sew and cut and fold for the Red Cross. Among those who worked yesterday was the "grandmother" of the stage and one of the best beloved women of the profession—Mrs. Thomas Whiffen. Miss Mable McCann, chairman of the entertainment committee, says that the society is planning to entertain 200 jackies at Thanksgiving dinner in the pine room of the Stratford hotel. A benefit performance at a downtown theater is planned for the near future.

RUSSIAN ASKS U. S. JACKIES TO HELP EAT UP TURKEY

Joins with Many to Make Thanksgiving Memorable One.

George Baklanoff, the Russian baritone of the Grand Opera association, yesterday sent a request to THE TRIBUNE that ten jackies be sent to his residence for their Thanksgiving day dinner.

Mr. Baklanoff says he wants to express his gratitude to the fighting men of the United States for their fine spirit in defending the democracy of the world.

"No matter what the Bolsheviki may be doing in Petrograd," he said, "Russia will never desert the allies. Americans will save Europe from the kaiser, just as they will save Russia from self-destruction."

Mr. Baklanoff promises a great dinner with a host of "pretty Russian ladies and maidens" to see that the feast is properly spread and the guests are given a royal welcome. The Russian consul general and his wife are to be among the guests.

Clubs and Hotels Aid.

Leading hotels and prominent downtown clubs swung into line yesterday with preparations for entertaining several hundred of the boys. At some of the clubs dancing will be one of the features of the program.

Chaplain Moore at the naval training station was a happy man as he closed his desk at night. He said that the spirit of Chicago homes was the finest thing he ever had encountered.

"From the rich and the poor and all the way in between," said the chaplain, "the invitations are pouring in. It thrills one to read these heart messages. It all means much for us in the great struggle ahead.

Need Railroad Fare.

"We've got to have a little help, too. Pay day doesn't come out here until Dec. 6, and many of the boys will not have the necessary dollar to pay their railroad fare to Chicago and return. We are hoping that in some way this bridge can be crossed. We will have about 5,000 of the boys ready for the trip, if everything goes all right.

"I know how generous the good people of Chicago have been in all war efforts and we can't thank them enough, but if some one has a few flowers to spare on Thanksgiving day we will take them to the hospital here and give them to the boys who will have to spend Thanksgiving day in bed.

"It is going to be a great day for all of us, I'm certain, and it will be long remembered by every one who has a part in it."

Indications are that the hotels and downtown clubs alone will provide entertainment and turkey dinners for about 600 of the boys.

AMERICANS GET FOES' BALLOON OF PROPAGANDA

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Nov. 15.—A German paper balloon, used to distribute propaganda, came down today in the town occupied by American division headquarters with copies of the Gazette des Ardennes, which is published in French at Charleville, attached.

The leading article attacked President Wilson for his alleged pre-war attitude and for not prohibiting the sale of munitions to Germany's enemies.

BRYANT BARBER, BANKER OF POLO, LEAPS TO DEATH

Wealthy Pioneer of Town Downstate Dies in the River.

Polo, Ill., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—Bryant Barber, president of Barber Bros.' bank here and said to be one of the wealthiest residents of this section, leaped into the Rock river a few miles from here this evening and was drowned.

Mr. Barber was 65 years old. This afternoon he ordered his chauffeur to drive to Dixon. A number of residents there saw his car, but so far as was learned last night he spoke to no one, except Thomas Nettz, a garage owner, from whom he purchased gasoline. Nettz said nothing in Barber's manner seemed out of the ordinary.

The chauffeur said he was told to drive on to Grand Detour and there Mr. Barber ordered him to leave him and return later, as he had often done before. The water seemed to hold a fascination for the banker.

Chauffeur Sees Leap.

The chauffeur returned in less than five minutes. He says he saw Mr. Barber climb the bridge rail near the south end of the structure, wave his arms and leap.

The body was not recovered at a late hour. The river is a fourth of a mile wide at Grand Detour and twenty feet deep at the point where Mr. Barber leaped.

Mr. Barber's bank, a private institution, was the oldest in the county. He lived in one of the handsomest residences in the village and owned a 400 acre farm a few miles out. He was a stock fancier at one time, though of late years his interest in the management of the farm has not been so keen, neighbors say.

Was Unmarried.

He was unmarried and lived with his mother, Mrs. Lucia Barber, who is 93 years old.

His only brother, Henry Barber, formerly his partner in the bank, died fifteen years ago.

Beside his mother, Mr. Barber leaves two nieces, Mrs. Albert H. Barber and Miss Mary Barber of 5429 Woodlawn avenue, Chicago. They are the children of his brother, Henry. Miss Mary and her mother are at present in Washington, D. C.

Bryant Barber formerly owned the Stratford hotel property at Michigan avenue and Jackson boulevard in Chicago and sold it in 1907 to Levy Mayer. The price is said to have been in the neighborhood of $1,400,000. It was said at the time he sold to meet losses on the stock market.

Business Worries.

One theory advanced for the suicide is business worry. Mr. Barber is said to have been greatly worked up over the agitation to do away with private banks.

It has also been reported that differences with a former cashier of the bank, Milton Trimbar, with whom Mr. Barber toured Europe, worried him.

The bank, it is announced, will not reopen until after the funeral.

FARM AND LABOR URGED TO BRING KAISER TO KNEES

Co-operation of Two with Government Means Victory in End.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 16.—A plea from the farm for closer coöperation with other branches of the nation's industries, to the end that victory over autocracy might be sooner achieved, and reports from two great labor organizations in the British empire stating that union labor there still faces the enemy determined and confident of victory, brought enthusiastic cheers from the delegates attending today's session of the thirty-seventh annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The farmers were represented by A. C. Townley, president of the Farmers' Non-Partisan league, and L. V. Strayer, second vice president of the National Farmers' congress. Both urged coöperation of the farmer and laboring man with the government.

Sees Victories for Allies.

"We found," said John Golden, president of the United Textile Workers, "a people who have held fast to their ideals, confident that their sacrifices have not been in vain. Union labor in Great Britain believes that when it is all ended the gates to opportunities to greater liberties, greater lives, and an enduring democracy will be opened throughout the world.

"We were assured from what we heard and saw," he continued, "that no matter what the cost in suffering, the armies and the peoples of the allied countries are going on to a victorious conclusion, a victory that will mean the beginning of the end of militarism the world over."

Boston Strikers Return.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 16.—Strikes which have impeded construction on important government war plants in this vicinity for the last few weeks were called off by the building trades council tonight. The men will return to work tomorrow on all plants affected except the $9,000,000 ship building plant at Squantum.

URGES OUSTING OF LLOYD GEORGE

[Copyright: 1917: By Press Publishing Company (New York World).]

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Lloyd George's speech in Paris has moved the Spectator to a considered opinion of extraordinary frankness:

"The risks run," says this leading Unionist weekly, "by having at the head of affairs a man capable of such levity, such irresponsibility with recklessness, such injustice, are beyond endurance. Unless the house of commons dismisses Lloyd George we shall be in hourly peril of a national shipwreck. All parties must join to put the vessel and her priceless cargo beyond the reach of Lloyd George's frantic egoism."

The speech is described as "an apple of discord thrown down at the moment of crisis when the great things to be avoided were levity and irresponsibility of speech."

WILL PUBLISH LIFE OF GEN. CHAFFEE.

OFFICIAL REPORTS ON ALL WAR FRONTS

PALESTINE FRONT.

BRITISH.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Gen. Allenby reports that during yesterday our troops, after slight resistance, reached the line from Er Ramle and Ludd to some three miles south of Jaffa. In one part of the zone of operation an attack by a Turkish regiment on New Zealand mounted troops was beaten back by a bayonet charge with heavy losses to the enemy.

The total number of prisoners verified since Oct. 31 now exceeds 9,000.

[Er Ramle and Ludd are on the railway between Jaffa, on the Mediterranean coast, and Jerusalem, the junction of which line with the railroad between Beersheba and Damascus was captured a few days ago by the British. Jaffa is fifty-four miles northwest of Jerusalem.]

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN.

ROME, Nov. 16.—On the mountainous front from the Asiago plateau to the Piave river combats have developed and are continuing. Yesterday the enemy kept our positions under intense fire and launched violent attacks. Our troops, supported by artillery, resisted everywhere with great courage and counter attacked with boldness, inflicting losses on the enemy and capturing prisoners. All the positions remained in our possession.

The Regina brigade, Ninth and Tenth regiments, fought with its usual valor at Meletta d'Avanti and on Monte Fior. At Monte Tondarecar, where three successive attacks were repulsed, the Mont Marmolada battalion of Alpines showed bravery. At the defensive line of San Marino, in the Brenta valley, enemy parties were driven back with heavy losses.

At Monte Prassolan a party which had retired from Monte Roncone made a counter attack, having received reinforcements, and repulsed the enemy, who had followed close on its heels during the withdrawal. At Monte Cornelle our troops with stubbornness and admirable elan victoriously resisted the formidable effort of the enemy, lasting from afternoon until midnight.

Enemy troops massed north of Asiago and in the Gallio wood were bombarded by our airplanes.

On the plains intense artillery activity continued across the Piave river.

From Stelvio to the Astico some artillery firing is reported. There were local infantry actions in the Giuvicarie and Ledro valleys.

AVIATION.

Yesterday and last night airplanes and airships repeated their bombardments of enemy troops along the Fluvial lines and the ways of access.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—In pressing forward northeast of Gallio and on both sides of the Brenta valley our troops captured several hill positions from the Italians. Cismon is in our possession.

On the lower Piave the artillery fighting increased in intensity. Near the sea Hungarian honved detachments advancing on the western bank of the Piave captured 1,000 Italians.

SUPPLEMENTARY.

AUSTRIAN.

VIENNA, Nov. 14.—[Delayed.]—Yesterday our troops entered Feltre and Fonzaso. On both sides of the Sugana valley the army of Master of Ordnance Count Scheuchensteul has greatly extended the results we obtained in the last few days. Our divisions captured by storm, after having taken Monte Longara two days previously, several defensive works east of Asiago and an armored work on Monte Hiser. The allied (Teutonic) fighting forces are battling against the Italians and are now on enemy territory from the Adriatic to the Monte Pasubio. On the Ledrosse our thrusting troops drove the enemy out of two advanced posts, during which prisoners and machine guns fell into our hands.

FRENCH FRONT

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—In the Flanders fighting region the artillery duel increased in intensity in the early morning, as it did also on the Aliette and the eastern bank of the Meuse. French detachments, which in the morning fog had penetrated beyond the Aliette into our advanced post line, were repulsed by a counter thrust.

With all the armies the fighting activity was slight throughout the day. In the evening it revived near Dixmude and south of St. Quentin.

AVIATION.

Since Nov. 9 our enemies have lost twenty-four airplanes in aerial encounters and by anti-aircraft fire.

FRENCH.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—In Belgium the Germans attempted to capture one of our points of support north of Veldhoek. The attack was repulsed completely and appreciable losses were inflicted upon the enemy.

The night was calm elsewhere on the front except on the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front), where heavy artillery firing continues.

AVIATION.

German aviators bombarded the region south of Nancy. There were no victims.

NIGHT REPORT.

Active bombardments have taken place on our front in Belgium, in Champagne, in the region of Mont Teton, and also on the right bank of the Meuse.

BELGIAN.

Both artilleries were moderately active on the 15th. We silenced several enemy batteries which were in action against our defensive works and our artillery in the region of Ramscapello and to the south of Dixmude. We shelled the enemy's cantonments at Praetbosch in reply to a bombardment of Adinkerke by enemy airmen.

On the 16th the enemy kept up a violent fire with his artillery in the region of Merckem. The enemy in this region attacked one of our advanced positions and succeeded in breaking into it. Eventually a counter attack repulsed the enemy, who left a dozen prisoners in our hands.

The activity of the enemy artillery continued violent to the south of Dixmude. Until evening our batteries energetically counter shelled the enemy.

BRITISH.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Worcestershire troops made a successful raid last night northeast of Fampoux. A hostile reconnoitering party which endeavored to approach our lines north of Poelcappelle was repulsed.

AVIATION.

Yesterday a bombing raid was attempted by naval aircraft on the Uytkerke (Belgium) airdrome, but owing to high winds our formation did not proceed to its original objective, but dropped a large number of bombs on the airplane sheds near Handzaeme, says an admiralty report.

During offensive patrols two enemy aircraft have been destroyed and two driven down completely out of control. All our machines returned safely.

Our low flying machine engaged several ground targets with machine gun fire. Hostile airplanes dropped a few bombs on our side of the line.

In air fighting five hostile airplanes were downed and one was driven down out of control. Another German machine was shot down by our anti-aircraft guns. Four of our machines failed to return.

NIGHT REPORT.

There has been intense artillery activity during today on both sides of the battle front, particularly in the neighborhood of Passchendaele. Our patrols brought in a few prisoners. On the remainder of the front there is nothing of special interest to report.

MACEDONIAN FRONT

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—West of Lake Ochrida we occupied portions of positions evacuated by the French.

FRENCH.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—In the region of Pogradek strong enemy reconnoitering parties were compelled to fall back before the fire of our artillery. In the regions of Doiran and Monastir we carried out destructive bombardments against enemy batteries. In the region of Prilepe and in the valley of the Vardar French and British aviators bombed some airdromes.

Premier of Greece to Visit U. S. Next Spring

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Premier Venizelos of Greece, who is here conferring with the British government and to have a conference with Col. E. M. House, head of the American mission, regarding the war, announced today his intention of visiting the United States next spring.

German Warns of Peril by British in Palestine

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 16.—An article by Capt. von Salzmann printed in the Berlin Vossische Zeitung directs attention to the great importance of the British successes in Palestine. The writer says the capture of Jerusalem would threaten Germany's entire policy in the orient.

U. S. TO DEMAND ONE SUPREME WAR COUNCIL

Policy Once Defeated by the Position of the British.

on composite needs and present this agreement to this government. The British government instructed its representatives to press upon the United States for credits and other assistance without regard to the request for a statement of the composite needs of the entente cause.

Championed by Northcliffe.

Lord Northcliffe, it is now revealed, stoutly championed the request of the United States. He urged its wisdom and reasonableness upon his government, but was turned down.

At the entente conference in July the representatives of Italy, France, and Russia were agreeable to an understanding that there be a complete concert of the entente powers in the handling of the major phases of the war military strategy, plans, and operations; supplies, tonnage, financial necessities all to be determined on the basis of estimates for six month periods; a complete report on the requirement of the allies as an organized body to be sent to the United States.

This agreement would have been satisfactory to the United States and would have expedited the work of assisting the allies. Still England hung back. For one thing, England objected to surrendering or weakening her individual power to borrow money.

Shows Waste at Present.

An example of the waste of man power and resources produced by the lack of coöperation among the allies under existing conditions was given by one administration official.

"When the French mission visited the United States," he said, "Chairman Denman of the shipping board was informed by it that it was essential that coal be supplied to France and to Italy and that ships must be furnished by the United States to transport coal across the channel from England. Mr. Denman replied that the United States must provide its expeditionary army with coal and that this country did not have the ships to spare for France and Italy.

"The representatives of the French mission answered that the French government would put at the disposal of the United States expeditionary army a mine in France convenient to the American military base which would supply all the coal needed by the American forces. The United States would merely have to send over miners to operate the mine. They stated that it was most inadvisable for the United States to employ most urgently needed tonnage, which would require ten or twelve day voyages, with the attendant submarine dangers, to transport coal for France and Italy when there was a supply in England available for all French and Italian needs.

Fails to See Chance.

"Chairman Denman could not see it that way, although the United States has now allotted vessels for carrying coal across the channel.

"This situation resulted: There was sufficient coal in England, but inadequate transportation to take it across the channel because of the shortage of coal between five and six thousand workmen in the steels mills of Milan could work only three days a week. This resulted in the Italian plants manufacturing shells and guns having to work only three days a week because of a lack of steel. All other war industries of Italy were affected in the same manner."

AGREEMENT WITH TELEGRAPHERS.

Illinois Central telegraphers and the company reached an agreement yesterday by which hours of work were adjusted and increases in wages amounting to $0.75 a month a man were granted.

U. S. LAWMAKERS CLOSE JOURNEY TO BATTLE LINE

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The American congressmen and prominent private citizens who have been making unofficial visits to the American camps on the western battle front returned here today.

Praise American Progress.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Nov. 15.—[Delayed.]—Senators Kenyon of Iowa and Kendrick of Wyoming today saw American battalions practicing an attack behind barrage fire and also witnessed the work of machine guns, trench mortars, hand and rifle grenades, bayonets, and direct artillery firing.

Both senators agreed that the American soldiers were doing splendidly and that their training has progressed more rapidly than seemed possible.

Visit King of Belgium.

BRITISH FRONT IN BELGIUM, Nov. 16.—A party of American congressmen and private citizens yesterday were entertained at tea by King Albert of Belgium. The day was the king's birthday.

The party included Representatives Dill of Washington, chairman; Parker of New Jersey, Taylor of Colorado, Johnson of Washington, Goodwin of Arkansas, Stephens of Nebraska, Timberlake of Colorado, Hicks of New York, and Miller of Washington, together with former Representatives Stout of Montana and Hammond of Nebraska.

CONGRESSMEN TO MEET WITH DEFENSE BOARD

A "get together" meeting, at which it is planned to have all the senators and congressmen from Illinois meet members of the state council of defense, is to take place on Nov. 23. The twenty-seven members of congress from this state have been invited to be present. Senators Sherman and Lewis have accepted invitations to speak.

Business Men Plead for Efficiency in War Departments.

"SHIPS WILL WIN WAR"
—SECRETARY DANIELS

New York, Nov. 16.—Without detracting from the importance the heads of various governmental departments placed upon their particular work in its relation to the prosecution of the war, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, principal speaker tonight at the dinner of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, predicted that ships would win the war.

"When Secretary McAdoo tells you that money will win the war," the secretary said, "you oversubscribe the Liberty loan. When Mr. Hoover asks you to conserve, you have meatless and wheatless days. And Mr. Willard of the transportation board tells you that the railroads will win the war. I am glad that all of these men magnify their work, for it is just this spirit that is necessary to overcome our great problems.

"But I will tell you what will win this war. It is ships which will win this war."

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—The United States chamber of commerce has joined in the demand that the machinery of war preparations in Washington be better organized. Its directors are now in session here. They have had conferences with Secretary of War Baker. They are urging that all buying of materials for war purposes be centralized and put in the hands of a single board or bureau.

They feel that such a board or bureau or ministry should do more than buy all the war supplies required by the government. It should also have the power to fix prices, not only to the government, but to the consuming public on essential products. It should have charge of the distribution of such products, with a view, not only to promote the national defense but also to disturb as little as possible the normal commercial and domestic life of the country.

Only Seek Efficiency.

There is no desire here to indulge in destructive criticism. I have heard only one man in Washington mention the subject of politics. Almost everybody seems to be wholly wrapped up in a desire to make the war activities of the government more efficient.

But the national chamber of commerce is wholly in earnest in its desire to have the present scattered and often competing buying of war materials concentrated under one head. It hopes for results.

The Council of National Defense tried to arrange for a central purchasing commission. It has one now. But the regular cabinet departments also have their own purchasing sections. The purchasing commission of the national council found it had one sort of power in relation to another department.

Gets Four Different Prices.

Not long ago a manufacturer came down to Washington and sold the same commodity to four different purchasing sections at four different prices.

This is not a criticism of President Wilson or any of his cabinet ministers. It is a criticism of a poorly organized system. The scattered purchasing sections are developments of departmental bureaucracy. They would have been just the same in a Republican administration. They will remain the same until they are supplanted by a centralized purchasing board, with full power and authority to execute its orders.

In the same way bureaucratic rules and routines, bylaws and regulations have been and are hampering the work of several of the great war commissions.

Red Tape vs. Business.

Back in the old days when Gen. Goethals and Mr. Denman were fighting over control of the shipping board and the emergency fleet corporation, the trustees of the latter organization passed a set of bylaws which put the balance of power in the hands of the general manager. Gen. Goethals was the general manager. Gen. Goethals passed, and Edward N. Hurley was made president, while Admiral Capps succeeded to the post of general manager.

Admiral Capps inherited the great power given to the general manager by the Goethals bylaws. That left Mr. Hurley, who is a business man of the aggressive and sudden type, without any great power of initiative.

Mr. Hurley has been accustomed in his private business to close deals over the telephone which it would take a man trained in a Washington department three weeks to perfect specifications for.

Give Hurley Free Hand.

Yet Mr. Hurley and Admiral Capps have had no quarrels. They have kept the peace. And now, at last, the board of trustees of the fleet corporation have amended the bylaws so that the president really has the directing power which the president of any great corporation must have if he is to make it successful on a big scale.

His new power has already been delegated to Charles Piez, in charge of ship construction, and to James Heyworth, in special charge of wood shipbuilding. Both these Chicago men, it is reported, were already growing restive under the unaccustomed restraints of Washington routine and red tape. Now they will be able to push shipbuilding on a big scale and with free hands.

It is expected that both Piez and Heyworth will be out in the field a considerable part of the time, giving their personal attention to driving the work in the shipyards.

Ford Offers All He Has.

Henry Ford of Detroit joined the forces of the shipping board as a volunteer today. He will work with Charles Piez and, because of his special organizing ability, will take over the direction of centralization and coöperation in both the new federal shipyards and the 142 shipbuilding concerns with which it is doing business throughout the country.

Mr. Ford has been here several days to find out where he could place himself and his organization in the most useful service to the government. He called on Secretaries Daniels and Baker today and offered either himself, the wealth he has accumulated, or the organization he has built up during the last decade for service in either the army or navy.

The Ford factories are already engaged in aeroplane construction. Mr. Ford had predicted to officials that he will soon turn out a complete Ford aeroplane, made in the Ford plants from engine to wings and fusilage, but at present he is preparing the equipment of his plants for the production of Liberty motor cylinders.

For the shipping board the Ford plants are expected to turn out thousands of engine accessories, such as valves, shafts, and so forth.

"MOTHERS" OF MANNIKINS

These Girls Will Demonstrate Care of Infants—with Dolls as Subjects—at Welfare Pageant.

Miss Dorothy McKay

Miss Hazel Bisbee

Miss Marion Nicol

Pretty girls will play leading rôles in an educational pageant to be staged next Tuesday afternoon and evening at Woodlawn Masonic temple by the Woodlawn Woman's club, assisted by the Woodlawn center of the Infant Welfare society.

It will be known as "germless day," and the work being done for the babies of Chicago's poor will be demonstrated. Mannikin babies—dolls—will be used in the demonstrations. There will be a model welfare station, and the work of bathing, dressing, and feeding will be fully shown. Among the mannikins' "mothers" will be Miss Marion Nicol, Miss Dorothy McKay, and Miss Hazel Bisbee.

Proceeds will go toward the upkeep of the Woodlawn center. Mrs. James K. Lambert and Mrs. Willis R. Hunt will be in charge.

Chicagoan's Bravery Wins Croix de Guerre

Richard D. Stevenson, formerly of 22 East Lake street, has been decorated with the Croix de Guerre gold star for gallantry on the French front. Mr. Stevenson is a driver of an American ambulance. The decoration was awarded for his work on the night of Oct. 2, when he aided the wounded during a bombardment by aeroplanes.

He is a son of the late Robert Stevenson, formerly a wholesale druggist. His brother, Robert Stevenson, Jr., is an assistant to Harry A. Wheeler, in the food administration office.

BUREAU TO HELP U. S. INDUSTRIES AS WAR FACTORS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Closer coördination of the government's war demands with the country's industrial facilities will be sought by the council of national defense in the creation of a bureau of manufacturing resources, the personnel of which will be announced soon.

Plans for the new bureau, made public today, disclose that the council's advisory commission is taking extensive precautions to guard against an economic unsettlement in calling on American business men and the industries they have built up for war service.

The new bureau will be a part of the war industries board, the council's most effective agent in carrying out plans for supplying the army with necessities. Manufacturers who have facilities which they desire to place at the government's disposal, or those asked to turn part of their productive capacity to war work, will deal with the bureau, which will undertake to distribute war contracts so that there will be a minimum of unsettlement in any one section and the contracts filled in the most efficient way.

Establishment of the bureau is expected to eliminate much of hesitation and possible loss in business as war demands call for a curtailment of nonessential industries.

DIES FROM CAR INJURIES.

Henry V. Whalen, 77 years old, of 820 Hyde Park boulevard, a street car motorman, died in the Lakeside hospital last night of injuries he suffered on Nov. 9, when he was caught between street cars at East Fifty-fourth street and Cottage Grove avenue.

Family Treasures

PLATES for formal dinners and special occasions—that are kept apart from everyday use and carefully guarded because of their beauty and exclusiveness.

These are the kind of plates in which we specialize—plates, which are created for us and produced by the leading English potteries, to meet the demands which we know so well.

Plates for various uses are most acceptable gifts.

Those which we are now receiving are especially interesting because they are in most cases the handiwork of veteran decorators who have been recalled to the work to replace the younger men who have gone to the front.

It is not necessary to pay here an extravagant price for plates of artistic merit.

Y. M. C. A. SOLVES SOCIAL PROBLEM AT CAMP GRANT

Will Erect Building Where Officers Can Pass Leisure Time.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Camp Grant, Ill., Nov. 16.—One of the big gaps in the organization of Camp Grant probably will be plugged up by the Y. M. C. A. within the next two weeks.

The association has submitted for Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Barry's consideration a proposal to erect a building exclusively for the use of the 1,400 officers of his command—a place where they may spend their leisure hours writing, reading, playing billiards, listening to music, or just loafing and chatting.

Twelve weeks have passed since a large majority of the officers reported here, and during that time there has not been a place in camp where they could meet socially. Old friends separated by assignments to different regiments have lost track of each other. The thousands of new friendships that should have grown up have not been begun. In fact, few officers have even made any acquaintances outside their own organization.

The officers of each regiment are quartered close to it. That means the officers are scattered through the big cantonment in small buildings, each big enough for the officers of a battalion. This system even splits up the officers of a regiment, and in some organizations a better arrangement has been devised by knocking out partitions and creating a regimental mess in one building and a library and loungning room in another. But this fell far short of filling the gap.

Only Needs Official O. K.

So the "Y" has come in to the rescue with completed plans and specifications for a building that can be put up within ten days of the time that construction is begun. It would be put up near the center of camp, not far from division headquarters, and all that is needed now is official approval.

North Siders Win Honors.

Tabulation of the records of each of the four infantry regiments on its first day on the rifle range showed that the top honors had been carried off by the North Side regiment—the Three Hundred and Forty-fourth, commanded by Col. B. F. Simmons. Its 1,664 men averaged 40.5. The highest possible score—ten shots, a bullseye counting five points—was 50. The Three Hundred and Forty-second regiment was second with an average of 39.2. The Three Hundred and Forty-first averaged 37.5 and the Three Hundred and Forty-third 37.

U. S. CHIEFS ACT ON PLAN TO CURB 450 LUXURIES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—A conference participated in by R. S. Lovett of the priorities board, Fuel Administrator Garfield, and some of his aids, the members of the railroads' war board, and members of the advisory commission of the council of national defense, to discuss the problem of nonessential commodities, was held today.

The railroads say they submitted a list of 450 commodities for which transportation should be refused. At the fuel administration any one who mentions the subject of nonessentials is promptly silenced by the declaration that the problem is too delicate and too troublesome to talk about. The railroads' war board will not make public its list of likely nonessentials because it would cause a furore throughout the country and might do a great injustice.

The creaton of still another government board to have a hand in nonessential elimination was announced by Walter S. Gifford, director of the council of national defense. This includes the formation of a bureau of manufacturing resources as an adjunct to the war industries board.

Fuel Administrator Garfield issued an order today prohibiting coal dealers, from the operator to the retailer, selling coal at prices "subject to revision."

FORT SHERIDAN BOYS TO RAISE MILLION FUND

Fort Sheridan, Ill., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—More than $20,000 in membership fees has been paid into the Fort Sheridan association, organized recently by the student officers for the benefit of themselves and families. This will be used for current expenses. Next Monday a number of the candidates will begin a campaign to raise a sustaining fund of $1,000,000. They expect to get this sum within a week. Next Monday or Tuesday night a meeting for the election of officers will be held.

This afternoon a sham battle was staged by the candidates and 500 bluejackets from the Great Lakes Naval station, the latter taking the trenches by storm. The battle was staged for the benefit of a government moving picture camera man. Hundreds of visitors were on hand to view the affair.

Gen. Vignal, engineers corps, French army, visited camp today and saw the student officers go over the top. He expressed pleasure with their work.

No Draft Age Changes This Winter, Baker Says

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Propaganda in favor of changing the army draft age limits has not changed the opinion of the war department that the ages, 21 to 31 years, should stand for the present at least. Secretary Baker has made it clear that the department has no intention of asking congress to make a change this winter. It was said today that all the men needed now could be obtained under existing legislation.

NATIONAL ARMY HEALTH BETTER THAN MILITIA

Illness Rate of Select Camps Below That of Guardsmen.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—The national army is shown to be healthier than the national guard in a report by the war department today showing health conditions at camps for the week ending Nov. 9.

The noneffective rate—that is, the proportion of sick or injured to the strength of a command—was 38.9 per 1,000 in the national guard and 25.2 per 1,000 in the national army.

Extensive outbreaks of measles, reported to be of mild character, in the southern national guard camps at Greenville, S. C., Macon, Ga., Fort Worth, Tex., and Hattiesburg, Miss., were held responsible for the relatively poor showing of the national guard.

Reports in detail from the camps in which Chicago men generally are in training are as follows:

Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill.—Cases of sickness, 276; rate of sickness per 1,000, 11.9. Number of cases, pneumonia, 6; venereal disease, 21; measles, 6; meningitis, 1; other illness, 242. Deaths, 3 (pneumonia, 2; hemorrhage of the brain, 1).

Camp Logan, Houston, Tex. (Illinois guard camp)—Cases of sickness, 485; rate of sickness per 1,000, 19.1. Number of cases, pneumonia, 1; venereal disease, 66; measles, 1; dysentery, 1; malaria, 10; other illness, 406. Deaths, 1 (injury by firearm).

Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich.—Cases of sickness, 202; rate of sickness per 1,000, 14.1. Number of cases, pneumonia, 4; venereal disease, 15; measles, 1; dysentery, 1; malaria, 10; scarlet fever, 1; other illness, 146. Deaths, none.

WOMAN'S CHARGE OF CAMP VICE HOTLY REFUTED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—The charge of Mrs. Grace Humiston, the New York woman lawyer, who solved the Ruth Cruger murder mystery, that vice is rampant in the vicinity of soldiers' training camps was challenged by Washington officials today.

Raymond B. Fosdick, chairman of the commission on training camp activities, requested Mrs. Humiston to come to Washington and submit proofs in substantiation of her statement that in the vicinity of a single training camp there are 600 girls about to become mothers, and that many girls near Camp Upton had died after mistreatment.

INSPECTION TO SAVE FOOD FROM FARM TO HOME

New Bureau Will Guard Shipper and Buyer Alike.

The new inspection bureau of the United States department of agriculture will see to it that both shippers and purchasers of fruits and vegetables are assured of a square deal, according to Horace C. Gardner, assistant to Harry A. Wheeler. Long standing reports of bad treatment of shippers, on the part of commission men, will either be shut off or the alleged unscrupulous practices will be stopped.

"Either the shipper or the commission men can call for a United States certificate of inspection," said Mr. Gardner yesterday. "The country shippers, if they wish, can give instructions never to sell anything as damaged unless inspection is asked for. This plan will also tend to check the shipment of poor fruit and vegetables."

Food Offices Move.

Mr. Gardner is the first official of the food administration to open his office in the new quarters in the Conway building. It is expected that all the offices will be moved Monday.

The Salvation army offered the facilities of its industrial department to the food administration yesterday for the purpose of salvaging fruit and vegetables. Commissioner Thomas Estill, in charge of the western territorial headquarters, told J. G. Evans, assistant to Harry A. Wheeler, that with the installation of a dehydrator the organization could handle a heavy volume of rejected foodstuffs.

Explains Salvage Plan.

"We have a large warehouse and industrial home for men at 1325 West Congress street," said Commissioner Estill. "We have eighty-five men there who are incapacitated for regular employment. The purposes of the establishment are the salvaging of Chicago's derelict men, clothing, furniture and waste paper.

"For sorting and preparing the fruit and vegetables for market we would use the men now in the institution and hire women from the poorer districts. The selling and distributing of the food would be done through our ten stores. We would endeavor to make this branch of service self-supporting."

Claims Plan for Unity Is Doomed to Be Failure

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 16.—The general staff idea for the allies is "doomed to fail," in the opinion of the Cologne Gazette. It declares there was "no real unity among the allies."

"The plan simply means the degradation of Italy, which is placed under military tutelage," the editorial asserted.

SAYS BLOCKADE FORCES DANISH DEALS WITH FOE

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 15.—[Delayed.]—Minister of the Interior Overode, who is in close touch with the conditions underlying the negotiations with the United States, today outlined Denmark's position, emphasizing the necessity of Denmark to maintain its trade relations with both groups of belligerents in the interests of its commercial neutrality and economic existence.

"I do not believe," he said, "that it is realized in the United States to what degree the cessation of supplies from America threatens Denmark with ruin. We require, to feed the population and for the production of pork and butter, of which the greater part always, even during the war, has gone to England, twice as much grain and fodder stuffs as we ourselves raise. Now all the supplies are brought from the United States. The extraordinary drought of this summer has resulted in a failure of a great part of the harvest, and the farmers, therefore, during the coming year have far less than half the usual amount of fodder stuffs with which to carry on the production of pork.

"Pork is diminishing by leaps and bounds, for swine have to be slaughtered before they have matured.

"The consequences of this will be for a long time increasing exports of horses and of slaughtered cattle, particularly to Germany."

Pope Asks Teuton Rulers to Observe Rules of War

ROME, Thursday, Nov. 15.—Pope Benedict has asked the governments of the control powers to instruct their military authorities operating west of the Isonzo to follow the rules of international law in respecting the lives and property of civilians and in the protection of women and children, the clergy, hospitals, churches, bishops' palaces, and presbyteries. The pontiff also has ordered the papal nuncios at Munich and Vienna, if necessary, to appeal personally and directly to Emperor William and Emperor Charles.

NORWEGIANS BOYCOTT TRADE WITH GERMANS

CHRISTIANIA, Nov. 16.—The Tidens Tegn says the Norwegian Water association has adopted a resolution proclaiming a complete boycott of Germany, German shipping, German trade, and German citizens in Norway.

The chairman of the association said that if German ships were unable to load or unload in Norway the prohibition against exports could be abolished, and that if food should be refused to German subjects they would soon leave the country. Thus the lives of Norwegian sailors would not be exposed to the present dangers.

Similar resolutions have been adopted in other Norwegian towns.

All Altitude Records Broken by Meat Prices

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Prices of meat animals—hogs, cattle, sheep, and chickens—were 62.2 per cent higher on Oct. 15 than a year ago; 37.3 per cent higher than two years ago, and 83.1 per cent higher than the average of the last seven years on that date, the department of agriculture announced today. Prices increased 1.9 per cent from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, compared with an increase of 1.4 per cent in the same period in the last seven years.

There isn't any artful "Camouflage" in the Marden way of selling clothing

Freely translated, the word "Camouflage" means "making things look like what they ain't." There isn't any "camouflage" about this store. We haven't any desire to make it seem like an adventure in real estate. Nor do we attempt to have it appear to be a collection agency. We aren't competitors of Frank Parmelee or Walden Shaw—we don't operate a fleet of delivery automobiles.

We're just a plain, simple, straight-forward clothing store. We do business on a second floor—at a small rent. We sell for cash. We ask our customers to carry home their purchases. Our customers save $5, $10, $15 on their clothes because we aren't obliged to assess them with a $5, $10 or $15 share of unnecessary expense. Our proposition is built upon efficiency.

You can "spot" the super quality of Marden clothes at a glance. You know that such fabrics usually "set you back" $5 to $15 more than our price. You know that such tailoring must be the work of experts. You know that such clothes will put you on the Honor Roll of Good Dressers. Wear Marden clothes—save $5, $10 or $15.

Full Dress or Tuxedo suits needn't be considered luxuries if bought the Marden way—we sell full silk lined ones at $25—they'd cost you $30 to $40 anywhere else.

I. W. W.'S IN JAIL, BUT CAMPAIGN OF ATTACK GOES ON

Circulars Spread Over Nation Appeal Against Indictments.

Though William D. Haywood and more than a hundred of his chief assistants are in various jails, the campaign of agitation of the I. W. W. goes on from the organization's headquarters at 1001 West Madison street. Circulars of the general defense committee, signed by Haywood, are being spread broadcast over the country.

On each piece of literature is the picture of a man, his face against jail bars. He clutches a bar with one hand and points with the other. Beneath is the word "Remember!"

The appeal is for funds and blank subscription sheets are inclosed. A form letter is addressed "To all workers." Following are some quotations:

Wars of Fetters.

"Shall freedom die? . . . You must act on one side or the other. If you hesitate you are too craven to fight; prepare your limbs for shackles, for the fetters that are being forged for you by the industrial kings!

"For years past the wolves of Wall street and commercial clubs have shown labor no quarter. . . . They have raised private armies of gunmen, laughed at law, subverted all government, and spread a network of protected villany from coast to coast.

"Frank Little was murdered in Butte. Hundreds of union men thrown into sickening 'bull pens,' starved, beaten, and shot. The climax is reached by the present indictment at Chicago of 166 officers, members, and sympathizers of the Industrial Workers of the World on charges of conspiracy."

Start Jail Fights.

The final admonition is to send funds to William D. Haywood.

A man released from the county jail yesterday gave an added reason to the decision of the authorities to place the I. W. W. leaders in various nearby jails. He said that the I. W. W. men in the jail, had tried to convert the rest of the prisoners to the I. W. W. faith.

As a result there were a number of fights and much feeling and some blood spilled. He said that the other prisoners resented the I. W. W. attempt to "evangelize" the jail bitterly.

3 MORE DIE IN PERSHING ARMY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Deaths of three American soldiers, two from sickness and one by accident, were reported today by Gen. Pershing. They were:

Private Edwin S. Linton, medical department, base hospital No. 18; died Nov. 14 of scarlet fever. Edwin Linton, father, 400 East Maiden street, Washington, Pa.

Private Claude E. Mieusset, machine gun battalion, died of broncho-pneumonia; Mrs. C. Mieusset, mother, 1082 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, Mass.

Bugler Floyd N. Cramps, engineers, killed by railroad train Oct. 17; Mrs. Anna C. Cramps, mother, 3624 Park avenue south, Minneapolis, Minn.

MEXICANS FIRE ON AMERICANS, WOUNDING ONE

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 16.—The presence of Villa bandits within thirty miles of Juarez seems to be indicated by the attack upon a party of American duck hunters today near Fabens, thirty-two miles east of here. These men were hunting close to the international line when some 200 shots were fired upon them by roughly dressed Mexicans wearing red arm bands.

Jeff L. Glavis, an El Paso fire department captain, was shot through the thighs. He was brought to El Paso and placed in a hospital. It is said he will recover. The hunters insist that both they and their assailants were on American soil when the fusillade began.

At military headquarters it was announced that a motorcycle machine gun company and a company of infantry had been dispatched to Presidio to assist in guarding the interned Mexican federal soldiers.

The Mexican consulate general here was, advised late today of the departure from Ojinaga of Francisco Villa with upward of 1,000 men, leaving Porfirio Ornelas with 400 to 500 men at the captured border port.

39 BURGLARIES CHARGED TO MAN HELD BY POLICE

Frederick Klein, who is being held by the Woodlawn police on suspicion of being connected with thirty-nine south side robberies, refuses to give any information as to his part in any other robberies than the one he was caught committing yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. J. Mullen of 2017 East Seventy-second street.

The police of Woodlawn station say he has a criminal record and that he was given a sentence some time ago in Mansfield, O., for burglary.

A writ of habeas corpus for him was sought and he will appear before Judge McGoorty in the Criminal court in the morning.

Sergt. Patrick Wood of Grand Crossing station caught Klein in an alley in the rear of the home of Mrs. Mullen. In the chase that followed Klein threw off both his overcoat and coat and dropped a number of articles of jewelry. All were recovered.

Military Mass for Jackie in St. Thomas Parish

Francis Leary, who died at the Great Lakes Training station on Thursday, will be buried today. There will be a military mass at St. Thomas parish church at 10 a. m.

U. S. ORDER TURNS SWITCH ON MORE ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Enforcement of the new regulations requiring that the use of electric signs be limited was begun last night by J. E. Williams, fuel administrator for Illinois. It is expected that theaters will be forced to shut off extra lights half an hour after the performances start, but it is likely that these lights will be turned on earlier than others, probably half an hour after sunset, instead of at 7:45 o'clock.

Ornamental lights of all sorts, whether for signs of decorations, will be the first to receive attention. If on the outside of buildings they will have to be shut off prior to 7:45 o'clock and after 11 p. m. This order will apply to all structures, whether they furnish their own current or buy it. Government buildings and city street lights are the only exceptions. Show windows will not be affected if the lights are inside the building.

Troops Denied to Guard Federal Building Here

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—The war department today denied a request of authorities at Chicago that regular troops be provided as a guard for the federal building there.

CHICAGO ASKED TO RAISE 2,000 FOR ENGINEERS

Six thousand skilled artisans for the ordnance department of the army must be enlisted and landed in France by the last of February, said Capts. Fogg and Henderson of the ordnance department last night at the Hotel La Salle, in asking the American Society of Engineers to raise Chicago's quota of 2,000.

The officers of the various engineering societies will meet at the Western Engineers' society rooms at 2 p. m. today to complete plans for enlisting the 2,000. The Reserve Officers' Training Camp association will lend its services to the engineers to push the work.

Building the army cantonments and the work which must follow in the near future of constructing depots, embarkment stations, hospitals and other army enterprises were described by Maj. Peter Junkersfeld. All cantonments, he said, were built on a general horseshoe plan modified to suit local conditions.

War Department Calls Skilled Motor Workmen

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—The motor section, carriage division of the office of the chief of ordnance, will need several thousand skilled men for its work.

AMERICAN AND BRITISH WAR METHODS.

Lord Northcliffe's letter to Lloyd George condemning certain phases of British activity, certain lapses and incertitude, muddling and obstinacy, is undoubtedly excellent as a stimulus to British inertia. It is to be hoped that it will not be a setback to fair American criticism of American efforts.

It might have this unfortunate effect upon American opinion. Northcliffe, a courageous critic of British procedure, has been in the United States and has studied the methods used here in preparation for war. He admires them. We ourselves have a just pride in the directness with which the United States went to the accomplishment of certain objects.

The adoption of conscription without waste of time and effort over the volunteer system is something for which the nation takes credit. It was the most noteworthy illustration of the working of determination and common sense which a nation could give. The government has met many of the big emergencies admirably, with force and decision, and as Americans we enjoy the emotions of pride and gratification when distinguished foreign recognition is given these national efforts.

It is gratifying when a British critic finds the United States alert and forceful where he has found his own government inert and undecided, but praise might get Americans fixed in the opinion that constructive criticism in the United States was not only unneeded but unfair.

A comparison of British and American efforts ought to result distinctly to the advantage of the United States. Americans have watched three years of war with the detachment from its efforts calculated to lead to wise conclusions if there be any intelligence back of the observation.

American students of organization have been in a laboratory of national effort. The fighting nations have provided a clinic and experimental field for them. The United States has watched experiment and has seen what methods led to failure and what methods led to success.

Every blunder has been committed before our eyes. We not only have observed but we have been lectured. Americans undertaking the new work have had experienced advisers from the European nations. Commissions of men familiar with every phase of military and industrial and financial organization have come to the United States, and everything that the enemies of Germany have had to learn from experience has been given the United States by precept.

There could be no excuse for a failure on our part. If three years of pain and suffering from errors cannot reveal these errors to a nation which has studied them and been instructed in them, then experience is a total loss as a teacher.

Therefore the United States must, to preserve its own prestige and to demonstrate its intelligence, do better than the British have done. They started three years ahead of us to learn by the hardest possible means what we can learn by the easiest.

Americans, moreover, are regarded as the most adaptable people on earth, eager to experiment with methods and to adopt the best, willing to discard old processes and old machinery and use new. The British are obstinately fond of methods which had sanction before their time, tenacious in their devotion to habit and thought. They might be expected to move more slowly than Americans, and even to be taught more slowly by experience.

Americans must not regard Northcliffe's reproaches of the British as unmodified praise of all American procedure. Criticism in the United States will be reasonable and fair, but the objects the United States has in view will be obtained with the minimum of effort and sacrifice if the American mind be kept open to suggestion and amenable to criticism.

The government has not succeeded in obtaining the coördination necessary for the efficient prosecution of the war. The effort is in that direction, but the results have not been obtained, and until they are obtained the nation will squander part of its effort. We cannot afford to do this. We cannot afford to think that we are proceeding with the utmost efficiency when we are not.

There is waste and delay, loss of effort, money, and time, and there will be until the government has been organized for central direction and until conflict of departments and bureaus has been eliminated.

OFFICERS' TRAINING.

Secretary Baker has promptly overruled the plan to send a large proportion of the men now in training at the officers' camps back to civil life. All who are fit, and practically all are fit, will be given something to do at once. This is justice and good policy.

We trust Mr. Baker will now personally review the whole subject of training. The proposal to give up the existing established camps is more than dubious. What they represent of organization, material, and prestige should not be thrown away. There has been too much waste in this field already, a good deal of it necessary, some of it not. A camp like Fort Sheridan is a very valuable asset. It has a costly and elaborate plant. The trench system is probably the largest and most perfect in the country. It is a laboratory completed and ready for use. The barracks, which cost a great deal of money, are well designed, new and complete as to heat, drainage, etc. More important still, there is a teaching staff organized, experienced, and efficient. Added to this it now has an honorable name, an alumni proud of its record, and that introduces into the new officers' corps the desirable element of honorable rivalry.

Unless the war comes to a speedy end we shall need many more officers. The idea that they should be given their first training at the cantonments should be very carefully considered before the best of the training camps are given up.

Another important problem is the best employment of the French and British officers assigned to us as instructors. They seem now to be scattered among the camps and cantonments. Lieut. Col. Asan, the leading French instructor, an officer of experience in this line, suggests that this is a waste of material. He points out that a school for instructors ought to be organized, a military normal school, so to speak. Here the foreign officers should be concentrated for the instruction of our officers who may be specially selected to be instructors for the army. Since our supply of foreign instructors it limited, this plan would seem to be worthy of consideration.

We in America do not realize how important is the competent officering of an army. In all our previous wars we have relied largely upon the impromptu officer, although it was the well trained men who always rose to the top. Now we need the very best system of training we can create. We cannot afford to muddle along or accept anything less than the best we can get as soon as we can get it.

RELIEF FOR THE RAILROADS.

Nothing could bring about a collapse of our war activity sooner than a collapse of our transportation facilities. It is a contingency that seems remote and impalpable, but we must not lose sight of the essential fact that to impair the efficiency of the railroads in any degree is to endanger by that much the safety of the republic.

We are confronted by obstacles that may be physically insurmountable and we are confronted by obstacles that could exist only by virtue of ignorance, inertia, and red tape. If the railroads of the country are not now adequately meeting the abnormal demands of this emergency, and there is reason to believe they are not, it is because the railroad management is hedged about with obstacles of the second variety.

The fault does not lie with the management itself. Never perhaps has the operation of the railroads been more efficient. The fault lies in the ignorance, the inertia, and the red tape that prevent the railroads from obtaining adequate revenues to develop their capacity to a point where they can satisfy the needs of the country.

If we may judge by the testimony now being given before the interstate commerce commission the railroads of the country are actually undergoing a kind of progressive or cumulative deterioration. More and more is being exacted of the equipment and less and less is being spent on maintenance. It is a process that obviously cannot continue indefinitely.

The downhill course has been pursued to such an extent that President Rea of the Pennsylvania declares the public must seriously consider lending the railroads money out of the national treasury. That is a counsel of despair of ever getting adequate relief through the usual channels. There are few who argue that relief is not necessary. Senator Newlands, chairman of the congressional joint committee on interstate commerce, recently asserted that the public must abandon its "corrective and punitive habit of mind" and "help the railroads to regain the markets of the world for their loans and securities; markets which are not open to them now, partly because railway securities are not the safest securities they once were and partly because the government is now monopolizing the financial markets."

"There are three ways of furnishing these railways with aid to bring them out of their deplorable state," he continued. "One is more liberal policy on the part of the government and the public that will satisfy the investing public. Another is national aid, furnishing from the public chest money to assist in meeting the public needs. A third way is to increase the rates of the railroads."

Consider a few outstanding statistics presented to the interstate commerce commission with respect to the thirty-eight eastern railroad systems. During the nine months ending Oct. 1 their revenues increased $123,789,000, their expenses increased $168,431,000, and their net income declined $57,291,000, notwithstanding an increase in property investment amounting to $227,000,000. These figures are said to be typical; they tell a story that can hardly be misinterpreted.

TWO POLICE TRIALS.

Within the last few days Chicago has been treated to an odd and, perhaps, significant contrast in the trial of police officials. In the criminal courts former Chief Healey was being tried for corruption and malfeasance in office. At the same time Capt. Max Nootbaar was brought before the civil service commission in the city hall to stand trial for issuing an order designed to reform certain vicious cabarets. The order prohibited the mingling of white girls and Negroes, and the technical charge was that it infringed on the state law. Capt. Nootbaar, it is said, never had a stain on his record, and to bring him to trial on such pretext seems the height of absurdity. Can we wonder that police officials go wrong if the city devotes the machinery of discipline to such cases?

COLD STORAGE FOODS.

The new state law requiring merchants to mark food products that have been in cold storage, it appears, is producing an anomalous situation. Persons who have eaten cold storage products for years without knowing it (though possibly with suspicion) now object to them because they are labeled. The result is that fresh foods, eggs for instance, are rising in price to a phenomenal height, while those from storage are much cheaper than before. Cold storage warehouses perform an important function, a function that is especially important when food is scarce. It is not the part of wisdom or economy to defer to a prejudice that was inoperative when the source of foodstuffs was uncertain.

Editorial of the Day

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING.

[From the New York Sun.]

It is true that in the first seven months of 1917 the eastern railroads gave the country increased service which raised their earnings by $78,500,000, but it cost them $117,600,000 more to do it. They were out of pocket $39,000,000.

Mr. George Dallas Dixon, vice president in charge of traffic of the Pennsylvania railroad, said on Oct. 8 to the Traffic club of the city of Philadelphia:

> Had the voice of the shippers who provide the vast bulk of the country's freight traffic prevailed in the last 15 per cent case [May, 1917], the railroads would have received every cent of additional revenue for which they asked, and that with little delay and less question.

The railways received part of what they asked. They ask for the rest now. It is too late, however, for the full raise requested to do more than make up a part of their losses in the year's net earnings.

"I think the whole situation can be expressed in one brief thought," Mr. Dixon added, "and that is that those who use the railroads must save them. There is only one way—to let those who control our affairs at Washington know that you want good and adequate railroad service and are willing to pay for it."

If we are not willing to pay for it we need not flatter ourselves on getting something for nothing. We shall only pay in a different and much more costly fashion.

ONE book that we are looking forward to is Lord Morley's "Recollections." Having made the gentleman's acquaintance in the letters of other men, we shall happily extend it in his own memoirs.

The Bright Face of Danger.

Sir: We were dropping down the western slope from Monarch Pass. The crest of the divide had just been crossed at an altitude of eleven thousand four hundred feet. From the high and tortuous road we caught glimpses through a screen of pines and aspens of the fertile valley below, when we dared put aside our concern in the precarious positions of the wheels of the car. I had been instructed in my duty in regard to the handling of the emergency brake in the event of anything going wrong. The car was to be turned, as much as the narrow road would permit, into the hillside, even at the hazard of turning it over; for that might be considered preferable to defacing Colorado's scenery for several thousand feet perpendicularly. My mind was occupied with this consideration as we came to an unusually sharp turn in the narrowing road. A warning horn blast apprised us of the car coming up—just at the turn. There was no turnout for half a mile and backing was dangerous business here. Uncle Mac set the brakes, turned a serious face toward me, and asked, "Did I tell you of O. U. Nutt in Cleveland and N. E. News somewhere in Kansas?" "Yes," I replied, "and you probably remember A. P. Nutt in Flagstaff." "I think, though," he said, "Cushin & Davenport, in the furniture business in Loz Ongiaze, have it pretty soft." L. K.

THE LAY OF THE HIPPOLINUS.

Each schoolchild knows how on an ancient day
Bellerophon the dread Chimere did slay,
But how the tale proceeds is seldom told.
Pegasus threw his rider, paused a space
To stamp the Hippocrené into place,
Then, spreading wide his wings of burnished gold,
And nosing westward, flew out toward the seas
To regions of the bright Hesperides,
Where Thetis' hippocampi had been foaled.

. . . . . .

Here the historian pauses to take breath.

. . . . . .

After this visit, so the legend saith,
A strange new creature on those shores was bred.
A nag who could not only soar in ether,
But run on earth, and swim the seas beneath her.
Untamed, unmastered, form the creature fled.

. . . . . .

Long ages passed. Then came the moment solemn
When our Riquarius, climbing up a column,
With literary fodder lured the critter
To pause a hovering moment, and to flitter;
While crafty Pan threw out a poet-lariat,
And hitched the nag fast to a wire-wheeled chariot.

. . . . . .

Observe how high our B. L. T. can ride,
With his contribs all safsly tucked inside
The vehicle, although sometimes 'twill fill
Too full; then some of them fall out until
They land upon austere Parnassus' Hill,
There to gain footing, or else onward roll,
Where some poor wights must seek a lower goal,
Or even reach the yawning, gaping chasm . . .
The worst of all has happened, 'Vangie has 'em!

PROBLEM OF PATRIOTIC CONDUCT.

Sir: We consider ourselves patriotic in La Grange. The suburb subscribed three times its quota of Liberty bonds, averaging $130 per capita to Chicago's $82. The ladies, God bless 'em, are knitting for the Red Cross and have signed all the food pledges; but f. w. is up against a poser. Our washerwoman comes on Wednesday and won't eat corn or rye bread for the three meals she demands. You know, since the war cut off importations from Germany and the manufacture of whiskey, how scarce washerwomen are.

DIPHTHERIA.

THE incubation period of diphtheria is short—one to four days. The disease generally begins with a sore throat. In the typical case a dirty grayish membrane appears on the tonsils and spreads over the surface of the pharynx. The fever is not so high as in some other forms of tonsilitis. On the other hand, the pulse is more rapid than is usual with three or four degrees of fever. The glands of the upper part of the neck enlarge.

Instead of developing in the throat the membrane may form in the nose or in the larynx—in both cases out of the range of vision when the throat is examined in the ordinary way.

Left to itself the disease progresses for about ten days. During this time weakness is profound. The heart beat is rapid and weak. Acute Bright's disease is liable to complicate. The membrane may extend into the larynx, making breathing very difficult.

When antitoxin is administered early enough and in sufficient doses the membrane melts away and the swelling subsides with great rapidity. The diphtheria bacillus remains near the point where it located at the beginning. It may get to neighboring lymph glands or it may spread somewhat into the larynx or into the nose, but it never wanders far. Its poison is absorbed and circulates in the blood. The rapid pulse, the great prostration and the Bright's disease are due to this soluble poison.

Antitoxin neutralizes all of the poison that is free in the blood, in the membranes of the throat or anywhere else. It cannot neutralize the toxins that have already soaked into nerve cells or fibers, kidney cells or heart fibers. Therefore, if antitoxin be given late, while it can and does neutralize all free toxin, it cannot neutralize that which has already gotten in its work on these important structures.

Antitoxin given the first day of the disease saves practically every case. When given for the first time on the second day it saves nearly every case. On the third day it saves most of the cases. On the fourth it fails in a large proportion. On the fifth day or thereafter it does but little good. Unless the person happens to have an idiosyncrasy against serum the use of antitoxin is without serious risk.

Unfortunately not all diphtheria follows the typical course. The sore throat may look like an ordinary sore throat, the membrane may look like that of follicular tonsillitis. There may be diphtheria without any sore throat.

These are the material facts about diphtheria. It follows that a dose of antitoxin should be given whenever a case looks like diphtheria. A culture should be made and sent to a laboratory. The laboratory man should be able to make a diagnosis within eight hours after he gets the culture.

If he finds diphtheria bacilli present a second full dose of antitoxin should be given at once. If the physician at his visit after the laboratory report thinks the case one of diphtheria from the symptoms he should give a second dose of antitoxin even though the laboratory reported that they had found no bacilli. So much for what the physician should do.

The failure to give antitoxin early enough is often the fault of the parent and not the physician. In the diphtheria season whenever a child has fever and sore throat the parent should look in the throat. If there are patches there the physician or the health department should be informed at once.

If there are no patches to be seen the throat should be re-examined three or four times a day. If the child is in school and the illness is not great enough to keep it at home the parent should write a note to the school doctor or the school nurse, asking him or her to examine the child's throat.

NEED PLENTY OF FRESH AIR.

B., C. D. writes: "Eight years ago I was examined; the doctor told me I had evidences of a little lung trouble.

"He gave me a tonic. I seemed better for a while. About two years later I was examined at the state dispensary by two physicians, who said they could not notice tuberculosis. Five years ago I had an attack of pleurisy in left side and have been annoyed with occasional pains in same place, and just now I have pains in chest, left side and shoulder blades, with a slight cough."

REPLY.

There is at least an even chance that you are not tuberculous. An infection eight years ago which is not a well defined case of tuberculosis now has either been well walled off or else very mild. Occasional pains in the chest are more often due to some cause other than tuberculosis. A history of pleurisy should excite suspicion when one has a slight cough. With your history it is advisable to have a thorough physical examination once a year and to sleep in the open air, get plenty of rest, and eat plenty of nutritious food.

USE SALT SOLUTION.

O. J. writes: "I am 26 years of age and for the last six years I have blown half dry scabs of mucus out of each of my nostrils.

"I blow a scale or scab out of each nostril on an average of every two days. Besides this, my nose runs constantly. The mucus is foul smelling. My nose pains me just under the eyes at times, and especially in cold, windy weather. Would Peruna cure it?"

REPLY.

Wash out your nose when necessary with salt solution or a solution made with Seiler's tablets. I do not think Peruna will help you. A short time ago Peruna was a stomach medicine. It is now advertised as a catarrh medicine. I would not care to guess what the next change will be.

PLEA FOR UNIVERSAL SERVICE

BY THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

[Published by Courtesy of the Kansas City Star.]

[Copyright: 1917: By Kansas City Star.]

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—Lieut. Gen. S. B. M. Young, U. S. A., retired, gave long faithful and efficient service to this country from the beginning of the civil war for nearly half a century.

But he never gave greater service than by his steady insistence upon the immediate introduction by law in this country of the system of obligatory universal military training as our permanent policy. This should be done at once, and all the young men from 19 to 21 should be called out as soon as there are means of training them.

They need not fight until they are 21. But they are least needed as economic assets, they are most needed as military assets, and it is cruelty to them not to train them in advance.

The selective draft was far better than nothing. But let us never forget that it represented doing imperfectly after the event that which ought to have been done thoroughly long before the event. We have been at war three-quarters of a year, and the drafted men, admirable material though they are, are only just beginning to be trained and as yet are not even armed and properly clothed.

We are trying to train our soldiers to perform the duties of soldiers after the war has begun, and we can attempt the experiment at all only because the English and French protect us from our enemies while we make it. Hereafter let us train the men to perform the tasks of a soldier before he is called to be a soldier in war. Only thus can we be just both to him and to the country.

The present economic disturbance in the nation was inevitable, in view of our failure at the outset of the great war to introduce the system of universal, obligatory military training, and this failure is also responsible for the fact that our national army, nine months after our entry into the war, has only begun training, instead of being already trained.

Let us now at least provide for the future. The amendment to the law above outlined, as advocated by the National Association for Universal Military Training, of which Gen. Young is president, would add nearly 2,000,000 men to our army, would cause the minimum of interference with our economic life, and would not necessitate any additional expense for training quarters.

The men thus trained will be immensely benefited from the standpoint of their success in civil life, for universal training would be of immense economic benefit to the nation. As Cardinal Gibbons has well said, "The legislation proposed will benefit youths from 19 to 21 years morally as well as physically and help to prepare them for their work in peace as well as for the sterner needs of war."

This is the only democratic system. Gen. Young himself rose from being an enlisted man in the ranks to being the lieutenant general of the army of the United States.

Under universal training let all candidates for West Point and all other candidates for commission be chosen with absolute fairness from among the men who have served a year in the field with the colors, and in the navy let all candidates for Annapolis be chosen from enlisted men of the navy who have served at least a year as such and who are still serving.

FIGHT WARTIME CHILD LABOR

THE National League of Compulsory Education Officials went on record yesterday at its convention at the Hotel Sherman in favor of maintaining throughout the war all the present precautions for the protection of children in spite of special industrial conditions caused by the conflict.

"It is our plain and patriotic duty," the statement read, "to protect the educational, physical, and moral welfare of the youth of this nation by the maintenance of compulsory education and child labor laws and not to permit any suspension, repeal, or amendment that would mean the sacrifice of children under the guise of economic necessity."

Many of the resolutions passed touched upon various phases of the war. They favored the following policies:

A man's pay for a woman doing a man's work during the war.

Reinstatement in their old positions after the war of all men in the army and navy and preference in substitute work during the war for relatives of soldiers and sailors over "alien slackers."

A secretary of health in the president's cabinet; free transportation for crippled children; special centers and care for the blind, epileptic, tubercular, and subnormal.

Civil service and all year work for attendance departments.

Compulsory birth registration.

Extension of parent-teacher associations and all organizations working for coöperation between home and school.

Military training in high schools and encouragement of patriotism among boys and girls.

Indorsements of the Boy Scout and big brother movements, Juvenile courts, and parental schools.

W. L. Bodine, Chicago superintendent of compulsory education, is chairman of the resolutions committee of the league.

The convention will close today after an automobile ride over the boulevards with luncheon at the Chicago Parental school.

Penny lunches were discussed yesterday at a secret meeting of members of the board of education and the superintendent of schools in the office of President Edwin S. Davis. Several members of the "solid six" have visited penny lunches and the school administration committee has scheduled a meeting for Tuesday to make its recommendation. It is expected the question will be brought before the school board on Wednesday. Dr. Frank Bruner, who has charge of penny lunches, favors a 2 cent lunch with an appropriation of $400 a month to care for the children who cannot afford to pay 2 cents.

GARBAGE COLLECTION SYSTEM.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—[To the Friend of the People.]—1. What department has full charge of all garbage and waste matter in cities of over 100,000 population?

2. How often should such matter be removed?

3. If neglected and not emptied oftener than once in ten days or two weeks, to whom should report be made?

4. If still overlooked who should be notified?

5. Is a tenant liable for dumping ashes in an alley?

6. What must the tenant do with garbage and ashes when one or both cans are filled and the proper authorities notified? GEORGE P. LAW.

1. All cities do not handle the matter of waste disposal alike. Some use the contract system and in others the city carries on the necessary work. Generally the board of health or department of public works has charge, but it is not uncommon for cities to elect a waste commission to handle this activity. In Chicago the work is carried on by the bureau of streets, one of the bureaus in the department of public works.

2. Collections should be made frequent enough to keep the district clean of refuse and in a sanitary condition. This depends entirely on the neighborhood and amount of waste coming from it.

3. All complaints for more collections in Chicago should be reported to the superintendent of streets, 408 city hall, in person or by letter.

4. One complaint is sufficient to insure attention from the proper authorities.

5. It is against the law to dump refuse in an alley. All refuse must be placed in cans in accordance with the provisions of the city ordinances.

6. As is only in rare cases that this will occur and it is generally due to a strike or breakdown. The property owner should provide temporary receptacles in case of an overflow. It is always advisable to write directly to the superintendent of streets in case there is difficulty.

P. S. MITCHELL,
Superintendent of Streets.

NORTH SHORE AVENUE LIGHTS.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—[To the Friend of the People.]—North Shore avenue is not adequately lighted. There is not one light in the block west of Clark street.

MRS. J. R. K.

The installation of a 600 candle power lamp in North Shore avenue at the corner of Meadow lane, which is the first street west of Clark street, has been ordered, and, if not in service at the present time, will be in the near future.

Commissioner.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTH STREET PAVING.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Does the city intend to pave One Hundred and Sixth street from Cottage Grove to Corliss avenues? This street is nothing but a mudhole.

AMERICAN LOCK-NUT CO.

The ordinance for paving with asphalt macadam a system of streets including One Hundred and Sixth street from Cottage Grove avenue to Erickson avenue, etc., was sent to the city council on Oct. 1, and subsequent proceedings will be pushed as rapidly as possible so that the streets will be paved in the spring of 1918.

M. J. FARRELL,
President Board of Local Improvements.

LANDLORD CAN SECURE JUDGMENT.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Change of position compels me to move to another part of city. My apartment lease has seven months more to run. I have no property but earn a good salary. Can my wages be garnisheed or my furniture held while moving? A. R. I.

The landlord can get a judgment after the expiration for the unexpired part of the term fixed by the lease. He will have to give you credit for any rent if he relets the premises.

He can on the judgment after execution is returned unsatisfied, bring garnishee proceedings. You have $15 a week exempt if married and the head of a family, provided the exemption is claimed.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

COPYRIGHT LAWS.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Is there any penalty for putting a copyright notice on any printed matter, without filing application for copyright, other than the fact that the copyright will not be protected unless it is duly registered in Washington? In other words, if I publish an article and put a copyright notice on same but do not have the copyright registered, is there any penalty for using the copyright notice? J. K. O'Z.

The copyright act provides no penalty for using the notice where you have not in fact taken the pretended steps.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

EXEMPT IF HEAD OF FAMILY.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Is a man receiving a salary of $1,400 per year obliged to file an income schedule? Will he be subject to the income tax? If so, how much? He is unmarried, but is the sole support of a widowed mother and invalid sister. J. K. I.

He is not subject to the tax, as appears to be the case; he is "head of a family."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

SATISFIED WITH HER 3½%.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It was my privilege and pleasure to purchase a small bond of the first Liberty loan at 3½ per cent. In view of the second loan bearing 4 per cent, I received a notice from my bank advising me where and when I could exchange the 3½ per cent bond for the 4 per cent issue. This is certainly very generous of the government, but many who purchased the first bonds did so on a 3½ per cent basis, and it appears to me that if this interest was satisfactory when the purchase was made, it should be so now, and this additional ½ per cent in the aggregate would amount to a large sum for the government budget in the war department.

I have no intention of exchanging my small bond for one bearing larger interest, and I believe if this matter was brought to the attention of the public many would feel this would be a service a large majority of the people could render Uncle Sam in this day of great need. M. T.

PAYING INTERNED ENEMIES.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I notice a news item regarding the paying of interned German officers corresponding to salaries of similar rank in the American army and navy. Does this also apply to captured officers, or is the procedure limited to interned officers only? For instance, would the captain of a U-boat captured after sinking of a Lusitania or one of our battleships, receive the pay of a United States navy captain? I hope not!

I hate to think of loyal Americans denying themselves necessities, digging deep for the Liberty loan, cheerfully paying the numerous and varied war taxes, mothers and fathers glad in giving sons to the nation, to have even a small part of their donations going into a $4,000 salary of an interned German captain, who, if he could and maybe does, expend the same for German propaganda in this country.

Verily, the kaiser can laugh. A soldier is asked to risk his very life for $30 per and a bloody agent of the kaiser receives as much for his pro-Germanism as an American officer does for his loyalty to this government. JAMES W. BLOCK.

MR. THORNE VS. EXPERIENCE.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I see Clifford Thorne says the railroads are making greater profits than ever before. I would like to have him explain why New York Central is selling around 65 and net income is greatly decreased even though they have done more business than ever before. How long would Mr. Thorne work for $10,000 a year if forced to live in a house that cost him $12,000 a year?

The more publicity the stupidity of the Interstate commerce commission gets the sooner will the people demand a fair rate and fairness to capital. When men like Howard Elliott and Samuel Rea have devoted their life and brain power to the railroad business of this country Mr. Thorne's article against their judgment fades away to insignificance.

PUBLIC.

MAY NEVER SEE HIM AGAIN.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—We hear the cry on all sides, "Do your bit" for your country, and some of us are doing what we can, giving our all. I am a widow with one son under 21. I have for the first time in my life left my home and gone downtown to work, since my boy was needed and that meant the giving up of his salary. His firm promised him to give his mother half of his salary, but after two months they discontinued it.

So mother went to work! Now my boy is in Texas and before he is sent to France he may probably be given a furlough, but it will be of no use, for how can he spend over $70 in car fare?

Let the railroads "do their bit"—let them give our soldiers free transportation anywhere in our country—it is little enough any of us can do for the men who give all they can—their lives. Would the railroads miss it? If so, let them. How many of the boys in Texas may never see their families again after leaving the United States? Only God knows. A MOTHER.

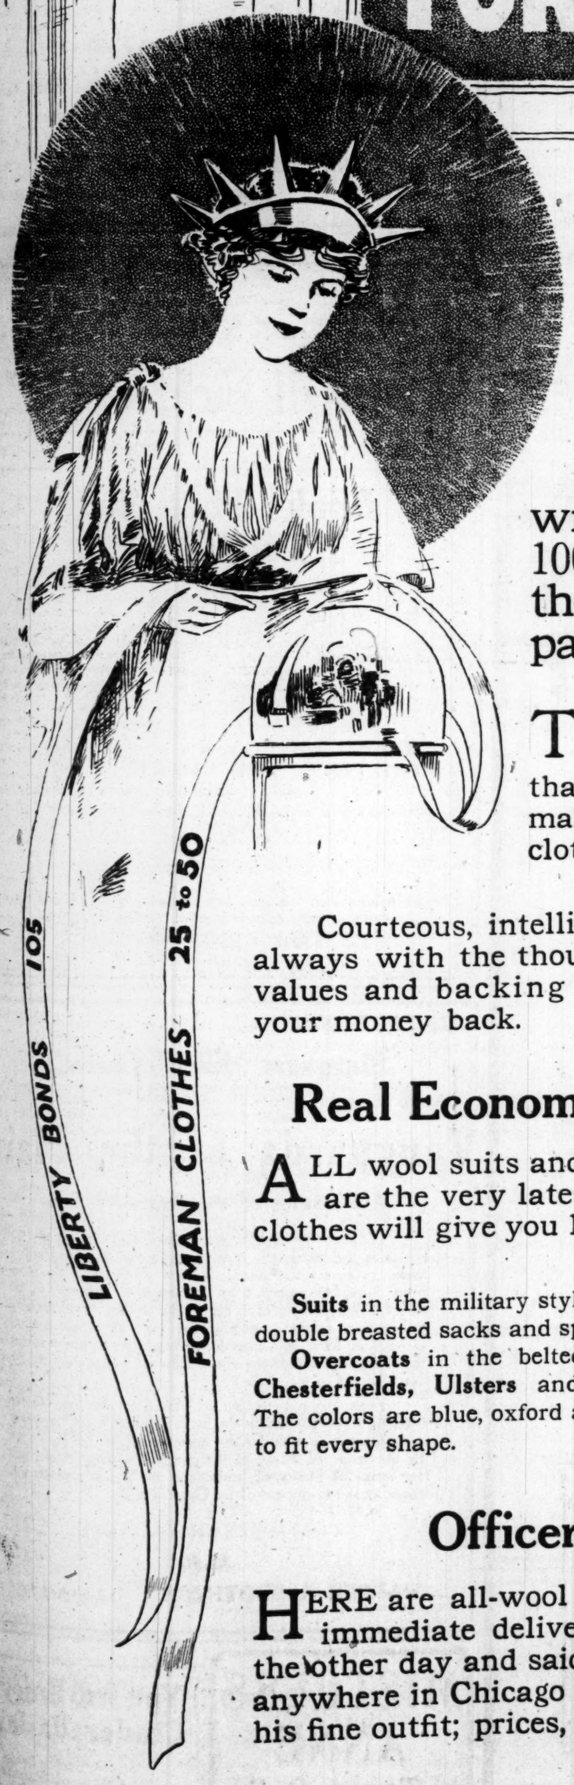

SOLDIERS BUYING BONDS.

Camp Cody, Deming, N. M., Nov. 12.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—Of late I have noticed articles telling how we soldiers have been forced to buy Liberty bonds. I am inclined to look upon this as an insult not only to our patriotism but to our intelligence. A Liberty bond offers to a soldier the best way possible to have a nest egg when he is through. It also is a message to all the world that he is coming and coming strong, and he is willing to pay his own way as far as he can to get into action against the kaiser.

The men of this command averaged a little better than a hundred dollars apiece, and were not threatened or forced to buy. On the contrary, they lined up in single file (and it was some line) to get a chance to subscribe.

NEWEST BOOKS, THEIR MAKERS AND PUBLISHERS

A BOOK ABOUT BOYS WHO LIVE IN A LARGE CITY

ONE would judge from printed evidence that boyhood is a state peculiar to small towns and the country. In large cities, it would seem, this most delightful period in man's life has, for some terrible reason, been omitted.

In the rural and suburban regions we know from Mark Twain, James Whitcomb Riley, Booth Tarkington, Judge Shute, and from the always enjoyable cartoons of Mr. Briggs, boys really grow, not the incorrigible young barbarians that they are, cause their parents untold annoyance, and live with that irresponsible outlook of joy which is all too shortly experienced.

But books about city boys there have been none—I do not count here the Alger books, which are really not about boys at all, but about imaginary beings, overprecocious in acquiring wealth. Now comes Herman Gastrell Seely with a book, "A SON OF THE CITY." [McClurg], confirming the impression that our many Chicago public schools are not for adults. More than that, we learn from the author that boys of Chicago and New York are pretty much the same in their essential characteristics as the boys of the farms.

Herman Gastrell Seely
AUTHOR OF "A SON OF THE CITY"
McCLURG Photo

We find in this book that city boys go fishing, play ball on the vacant lot, add to their education and general resourcefulness by conspiring against father, mother, and teacher, have heart breaking puppy love affairs, imagine themselves in heroic and tragic rôles, send valentines, hang up their stockings on Christmas eve, and in general round out an altogether happy period of innocence and fun.

The book is somewhat stilted in parts, it fails frequently to develop all the humor in a situation, and the dialogue does not always seem boyishly natural, but it is faithful in its representation of a city boy's problems, his escapades, and his home life. There is in it some genuine fun, and to those who spent their boyhood in the city it must be a welcome book, bringing back many delightful memories.

This young man with the soulful eyes is Herman Gastrell Seeley, a local journalist who has stolen time away from his duties long enough to write "A Son of the City." [McClurg], which has been termed a city "Tom Sawyer." How near it comes to being this is told by the merciful reviewer who wrestles with it in an adjoining column.

Liebknecht's Militarism.

A translation of important portions of Karl Liebknecht's "MILITARISM" has been brought out by B. W. Huebsch. The book, which was a revision and an amplification of a lecture, was published in Germany as early as 1906. The next year the government authorities suppressed the book and charged Liebknecht with treason. He was found guilty at a trial, which is remembered by the sensation it caused in Europe and America, and sentenced to a year and a half in a military prison.

The book contains Liebknecht's principal criticisms of militarism and capitalism and it embodies his main urgings of a war for rights of the proletariat upon the capitalists and the bourgeoisie. The great leader of the German Social Democrats who was the only man to vote against the war budget in the reichstag, and whose anti-war utterances have once more caused him to be put in prison, gives here his passionate convictions that modern industrialism is wrong, that it fosters wars, injustice, and cruelty.

There seems, however, no valid reason for the publication of translation of the book at this time. It has no particular reference to this war and its general indictment of industrialism and war can only serve the pacifists, I. W. W.s, and conscientious objectors. Liebknecht's attack upon England, France, the United States, and other industrial countries is only in less degree the attack upon the German military autocracy. The contentions are neither new nor startling. And they are, on the whole, debatable. Manifold as are the evils of society as it is now constituted, urgings toward a radical and an immediate change can only tend toward chaos. In war times they are dangerous, even when they come disguised as indictments of our enemy.

Jumping from Job to Job.

Two young college men unknown to each other meet on a steamer bound for Hawaii. They had each set out to earn their way over the globe. One of them, Alfred C. B. Fletcher, has set down their experiences in "FROM JOB TO JOB AROUND THE WORLD" [Dodd-Mead], and it is quite worth while reading. Unlike some of the globe trotters, they were not stowaways, but earned their way as they went.

After working in various capacities in Honolulu they went to Japan as tourists, got over to China and taught in schools, worked in Manila, went back to China again and traveled through India. They worked their way over to Palestine and came home through the Mediterranean and crossed the ocean from England. They were not always together but "met up" occasionally. Pluck, daring, and industry show in this book what they can accomplish. Many good photographs adorn the pages. While in Jerusalem they evidently met our own Roger Sullivan, who was, so Fletcher says, greatly disappointed with the place. The author says that "sentiment ebbed high against Smith." Which is a reflection on the English of the University of California.

FOUR VOLUMES ABOUT TUNES AND TUNEMEN

BY FREDERICK DONAGHEY.

CARL VAN VECHTEN, once of Chicago, is now in fair alignment with James Huneker and H. L. Mencken in the field in which both have done their most entertaining writing. His new book, "INTERPRETERS AND INTERPRETATIONS" [Alfred A. Knopf], is of better value than last year's "Music and Bad Manners," and reveals the young western as having achieved a style without the loss of raciness or piquancy. The volume is made up of papers and essays written for and published in several periodicals; but the items are held together by a latent ribbon of thought and attitude, and are more than a solicitous compilation of miscellany.

Mary Garden, Geraldine Farrar, Olive Fremstad, Challapine, Guilbert, Nijinsky, and Mariette Marazin [unknown in Chicago and neighborhood, but held to be a remarkable woman of opera by those who heard her as Elektra in New York City] are the subjects of diverting sketches—"appreciations" in the best meaning of that silly word. An informative, meaty division goes to Eric Satie, whom Van Vechten insists is the "founder" of the French impressionistic school of composition. There is an argument, at least, in what the author says of ragtime as art; he emits what for years has been bothering him concerning musical novels, from "The FirstViolin" to "Tante"; and he lets go at the directorate of the Metropolitan for not doing the operas his way. Here he writes with the exuberance of a devoté and the sincerity of an addict, and is most amusing, because least practical, when he is most in earnest.

It is bright, lively, snappy reading, nearly all of it; and no part is dull.

As good a case as may, perhaps, be made out for Alexander Scriabin in print is a book which comes through Dutton from the London concern of Kegon Paul, Trench, Trubner & Co. This "SCRIABIN" is not, save incidentally, a biography: the author, A. Eaglefield Hull, explains that the war choked channels of information as to the composer's personality and his close-up way with life. Dr. Hull is, in the matter, a solemn, assertive barrister, ever seeking to prove that the most heterodox of the Russian musicians was in the true, direct line of succession to the classicists, amplifying but never questioning their dogma, and seeking merely to adapt it to the needs of a world grown greater, better, finer.

The volume has its uses apart from its purpose as a posthumous eulogy of Scriabin—who, of course, will be placed by posterity, and not by Dr. Hull and other apostles in a band by no means contemptible in numbers or enlightenment. There are well done, compact sketches of and articles about most of the big men of Russian music whose works have in recent years been of increasing familiarity in the American music halls. The catalog of Scriabin's compositions, too, is of interest. His last opus-number, it develops, was 74, with ten sonatas and five symphonies in the list. The so-called "mystic chord" is glibly explained as nothing save sheer orthodoxy; and you are invited by a hundred or so musical illustrations from the works to satisfy yourself that the composer never once violated an accepted law of harmony.

If you seek to do so, you will have an adventure among strange, weird sounds—chords that fight the fingers, and, overcome, react like an iron strap riveted taut. Dissonant these are not; but they are cold, harsh, bitter, unlovely.

Henry T. Finck, who for a generation has written about music for the New York Evening Post, adds to his catalog as an author "RICHARD STRAUSS: THE MAN AND HIS WORKS" [Little, Brown & Co.]. This, unlike the book about Scriabin, is not eulogy, and is, in an easy and free way, biography; and it is something more. It is an eloquent plea that Liszt be credited with all the good which is claimed by and for Strauss as the rebel against the formalism of Haydn, Beethoven, and Brahms. Mr. Finck puts not only Wagner but Saint-Saëns, also, ahead of Strauss as a leader in the application of Liszt's theory and practice.

This is a thick, good, well made book about the most picturesque and audacious figure in contemporary music. The author, while eager to make his points against Strauss, has been fair in quoting from the writings of those who see in the composer of "Zarathustra" an eternal and beneficent influence. You will, whatever you think of Strauss, enjoy Mr. Finck's analysis of the nine tone-poems, of the six operas (but one of which has so far been sung in Chicago), and of some of the earlier things. There are incidental references to Theodore Thomas, as Strauss' precursor in the United States, and extracts from letters exchanged by the two. The volume carries a sprightly foreword by Percy Grainger.

Henriette Brower, who is in possession of a definite flair for this kind of book making, puts out a second series of interviews with professional pianists—"PIANO MASTERY" [The Frederick A. Stokes company]. Hofmann, Grainger, Godowsky, and Arthur Shattuck are familiar players who talk about their business. The chapter on Godowsky reveals him in an interesting light as critic and commentator; and this, with Grainger's chapter, gives to the volume its principal value. Grainger's chatter is like his playing—sunny, sane, and persuasive; and he, like Godowsky, is an engaging critic.

Margaret Melville-Liszniewska, who served as Leschetizky's assistant and is well known in Chicago, has a chapter. So has Guiomar Novaes, a handsome young Brazilienne whom the Musicians' Club of Women is bringing to play in Chicago for the first time. Both players have something to say which, if of uncertain interest to nonplayers, can hardly fail to entertain and, maybe, enlighten all who play at all.

The Lost Word.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke's "THE LOST WORD, A CHRISTMAS STORY OF LONG AGO" [Scribner's] reappears—and surely deserves to reappear—as the latest volume of a popular priced series of shorter stories deemed particularly good by the publishing house named and also by a considerable number of readers.

Children's Stories: How to Tell Them.

ONE of the ancient arts which have been revived of late years is that of story telling, but today it is only children who are the listeners. Many women and some men have made themselves adepts at the work, which is carrid on in some cases by municipalities.

Considerable literature for the purpose has grown up. A late book is "CHILDREN'S STORIES AND HOW TO TELL THEM," by J. Berg Esenwein and Marietta Stockard [Home Correspondence school, Springfield, Mass.] About half the book is concerned with the preparation for story telling, hints as to interesting the audience, the adaption of old stories, and the telling of original ones. Fifty stories are then printed, each with notes for the benefit of the performer.

A great many young women have real talent for interesting children in this way and this book should help them to make practical use of it.

Pictures of Ireland.

Clifton Johnson, that itinerant camera artist, has made a series of pictures for Jane Barlow's "IRISH IDYLLS," one of the best collections of Irish sketches ever written. The result is a beautifully enhanced edition of the book, published by Dodd Mead & Co.

The Mexican Problem

By C. W. BARRON

The Author says:

"Independence, individually and nationally, is passing away. The inventions, the mechanism, the arts for man's progress are all here. The way is now open. Human slavery, serfdom, peonage are passing. Democracy is rising. The last great struggle is on and fourteen nations and forty problems are in it. But it is all one,—human freedom that man may know his fellow and that mutual helpfulness may arise, individually, collectively, nationally."

"Independence day must take on a new meaning. National independence is hereafter possible only by interdependence."

Can the Bolsheviki Strangle Free Russia?

No hopeless view of the Bolsheviki uprising in Petrograd is taken by American editorial observers altho it is frankly recognized that the plan for a separate Russo-German peace might help solve Germany's food problem and release many German soldiers from the Eastern front. In the view of an Associated Press correspondent, just returned from Petrograd, however, the uprising gives the Bolsheviki the rope with which to hang themselves, and this view is shared by the well-informed Russkoye Slovo, a Russian daily published in New York.

"The Bolsheviki may occupy all the palaces and strongholds of Petrograd," remarks this Russian journal, "as they did during the insurrection last July; they may impose their will briefly upon the members of the Government and claim control of the capital, but they can not dominate for more than a brief period the indignant, loyal forces of the Russian nation."

For a clear explanation and understanding of the causes leading up to, and the possible outcome of, the overturning of the Kerensky Government you should read THE LITERARY DIGEST for November 17th. By direct quotation from leading journals, American and foreign, the reader is able to obtain a clear knowledge of all the facts in this very critical juncture in the world's war.

Vanguards of the Plains

A Romance of the Santa Fe Trail

The true romance of empire building, the splendor of the faith and patriotism which carried the flag westward—these are among the instant appeals which come straight to every American reader from the pages of this epic of the Great Trail. Living close beside the ancient Trail, realizing the romance of the country of the Trail as no one else has pictured it, Mrs. McCarter has dramatized for the first time the strange history of the great highway which led from the New World to the Old.

From the old frontier of American advance, to the transplanted Old Spain in the far Southwest, passed caravans and pioneers, guarded by the supermen of the plains, harried by the fierce red Arabs of the prairies, fighting for life, and for love, for liberty of trade, and for the flag which was raised at last at the end of the Great Trail.

HOWELLS' GENIAL REMINISCENCES OF HIS YOUTH

WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS.

Did squirrels in the park alone
Its love and winter-kindness own.
When Literary Fledglings try
Their wings, in first attempt to fly,
They flutter down to Franklin square,
Where Howells in his "Easy Chair"
Like good Saint Francis scatters crumbs
All Boys, to each small bird that comes.
And since Bread, cast upon the main,
Must to the giver come again,
I under now, long overtime,
This humble Crumb of grateful rhyme.
From "Confessions of a Caricaturist," by
O. Herford [Scribner's].

BY ELIA W. PEATTIE.

WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS' autobiographical account, "DAYS OF MY YOUTH," arrives propitiously. At a time when the world is filled with raucous voices the wholesome reminiscences of a man who may be looked upon as one of "the company of those who know," is welcome indeed. [Harpers & Brothers, publishers.] A more genial, faithful, gently humorous book one could not desire to own—for even it one must, if one is to lay claim to being a book collector of American memoirs.

Mr. Howells has a good memory—so good that he is under no necessity to pretend to any recollection that is not bona fide. He came of pioneer Quaker stock, and knew the fertile solitudes of the Ohio early settlements; he was reared in the stanch faith of his forebears, and as a youth knew the pleasant poverty, the resistance to circumstances, the hard won education and the deep wistfulness for beauty which has made many another man of letters than himself.

His picture of his mother is exquisite and may be added to the gallery of tender and faithful pictures which great-hearted men have painted—by means of brush or pen—of their mothers. Indeed, his memories are touched with a beautiful ardor. In speaking of his home, he says: "I wish to declare the almost unrivalled fitness of the place to be the home of a boy, with its two branches of the Great Miami river and their freshets in spring and their witchery at all seasons." He loved his school and he loved the art of printing from boyhood; all of his opening opportunities were seized upon with eagerness and a sense of discovery, and he came into his high estate as dean of American letters by processes the most natural and easy in the world. No serious obstacles were encountered, no shattering temptation, no frustration ensued. He offered the world good will and in return reaped a harvest of it amid scenes typically American, and in the company of men and women who believed in the constructive activities.

The book abounds in genial scenes, but there is one in particular which must be mentioned. Howells had been living in Cambridge and making notable acquaintances, so, on his return to Ohio, he and his father being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Garfield, it was natural that he should speak of these new friends who had entered his life.

"I was beginning to speak of the famous poets I knew when Garfield stopped me with, 'Just a minute!' He ran down into the grassy space, first to one fence and then to the other at the sides and waved a wild arm of invitation to the neighbors, who were also sitting on their back porches. 'Come over here!' he shouted. 'He's telling about Holmes, and Longfellow, and Lowell, and Whittier!' and at his bidding dim forms began to mount the fences and follow him up to his veranda. 'Now, go on!' he called to me when we were all seated, and I went on while the whippoorwills whirred and whistled round, and the hours flew toward midnight."

A gracious scene—an American scene! Mr. Howells' book makes satisfactory reading.

Miss Lowell and the New Poetry.

The book of criticism which Amy Lowell has offered with the title "TENDENCIES IN MODERN AMERICAN POETRY" (Macmillan) has aroused not a little discussion. Many of the reviewers are irritated at Miss Lowell. They feel that she takes the erratic versification of some of the new poets far too seriously. Like Miss Monroe, she sees no reason why poetry should be apologized for when painting, sculpture, architecture, and the fine arts of smithing, glass making, ceramics, et cetera, are taken seriously. Such apology as she does make refers rather to the difficulties the poets encounter in relation to their environment than to any lack of vision or power on the poet's part. She says: What he sees is that old shibboleths no longer hold, that an exclusive Anglo-Saxon civilization does not fit our multi-racial population. That our institutions and our social fabric frequently jar upon our sensibilities, that thought in America is in advance of custom, and that personality, being at variance with official life, results in a painful chaffing.

"One might illustrate by supposing a boy to receive the gift of a jacket. At first it is wholly comfortable and easy and a joy to its possessor; he takes pleasure in its neat cut and its delectable warmth. But before long the stuff shows signs of wear, it has ceased to be a sure protection from the cold, his growth has made it somewhat too small. It catches him when he stretches out his arms, it constricts his chest when he tries to button it, he is constantly aware of the continual cramping. Once he has divested himself of it, however, he is free again, and as he goes about his business he gives little or no thought to the castoff garment lying in a corner."

Those who have divested themselves are many, but Miss Lowell, in this book, writes only of Edwin Arlington Robinson, Robert Frost, Edgar Lee Masters, Carl Sandburg, "H. D.," and J. Gould Fletcher.

Mr. Lindsay in Various Keys.

A number of Vachel Lindsay's more recent poems have been put under cover—a Chinese yellow cover, sporting a dragon—and given the title "THE CHINESE NIGHTINGALE." Mr. Lindsay is the complete artist in his independence, his originality, and the joy he has in riding his very elate Pegasus. He finds life exhilarating and contrives to pass on the idea. He loves queer things, adores children, contrasts, games, expectancies, and he has a genius for securing the essence of things. As, for example, in his "Soap Box," that ode to Kerensky and democracy, which is not, however, included in the present volume. He understands Chinamen—apparently—and Negroes, and children when they are at the stage of blithe barbarians. The world would have been a less interesting place if it had not been for Lindsay. May he exploit his amazing and unique personality and put forth his spontaneous interpretations of men and manners for many years! (Macmillan.)

MAJOR IAN HAY CARRIES ON K1 IN NEW TRIUMPHS

WHETHER or not Maj. Ian Hay Beith's new book "ALL IN IT," will get the popular acclaim which his first war volume did, or not, it has many of the same qualities which made "The First Hundred Thousand" a best seller. It is a continuation of the latter and carries on the story of K 1 after the battle of Loos.

We find some of our old Scotch friends still with the regiment and meet some new ones equally interesting. The same human qualities are displayed by the men under the new conditions in the trenches. There is the same rough camaraderie, the same dry humor with a tang like an over dry hickory nut; the same bravery, and the same tragedy.

Maj. Beith before the war was a novelist, but it is doubtful if his imagination could ever conceive such dramatic agony as he has encountered in the struggle, and it is also doubtful if he or other writers who have participated in the war will ever be content to write of the details of commonplace existence again.

The doggedness of the British troops in the face of duty, the superb courage and splendid enthusiasm of their charges, their willingness to "carry on," even in the face of hunger, dirt, and certain death is magnificent. These men, most of them from the humblest ranks of life, who do not drop their peccadillos in the trenches, who even exhibit little meannesses when at rest, go over the top and into the hostile works like knights of old, when the order comes. They grumble and show every sign of discontent with their surroundings, but all this falls away when the guns begin to shoot.

The natural humor of the Scotch, sharpened by the new and trying conditions of life, crops out deliciously in these pages. There is not room here to quote any of these sallies and it would be a pity to print any which might induce a lazy reader to forego getting them at first hand. Sadness there is, too, but the whole is overshadowed by the magnificent heroism of these men. [Houghton-Mifflin Co.]

Among Us Mortals.

The pictures of W. E. Hill, which on a page in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE have delighted all who saw them, are gathered, at least a selection of them, in a book with the same caption, "AMONG US MORTALS" [Houghton-Mifflin Co.] The idea of depicting the foibles of the multitude was not original with Mr. Hill by several generations, but no other artist has done this with such pleasing humor and such gentle satire as he. F. P. Adams introduces the pictures with a humorous preface quite in keeping with Mr. Hill's work.

Novel from a Play.

One of the most successful plays, at least in point of "run," which Chicago has seen, is "TURN TO THE RIGHT," by Winchell Smith and John E. Haggard. This has been put into novel form by Bennet Musson and published by Duffield & Co.

"WE CAN'T HAVE EVERYTHING fulfills the expectations of those who regard the author as the novelist of the day," says the Detroit Free Press. "Rupert Hughes is the prime satirist of modern social life," according to the Washington Star, and the Grand Rapids Press calls him "The high-powered motor car of American fiction writers."

The Philadelphia Inquirer calls WE CAN'T HAVE EVERYTHING "an unusual novel even for this experienced writer—a Gargantuan feast . . . one of the cleverest of recent times. Fighting for Peace

By Henry van Dyke

A vivid view of the origin, conditions and right conclusion of the war, from the standpoint of one who was very close to it and who had intimate personal experiences which illuminate the subject with the light of reality.

Henry van Dyke was Minister to Holland from June, 1913, to February, 1917; he was right at the heart of affairs in a neutral country, with Germany on one border and Belgium on the other. No man had a better chance to see and feel the whole tremendous situation. Since he resigned his diplomatic post Dr. van Dyke has visited under the best circumstances the French and British war fronts, and in England he has been in communication with the leading men.

A Lieutenant in a United States Army Camp writes: "Each chapter has quickened my zeal (already adequate, I had thought!) and made me a better and happier soldier. I thank God that you were permitted to resign your post, that you might write these things."

$300,000 DAY'S ADDITIONS TO Y. M. C. A. FUND

Chicago Hopes to Go Over Top of $3,000,000 Today.

Chicago hopes to go "over the top" today by reaching its quota in the Y. M. C. A. army fund campaign. Although, officially, the campaign does not close until Monday at midnight, the last rally of the team captains will occur this noon at the Hotel La Salle, and every effort is to be made to reach the $3,000,000 mark which is Chicago's share.

The total yesterday was disappointing. When the teams met at noon only $2,472,228 had been subscribed, and the Y. M. C. A. officials refused to make an estimate on the results of the afternoon work, but it is believed that to reach the goal by 12 o'clock it will be necessary to bring in several hundred thousand dollars.

60,000 Persons Give.

Yesterday's total was slightly more than $300,000. About $50,000 was deducted from the total because of duplications. More than 60,000 persons in Chicago have contributed to the fund for army homes for soldiers, and Leonard A. Busby, chairman of the community teams, said that before the campaign closed the goal of 100,000 contributors would be reached.

Day's Largest Gifts.

The largest contribution reported in Chicago for the day was $32,000 from the Illinois Steel company. Among the other large gifts were:

Miss N. F. McCormick	$25,000
Standard Oil Company of Indiana	25,000
Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Crane Jr.	10,000
Lumberman's Association of Chicago	8,287
Standard Forge company	5,000
John Nuveen	5,000
American Steel and Wire company	5,000
Union Stock Yards & Transit Co.	5,000
American Brake Shoe & Foundry Co.	3,000
Griffin Wheel company	2,500

Another good report was received from the South Chicago industrial districts, where 9,695 more subscribers gave $32,612. The railway and express employés gave $16,156, with nearly 10,000 men and women contributing. The trade teams which turned in more than $5,000 yesterday are:

Lake Forest Gives More than $43 Per Capita

With a population of only 4,000, Lake Forest has raised $174,000 in the campaign for Y. M. C. A. funds. The community's quota is $12,000 and that of Lake county $50,000. Mayor Keene H. Addington said last night that he believed $250,000 will be subscribed by tonight. The largest donor to the sum already raised is Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick Sr., who gave $100,000.

Punishment of Two Slayers Is Fixed at Death

Although their sisters swooned and their parents became hysterical, Harry Schwartz and Abraham Kramer displayed no emotion yesterday when they were found guilty of the murder of Adolph Soldinger, a grocer, by a jury in Judge John P. McGoorty's department of the Criminal court. Their punishment was fixed at death. Soldinger was shot in a holdup of his place, the robbers obtaining $8.

Body of Baby Girl Found on Lake Forest Estate

The body of a baby girl, apparently but a few hours old, was found last night in a thicket on the Lake Forest estate of Abram Poole.

William Gordon, a laborer, found a clothes box containing the body. A string was about the baby's neck, but it was impossible to determine without further investigation whether the child had been strangled.

STELK'S ORDER TO CHARITIES NOT JUST, SAYS LIES

Criticism by Judge Stelk Thursday in the Court of Domestic Relations brought forth a reply yesterday from Eugene T. Lies, general superintendent of the United Charities. A volunteer worker for the charities had asked the court to send one Frank Miller to jail for nonsupport. The court refused and ordered the charities to help support the wife.

"Judge Stelk takes an unfortunate position when he declares in open court that he will force the United Charities to do what he desires," said Mr. Lies, "for he must know that he has absolutely no authority over the organization. I have urged him to call a conference of superintendents of various social agencies of the city to work out a plan for dealing with the problems of poor families that come before him, but he has never seen fit to call such a conference.

"In the Miller case the facts are that about four years ago Miller was brought into the Court of Domestic Relations on the charge of nonsupport and was put on probation with orders to pay a regular amount to his family. He made one payment and skipped out. For nearly four years he failed to send any money to his family. Now Judge Stelk releases this nonsupporter, arranges to send him to a railroad camp where he will earn $18 a week, and orders him to pay his family but $7 a week. The United Charities asks what kind of justice that is."

CABARET QUESTION UP AGAIN.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

With three unbeaten western conference teams going into action, and with Michigan playing Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in one of the most important intersectional games of the year, football fans will have plenty to talk about after today's contests.

Although the football season does not end until Thanksgiving day, today's games are close to championship struggles. The losers either will be eliminated from the conference race or else will be pushed further down in the final rating.

Chicago, represented by a mediocre squad, one which has done better than even the most ardent Maroon rooter expected, will meet the heavy Minnesota team at Minneapolis. Stagg's Midway eleven must win to retain a clean slate prior to meeting Wisconsin on Stagg field one week from today.

Stagg's Changes Help Team.

That Stagg has utilized his material to the best of advantage goes without saying. Since the beginning of the season he has been continually shifting his men in the hope of ascertaining which players are best suited for the various positions. That he has been successful in his experiments is shown by the fact he has taken Higgins out of the line and placed him at full back, a position in which he has been able to be the principal ground gainer on the team.

In many other ways Stagg has developed his men. Some of them cannot be termed star performers, but they are reliable. The "Old Man," instead of building plays around individuals, has been working for team play, his ambition being to develop a concentrated attack at critical stages. In this he not only has been successful offensively, but he has built up a defense which is hard to penetrate, as was shown in the Illinois game.

Open Play for Chicago.

In meeting Minnesota, Stagg will rely for the most part on open play. The Gophers are a heavy, ponderous team, and it is unlikely that Higgins will be able to penetrate the Minnesota line for consistent gains. The Maroon full back will be a marked man from the start of the game, but as he is a big, strong player and can stand a lot of punishment, he is sure to be an important factor offensively and defensively.

It will be remembered that last year Minnesota found itself — athletically speaking—at the close of the season. Since its defeat at the hands of Wisconsin, Coach Williams has had two weeks in which to rectify the faults shown in the Badger game, and he is sure to send a well groomed team on the field today. It should be an evenly fought battle, with neither eleven having a decided advantage.

Illini Battle Buckeyes.

Having only an outside chance, but determined to fight from the first toot of the whistle until the final shrill is sounded, Illinois will meet the champion Ohio State eleven at 11 in a game which the Buckeyes must win to retain the title won last year. Illinois will enter the fray as the under dog, but Coach Zuppke has instilled enough fighting spirit into his men to make them a worthy opponent, especially if they get the breaks.

Illinois is not as evenly balanced a team as Ohio State. Zuppke will take every chance known to football. He realizes he has nothing to lose and everything to win, and for this reason will take chances with forward passes and open play. Zuppke is one of those tutors who believes his team might just as well be beaten 40 to 0 as 3 or 7 to 6.

Michigan-Penn Game Feature.

In the east interest will center around the Michigan-Penn battle. After their decisive victory over Cornell last Saturday, the Wolverines are confident of winning from the Quakers, thereby enabling them to return home to meet Northwestern with a clean record for the year. This should be a hard and evenly fought contest, because of the bitter rivalry between the two institutions. Penn would rather beat Michigan than any other team on its schedule, and the same may be said of Michigan.

BY ALBON HOLDEN.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—Chicago and Minnesota will meet tomorrow in their annual battle before a homecoming crowd of 17,000 spectators. Practically every seat at Northrop field has been sold. Alumni from all parts of the state are gathered tonight, taxing hotel accommodations to the limit.

For the first time in several seasons Chicago will face the Gophers an even choice in the betting, and Minnesota fans who gave 2 to 1 against Wisconsin two weeks ago are holding pretty tightly to their cash. The home team is in far better shape than the Maroons. Not a Gopher was injured in the Badger battle, and Dr. Williams has twenty good men to send on the field against Stagg's first string bunch of an even dozen. Injuries may put Chicago out of the running early in the fray, while the Gopher second team is wild to prove it is as good as the regular eleven.

Much Depends on Mellin.

The burning question in the Chicago camp seems to be whether Mellin can stand up under the onslaught of the Minnesota shift. If he fails only Kahn remains, and because Louie acts the dual rôle of substitute for line and back field he will not be used early in the contest.

Gale Moulton was too sick to hobnob with the rest of the team after dinner, but he may recover in time to get into the game. Gorgas and MacDonald will play encased in tape to ease the pain of boils. It is certain Fat Reber will start at center, with Gorgas shifted to guard. Stewart Cochrane will watch the game with one eye and come back Monday for an operation on his cheek bone.

Gopher Lineup Uncertain.

Dr. Williams would not announce his lineup. His son, Henry Jr., will start at center. Eklund, All Western guard, has been moved out to tackle as a mate for Capt. George Hauser in the back field. Williams has been experimenting for two weeks with his army of half backs. The best guess seems to favor Arnston at quarter, King at full, and Carroll and Lampi for the halves. Allendoerffer, Bergman, and Holmgren are almost certain to see service before the affair is over.

The Maroons are camped at the Minneapolis Athletic club. Coach Stagg ordered a two hour signal drill at the Interlachen Country club, while the Gophers wound up their drill on Northrop field. It was too warm for overcoats, and it looks like ideal football weather for the big scrap.

Minnesota Fans Confident.

Minnesota loses one game each year and then winds up with a rush, say the local fans. "We played poor football against Wisconsin, but nothing can stop us now," is the cry.

Only Hauser, Eklund, Flinn, and Kingsley of last year's great Gopher team will be in the game against the four Chicago veterans. The two teams ate together in a love feast tonight.

U. HIGH ATHLETE DIES SUDDENLY

University High school students yesterday mourned the death of John [Jack] Fitzgerald, half back on the football team, captain of the track team, president of the student council, and one of the most prominent boys in the Midway prep school. Fitzgerald died yesterday morning in Mercy hospital, suffering from a streptococcus infection of the heart. The disease, which is a rare one, seized the young athlete the Thursday following University High's football game against Evanston High. According to Dr. Monilaw of the U. High faculty, it was neither started nor influenced in any way by the boy's participation in athletics.

Fitzgerald's father died three weeks ago, and the mother, Mrs. J. J. Fitzgerald of 4623 Greenwood avenue, had sent an older brother off to war only last week. The funeral will be held Monday from St. James' Roman Catholic church.

Owing to the death of the U. High player, that school yesterday canceled its Suburban league games scheduled today against Oak Park. The University High heavyweights were to have played the heavies of Oak Park at Oak Park, and the soccer team from the south side school was scheduled for another contest.

OAK PARK PLAYS SENN IN SERIES FOR TITLE

Prep Games Today

CHICAGO LEAGUE.
Division No. 1—HEAVYWEIGHTS—Morgan Park at Austin [Garden City park], 2 o'clock.
LIGHTWEIGHTS—Marshall at Lake View [De Paul field], 2:30 o'clock; Bowen at Schurz, 2 o'clock.
Division No. 2—HEAVYWEIGHTS—Wendell Phillips at Harrison Tech., 2:30 o'clock; Crane at Lane [De Paul field], 9 o'clock; Englewood at Hyde Park [Stagg field second grid.], 2:30 o'clock.
LIGHTWEIGHTS—Senn vs. Harrison, 1:30 o'clock; Crane at Lane [De Paul field], 9 o'clock; Parker at Hyde Park [Stagg field], 1 o'clock.
SUBURBAN LEAGUE.
HEAVYWEIGHTS—Evanston vs. New Trier at Kenilworth, 2:30 o'clock.
INTERLEAGUE GAMES.
Senn at Oak Park, 10:30 o'clock.
ACADEMY GAMES.
St. Ignatius at Loyola, 2:30 o'clock; Morgan Park at Culver Military academy.

The first of the football games in the elimination series to determine a real Chicago high school champion will be staged this morning at Oak Park, when Senn High heavyweights, unbeaten title winners in division No. 1 of the Chicago league, tackle Oak Park's suburban champs. Oak Park was scheduled in its final league game against University High today, but the death of Player Fitzgerald of the latter school brought the cancellation of the game, and the Oak Park and Senn managers hastily arranged today's battle to clear the championship situation.

Oak Park and Hyde Park, prospective No. 2 division Chicago league champion, have made all but final arrangements to clash on Nov. 24, and Hyde Park is expected to ratify all those plans if it wins its final league game against Englewood High at Stagg field today.

Neither Oak Park nor Senn will have full strength, but neither will be at all thrown out of stride by the absence of stars. Oak Park has Full Back Timme on the side lines, while Senn has been without both half backs who began the season as regulars, Van Kirk and Smith. Each is well fortified with stars, but Oak Park has proved unstoppable by high school rivals this season, while Sen has dropped three games outside the league, and, accordingly, ranks as the under dog.

Harrison and Senn, both unbeaten but held to ties, will fight to keep their records stainless in the lightweight section of division No. 2 in the City league. A third unbeaten record is also at stake in this division when Parker lights play Hyde Park. If Senn and Parker win, an additional game may be arranged to develop a champion, as these teams already have played a tie.

Academy games bearing on the prospective middle west prep school championship are booked. St. Ignatius will play at Loyola. Both schools have 8, is the final.

OHIO STATE RULES 10-7 FAVORITE FOR CLASH WITH ILLINI

Columbus, O., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—When the referee's whistle blows at 2 o'clock tomorrow on Ohio field to start the Ohio State homecoming football game, the Ohio State title contenders and the fighting Illinois contenders will present their strongest lineups, each determined to fight to the last ditch.

Coach Zuppke and his Illini, making up a party of thirty-two, arrived in Columbus this morning and went immediately to their hotel. A grim fighting determination existed among the players. Coached to stop Harley and the Ohio State forward passing attack, the Illini feel they have an even chance with the champions, especially as the players are all in first class condition.

Buckeyes 10 to 7 Choice.

About 100 Illinois rooters are expected on the early morning train tomorrow to cheer for their team. Ohio State bettors are offering large sums of money, and every cent of Illinois money will easily be covered, odds mostly being 10 to 7.

Coach Wilce called a halt for his men shortly after their appearance on the field today and sent them in to rest up for the game. A snappy signal practice wound up the week's work of preparation. A finished football machine will defend the title for Ohio State.

Nine regular varsity men, Capt. Courtney, with the entire line, and Yereges and Boesel of the back field, will play their last game against a Big Ten foe, which will be an additional incentive to the fighting spirit of the team.

Open Game Seems Assured.

The efforts of the Buckeyes in the last week have been directed almost entirely toward the forward pass. The game promises to be one of the greatest exhibitions of open field playing seen in the west in years.

The two teams compare favorably. Illinois has seven men playing who have seen Big Ten service before. They boast one of the best quarter backs and full backs in the conference —namely: Nichols and Charpier. They will outweigh the Buckeyes twelve pounds to the man, but the speed of the Ohio team will more than make up for that.

The line for Illinois has the advantage by six pounds and the back field twenty-one pounds to the man. Ohio's team is made up of one all-American player supported by ten men, nine of them veterans and many of whom made all-western teams last year. Being present champions, the Buckeyes are favored to win, although neither team has had its goal crossed this year.

Crowd of 15,000 Expected.

Every seat has been sold and a crowd of 15,000 is expected to see the annual homecoming game. The athletic edition of the Ohio State Lantern, sandwiches, and Ohio State arm bands will be sold, with proceeds of all sales to go to the Y. M. C. A. fund.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—The stage is all set for the titanic battle between Penn and Michigan tomorrow afternoon on Franklin field. Coach Yost and his charges arrived at Wayne this morning. This afternoon Yost put his husky Wolverines through a light practice drill.

Tomorrow morning Yost will take his squad for a short limbering up run, after which they will be driven direct to Franklin field. Yost reports his men in excellent physical condition. He says he does not underestimate Penn's strength, but feels sure of victory.

On the other hand, Coach Folwell has high hopes of redeeming Penn by trimming the Wolverines. Folwell gave the eleven a day's rest with only slight exercise.

"Cliff" Sparks, Michigan's star half back and punter, will not start the game. Coach Yost announced that Cohn would take Sparks' place. The rest of the players are in fine condition.

The Northwestern and Iowa university football nines will cross bats on the local playground this P. M.

S. P. Gross of Riverside dropped in to play bridge the other night and went southwest with $1.90.

H. Nakutin of Russia is camouflaging our 1915 overcoat to resemble new.

Somebody left the door unlocked Tuesday evening and two collectors for the Y. M. C. A. got in.

The Misses Marguerite Clark and Mary Pickford played to full houses over on Chicago avenue this week.

J. P. and B. Lardner will be guests of honor at an adenoid and tonsil party on Chicago avenue this A. M.

Louis Eibel of South Bend is expected to drop up next week-end for the football match between the Michigan and Northwestern nines. Mr. Elbel is an alma mater of Michigan and the composer of that university's famous "Victors" march. The piano will be tuned Monday or Tuesday.

The boss' family left their abode in North Evanston Wednesday night to hibernate in the Flagler state. During their absence Friend Harvey will renew acquaintances in the Loop.

J. A. Lardner's hair is being trained a la pompadour, but so far has proved an inept pupil. The hair's owner is embarking upon the unpleasant era of toothless days, having already parted with two junior incisors.

Betting is brisk on the Northwestern-Michigan football match. The odds favor the Heliotrope, 3 to 1, but many wise fans are wagering even money that the Lemon and Azure will not be beaten by more than eight touchdowns.

Miss Patricia Crusinberry called on the Lardner boys Tuesday and attempted to destroy some of their favorite records. The grown-ups would have given her a card of thanks had she succeeded in demolishing "The Pineville School Board," which a hostile cat must have dragged in.

"I know who the Americe are fighting against," said J. A. Lardner on his return from kindergarten Monday. "It's the Germans and the Turks and the Christians."

Deerfield Beats Proviso in Last League Game, 26-7

Showing consistent scoring power in every period, Deerfield High ended its schedule in the Suburban league by beating Proviso heavies at Highland Park, 26 to 7. Proviso scored first when Full Back Knox, the visitors' star, got through on a trick play in the first period. After that Deerfield had a defense for Proviso's fooliers.

PURPLE GRID SQUAD EXPECTS HAWKEYES TO MAKE GOOD FIGHT

BY EVAN STONE.

Iowa's football team arrived at Evanston late yesterday afternoon and everything is in readiness for the Hawkeye-Purple contest at Northwestern field this afternoon. Northwestern is favorite, but it should have no walkaway with the Iowans. Coach Jones' eleven usually plays above its natural stride when the Purple team is the opponent, and with the Hawkeyes having everything to gain and nothing to lose by a victory, one can rest assured a real battle will result.

Coach Jones of Iowa is greatly strengthened by the return of Laun, the 1916 full back and captain. Laun plays full back on the offense and end on the defense. The line is composed of inexperienced players, but form a scrappy aggregation.

Injuries Hurt Iowa.

The Hawkeye coach has been unfortunate this season in the matter of injuries. Laun, Von Lackum, and Jenkins have been out at various times. The opposite is true of the Northwestern team; every member is in tip top shape for a strenuous tussle. The Evanston boys are not overconfident and do not expect to win by a top heavy score.

The Purple mentor has made several changes in his lineup which will greatly strengthen the team in the two remaining contests. Shorty Holmes will play left half in place of Crane, while Capt. Bob Randolph will go back to his old position at right tackle, and Townley will play the other tackle. Jack Ulrich, veteran guard, will infuse plenty of pep into his new partner, Townley. Jack has been playing a great game at guard this season.

Light Drill for Purple.

The final workout of Northwestern was of a comparatively light nature. The players tossed the ball around and wound up with a short signal drill. Ellingwood and Holmes spent quite a little time drop kicking and place kicking.

JACKIES BATTLE CAMP GRANT MEN

Camp Grant, Ill., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—Lieut. E. D. Angell of Great Lakes brought his jackies into Rockford tonight in time for dinner, and it was announced that everything is set for the Army-Navy game tomorrow at Kishwaukee park, the former Three Eyes league grounds, on the edge of town.

Exhaust Echoes by SHEPPARD BUTLER

JUST what Walter S. Gifford, chairman of the Council of National Defense, meant on Thursday, when he said "discontinuance of pleasure car production surely will come within a short time," is a matter on which American automobile manufacturers would very much like some definite information. That there is to be a sharp curtailment of passenger car production through government action is clear enough. Indeed, this curtailment began in many of the big plants months ago. But whether there is to be a disposition to consider every automobile of the passenger type a "pleasure car," and, as such, a nonessential in war time, is another question.

The suspense, it seems, is to continue a bit longer, while the council of defense tries to get at the root of the matter—the condition of the steel supply. As the council's director of steel products, J. F. Replogle is passing upon all steel and iron orders for private concerns and the various governments, compiling figures on the demands of the motor car makers, and trying to learn just how seriously the passenger car business digs into the steel output. Until he gets ready to report it is probable no drastic action will be taken.

* * *

Already rumors have had a dozen of the biggest automobile factories shut down. Investigation of one of these yesterday brought the explanation from an official of the company concerned that its plant was running at 50 per cent capacity during inventory dates, but will resume complete operation in a short time. Whether this is camouflage to cover something more significant is not for an outsider to say, but the fact remains that one of the largest factories—one of those, as it happens, which has been complaining the loudest about not being able to supply the demand for its product—is only half way in operation.

QUESTIONS THEY ASK.

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—1. What is a spoon bill catfish? 2. Where are they caught? 3. How large do they grow? O. W.

Answers—1. The "spoon bill catfish" or "shovel nose" is not a catfish but a paddle fish. 2. Principally in the Mississippi river, in Arkansas and in certain lakes throughout the United States. 3. Females heavy with roe, which makes an excellent caviar, average around twenty pounds. The largest specimen on record weighed 225 pounds. It was caught in Lake Manitou, Ind. One weighing 175 pounds was taken from an Iowa lake last summer.

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—1. What 16 gauge load do you recommend for quail? 2. For ducks? 3. What are brush shells? 4. Will they injure a gun? L. M. U.

Answers—1. Twenty grains or 2¾ drams; one ounce No. 8 chilled. 2. Twenty or twenty-two grains; one ounce No. 7 chilled. Few sixteens will handle larger shot than sevens advantageously. 3. Shells loaded so that the shot scatters. Made for shooting in heavy brush where you have to get your bird quickly or never. 4. They do have a tendency to "lead" a choke barrel. After using them swab out the barrel good with a brass cleaner, then follow with mercurial ointment, then oil.

De Palma's Liberty Motor Hangs Up World's Record

New York, Nov. 16.—[Special.]—A new world record for six hours was set by Ralph De Palma at the Sheepshead Bay speedway today. The Italian auto pilot covered 633.12 miles, against the mark of 566 miles made by Dario Resta, Jean Chassagne and Lee K. Guinness, alternately driving a Sunbeam car on the Brooklands track, London, Eng., on Oct. 1, 1913. De Palma's average was 105.6 miles per hour, against the former average of 94.4 miles per hour. De Palma drove a Packard fitted with a Liberty motor.

MINOR LEAGUES WILL MEET HERE TO REVAMP MAP

Four Circuits in Midwest May Join 'Live' Towns in New Deal.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Salvation of minor league baseball in the middle west by revamping the map still is an optimistic possibility in spite of the overwhelming vote against the proposition of a general redistricting of circuits when it was brought up at the Louisville meeting of the National association this week.

President M. H. Sexton of the National association, otherwise known as the minor league body, was in conference here yesterday with President Tearney of the Three Eyes league and they agreed to father a meeting of four of the minor leagues in this territory to be held next month for the purpose of ascertaining what club owners have the nerve to tackle another season and of organizing them into the most compact circuits possible.

Leagues in on Deal.

The four organizations involved will be the Western, Three Eyes, and Central leagues and the Central association. Each of them has one or more of what Bill Rourke calls "sick cities" and the outcome is expected to be the amputation of the diseased members, with the consent of the victim, and the formation of new bodies which may or may not bear the name of the old ones. President Tearney expressed the belief that at least two and possibly three very healthy leagues could be salvaged from the four mentioned and Mike Sexton concurred in this belief.

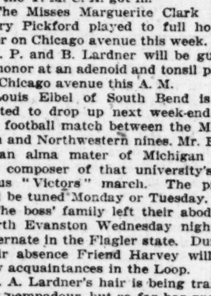

Nothing will be done that will savor of outlawry or lead to lawsuits, but the club owners who have no incentive to continue in unfertile territory will be asked to drop out of the game unless they have the nerve to go on and pocket farther losses.

Old Idea With Tearney.

This consolidation of middle west territory so as to produce more compact circuits has been on Al Tearney's mind for more than two years. He came close to putting it over at the Louisville meeting, but got tangled up with the proposition to amalgamate the American association and International leagues. An attempt to involve that scheme with the Tearney proposition defeated it for the time being, but it is the belief of the executives most vitally interested that an amicable agreement can be reached to redistrict the territory so that interest can be revived and costs reduced.

At Cub headquarters yesterday preliminaries were under way for the spring training trip of Mitchell's men. Tentative dates for exhibition games in California and on the way back are being sought by Cub officials, the actual dates being dependent on when the championship seasons of 1918 will begin. It is planned to play only one set of exhibition games next suring, as the training roster of the Cubs will be reduced to less than thirty players at the start and below that before the return trip begins.

Because of the saving in the cost of the training trip by reducing the Cub squad it will be possible to play fewer exhibition games and still come close to covering expenses from their receipts.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—There are few velvet slackers this season. This material is used in every possible form. Even in waists the old familiar fabric has bobbed up and the blouse which is part chiffon velvet, part Georgette, has caught the popular fancy.

At first these blouses employed velvet of dark colors—taupe, brown, plum, etc.,—but more and more the color is chirping up. For instance, one model of silver gray Georgette has a bodice almost covered by strips of coral velvet embroidered in alternating steel and dull blue beads. The full sleeves are finished with cuffs of the same coral velvet embroidered in the same way. The neck of this model is round and it fastens down the back with the beaded finish.

Of course, in afternoon and evening gowns velvet is preëminent. Today we are giving an evening gown from Callot made of red velvet with a circular skirt which is bound about the figure tightly and developed into the very original train. The tulle which fills in the bodice is a lovely misty shade of lavender and the strap over the shoulder is velvet in a deeper lavender. It fastens down the back of the skirt with a beaded rose. In front the skirt crosses diagonally the tulle bodice and where it meets the shoulder strap of velvet ribbon it is caught up by a large pearl ornament.

Real Love Stories

The Optimist.

Five years ago I was a workout stenographer and it seemed quite providential to my mother and myself that my aunt should choose that time to make us a short visit on her way to California. During her stay she placed such an alluring picture before us of the advantages and opportunities of that wonderful state that I finally consented to give up my home and my friends and sell all our worldly possessions to follow her. My mother was to follow as soon as I was able to send for her.

My aunt, a woman of means and no dependents, was of a most erratic temperament, and what was my chagrin a few days after my arrival to have her disclose to me the fact that she believed she would prefer living in a small town in the southern part of the state. This, of course, left me without a home, as I had a living to make for two, and that could be done only in a large city.

After walking the streets and visiting agencies by the score, weary, heart sore, and with barely enough money to take me home, I boarded a homebound train, a sadder and a wiser woman.

Magazines and papers could not hold my attention. I sat brooding over the folly of it all when I chanced to glance at a man several seats ahead of me. He was brooding, too, but, O, what a difference. I thought as I studied his face (which I could easily do, as his attention was fixed on the rapidly moving scenery) that I had never seen a face of such perfect content, mirroring a good life, well lived. It was great fun and diversion to weave a story of this hero, so unconscious was he of it all. My mind's eye pictured a charming little woman anxiously awaiting his return and at least three or four little kiddies clamoring for the first kiss from "daddy." It fascinated me. I wanted to look at happiness if I could not possess it.

The clanging of a dinner bell roused me from my reverie and I realized that I was almost famished, so, jumping to my feet, I ran to the door and made my way to the dining room. It is customary for a wait of twenty minutes for dinner, so with great complacency I sat down at one of the tables. But I had no more than done so when the whistle of our engine blew, and upon glancing up I saw my "hero" with a startled look on his face. Turning to me he said: "Do you think we can make it?" Whereupon he threw a bill down on a counter, snatched a bundle of sandwiches, and away we flew, barely reaching the lower step of the last car as the train moved on.

Breathless, excited, and laughing, we fairly fell into our seats. Of course he had to share his sandwiches.

I am an optimist now. During our conversation we happened to discover a mutual friend, and in the autumn of that very year this angel man brought together two hearts that will love until "death us do part." D. G.

MABEL GARRISON SINGS WITH THE ORCHESTRA

Mabel Garrison technically gave in yesterday's Orchestra concert a measure of aid and comfort to the enemy; for singing smuggled-in stuff by Richard Strauss is doing something like that. Incidentally, she gave a great deal of delight to the house, not only with the Strauss novelty, but with so familiar an item as the apostrophe to the bird in "The Pearl of Brazil" as well; this she made, through the reaction her personality always obtains when she is not "playing parts," seem fresh and fine. The other was out of Strauss' comic opera called "Ariadne on Naxos," and was composed, his familiars think, as an utterance of his contempt for the bravura stunts of the Italian opera men.

If so, Strauss missed not only what he usually misses, but also what underlies the durable instances of bravura arias—melody. The song is deliciously treated for the small orchestra for which Strauss scored "Ariadne," but gives to the singer nothing save a test of memory and endurance. Miss Garrison urged herself sturdily through page upon page of runs, roulades, trills and cadenzas, and emerged wan but smiling, happy, doubtless, in the knowledge that she at least put over something nobody else had used. She distinctly made good in her first participation in the weekly concerts, and added to the favor she won last April in Mr. Stock's festival week.

Other new matter in Mr. Stock's bill was a piece marked "A Twilight Picture," with its program in a sunset. Adolph Brune wrote it, and, like most of its writing for orchestra, it served as an interesting study of his scholastic attitude toward music. Also, it classifies as the week's homemade entry.

The symphony was César Franck's, for the thirteenth time in the Orchestra's annals, and now as familiar at least as any other modern work in the form. It had in this revival, as in last season's, a fine, clean performance. Its cold, rarefied, "elevated" beauty is not precisely the quality to provoke exuberant delight when this symphony is played; and the Orchestra plays it as well, at least, as it ever has been played anywhere.

Other matters in the bill were Georg Schumann's "Liebesfrühling" overture, for the twelfth time; Wolf-Ferrar's smooth and merry foreword to "The Secret of Suzanne"—always welcome filler; and Smetana's overture to "The Bartered Bride," another item of the repertoire put in for the thirteenth time. These combined with Mr. Bruning's piece, the symphony, and the contributions by Miss Garrison into a varied and good program, making, for the second concert, an excellent suggestion if you're pondering where to go tonight. Meat Buying and Displays.

Here is a bit of testimony that seems to me to point a moral and perhaps adorn a tale. A doctor first told me of his wife's experiences in buying meat, changing from a less expensive place to the most expensive, then actually paying less in the long run, or for a month's meat. He said it was because of the more careful way in which the meat was trimmed. I could understand that, for I know good butchers that are unbelievably wasteful of weighed meat when they start to trim it up.

The wife says that for a long time she thought her friends extravagant who bought their meat where she is buying hers now. She finds, even when she pays 8 and 10 cents more a pound than at her other market, in the end she saves money. She uses every scrap of the meat of superior quality, while much of the inferior undoubtedly went to waste or had actually to be dumped before it was cooked. By the way, she has four small boys and three grown-ups to feed.

There are a large number of agitating situations in the food world today. Some prominent people are flying in the face of common sense, and the resulting agitation on such a matter as bread making, say, will get well and rightly settled.

I get agitated about matters of another sort. It agitates me that a certain sort of scalping meat shop is springing up. Loads of meat of a sort seem to be just dumped into some of these places, and lie exposed to the dirty, heated air, where a particular sort of crowd rushes.

These sellers of meat get a double service from almost every piece of meat they sell, an advertising service and then the price. They get just as much per pound as though the meat had not breathed in the dirt of that store and breathed out its own precious [if good meat] moisture.

When are we ever going to learn that exposed foods rapidly deteriorate in our dirty city air, losing moisture and with it aroma and, consequently, flavor?

In that most splendid of monographs on meat, Bulletin No. 158 of the University of Illinois agricultural experiment station, with the title, "Relative Economy, Composition, and Nutritive Value of the Various Cuts of Beef," it says: "'Each step in the slaughtering, cutting, and sampling was performed rapidly in order to minimize loss by evaporation."

Here is the subject for a great preachment concerning the loss of foods through evaporation. Some day we are going to learn that highly intelligent people should handle our foods. We shall have to pay more, but we shall get infinitely more, including health.

In a sense the whole aim of this bulletin and its mate, Bulletin No. 147, on "Market Classes and Grades of Meat," is to have producers and consumers recognize that their interests are one. These bulletins teach any one how to buy meat on a rational basis. In reference to the problems connected with the market products into which beef cattle are converted, it says:

"Meat market patrons are more directly, although no more vitally, concerned with this subject than beef producers, since they deal directly with the market and have occasion almost daily to make use of information concerning the relative value of different retail cuts. Those who would buy meat most intelligently must know the nature of these cuts, especially with reference to the proportions of lean meat, fat, and bone which they contain, and the food value of meat from different parts of the carcass."

Both bulletins contain wonderful pictures of meat cuts and carcasses. By the way, I saw an oxtail disjointed and on display last week. It was interesting, but a wasteful way to use this bit of meat.

Bushman and Bayne are with us agayne, and I will be sayin' that if we can have them often as we have them this time, may they come often! They say one changes every seven years. Well, sebben come elebben!—and Mr. Bushman has turned up a changed man. May it last, voodoo, may it last!

This picture, by far the best vehicle the co-stars have had in a long time, provides Mr. Bushman with a dual rôle which not long ago he would have rendered ridiculous. Today he brings to it dignity, and by his quietly efficient handling of the two parts makes you credulous of a situation that might, it is true, exist, but that wouldn't be apt to.

It's this way:

Two prisoners occupy adjoining cells in Leavenworth penitentiary. One, wrongfully accused of robbing a bank, and the other, there for some crime or other, but penitent. The two have established a means of communication by the removal of one of the blocks of stone between the cells. A mirror covers the lapse from discipline.

(All of this any reliable jailtician will tell you is not done in our best prisons, for the reason that penitentiary blocks of stone may not be removed offhand, just like that, and that mirrors are not usually allowed in cells, they being apt at any time to be transformed into means of passage from this world to the next.)

Anyhow, the prisoner who is a criminal receives a letter from his sister saying that down in Virginia his blind mother is slowly dying and won't he please come home. (You see, she doesn't know her brother is in jail.)

So close is the resemblance between the two men that the one who has still three months to serve persuades the other, who is to be released the next day, to pass himself off as Brother Jim and cheer the last days of the sightless mother.

Down in the Virginia homestead, then, come complications in which a crook and a half witted Negro boy figure interestingly and well. The weak, wistful, tremulous old mother is a part most touchingly played by Maggie Breyer. I don't know how old she is, but certainly, if she is not every bit as old as 70, she is a wizard at makeup!

Of course, the friendly impostor falls in love with his supposed sister. That's enough of the story for you to know until you see it.

If you have liked Mr. Bushman before, you won't like him now. But, then, that is as it should be. Beverly Bayne is charming, and the rest of the cast is pending.

WOMEN IN WARTIME

Registration is still going on and so is the food conservation propaganda of the Woman's committee. Miss Elizabeth Allen and some fellow workers have christened themselves the "pie chasers," because they have been endeavoring to trace a rumor that some unpatriotic restaurant keepers downtown have been serving pie on wheatless days. The story goes that anybody can get pie on a wheatless day by going a little early. There always happens to be a lot "left over from yesterday," according to the stories.

Two new corn kitchens are to be opened Monday. One is at 1641 Milwaukee avenue and the other at 3969 Lincoln avenue.

A Hoover breakfast will be given tomorrow at the Chicago Beach hotel by the Illinois Women's Press association. The guest of honor will be Edwin Markham.

Mrs. C. M. Lloyd, formerly teacher of home economics at Pratt institute, New York, is the newest member of the conservation committee of the Woman's committee.

Seven hundred and five Christmas bags are on their way to France for the men of Dr. Besley's unit. They were made by relatives and friends of the unit and were collected, packed, and shipped by Mrs. C. A. Richards of 4455 Woodlawn avenue. The girls of Miss Starrett's school contributed fifty bags.

At the war relief card party to be held Tuesday afternoon at the College club Miss Florence Fanning will be hostess.

The latest novelty among masculine knitters was noted yesterday at the Red Cross Department of Comforts and Knitting, when W. A. Rosenberger brought in a sweater made of khaki colored wool with never a stitch dropped nor any one of the many fine points in its construction awry. Mr. Rosenberger not only knitted this sweater but he whittled the needles he used in its manufacture out of a broomstick.

An announcement from Miss Florence Marshall of the Red Cross in Washington says the manuals on standardized hospital garments will soon be ready and will be sent to all chapters.

Take Good Care of Your Neck, for It's an Age Give-Away

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

ANNETTE: THERE ARE FEW things that show lack of care and incidentally reflect age so readily as your throat. The skin of your neck should be given the same care as you do your face in order to ward off the telltale marks of time. Lemon juice will remove the discolorations and a nightly massage with a good skin food will help remedy the scrawny, wrinkled condition. Rotate the muscles firmly in a slanting direction from under the chin toward the shoulders and from the middle of the throat backwards and upwards toward the ear. To fill out the hollows in your neck practice deep breathing. Would you like the directions for deep breathing? If so, a stamped, addressed envelope will bring them to you.

Plan to Safeguard Girls in Wartime

Protective work for young girls was the subject of discussion at a meeting held Thursday night at the Woman's City club. Half of the woman police force of Chicago was present to discuss with army officials, social workers and members of the health and recreation department of the woman's committee the best way of safeguarding girls in war time. Among the speakers was Miss Maud Minor of New York, chairman of the committee on protective work for girls, of the Fosdick commission. She urged the necessity of big sisters for the younger girls.

The committee resolved that every effort would be made to adopt Miss Minor's suggestions that policewomen should be stationed in towns near army camps, that social settlements be aided in recreational work for girls, and that an early attempt be made to secure more detention houses.

Col. Nathan William MacChesney, judge advocate of the Central military division, cautioned the women against making army and navy boys feel they were being used as a social laboratory.

"The boys justly resent such a view," he declared, "when their sole interest at present is in winning the war."

Miss Neva Boyd of the School of Civics, declared the modern dance music responsible for much of the delinquency among young girls.

"If the children had more folk dancing when they were young they would recognize what was beautiful when they were older and we would not have the disastrous results from dance halls that we now have," she said.

Bright Sayings of the Children

Johnny being only 4 years old, was left to take care of his brother, Bob, 3 years old.

Mother being only gone about fifteen minutes, Johnny thought he would put brother to sleep and go outdoors to play with the boys. After he had been playing a short time who should come along but Bob, half asleep.

Johnny looking in surprise said: "Bob, are you up yet?"

Bob at first did not answer, but looking at himself in amazement said: 'I don't know, but I think I is up now."

S. F.

The other day my little girl said to her father, who was deeply engrossed in his paper: "Dad, are you company?" Upon receiving no reply she said: "Dad, if you're company, visit with me; if you ain't, give me something to eat."

H. B. D.

Pat's grandmother was making him some old fashioned molasses candy. She let him taste it from the cold water cup to see if it was done. Each time she would ask: "Is it hard enough?" and he would answer: "It's pretty easy yet."

French Fighter Tonight to Tell the Story of the Marne

Recollections of the battle of the Marne will be the inspiration of the lecture to be given this evening by Maurice Boucher under the auspices of the Alliance Française in Kimball hall. M. Boucher had been in the war since the second day and was decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honor after being seriously wounded. A reception will be given for him this afternoon in the library of the alliance. The proceeds from the guest tickets to the lecture will go to the fund for French Red Cross hospital supplies. Miss Alma Alpers, Edouard Dufresne, and Leo Sowerby will give the musical program.

At the wedding of Miss Catharine Haven Re Qua to Stewart Johnson this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Trinity Episcopal church the bridal party will consist of Mrs. Berrien Clark Eaton, matron of honor; Miss Florence Lowden, Miss Isabella Holt, Miss Elizabeth Grey, and Miss Leota Cotter of St. Louis, bridesmaids; Maj. Raymond W. Hardenbergh, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, best man, and Haven Re Qua, Charles H. Re Qua Jr., Roy West, Bowles King, and Harold Osborne of New York, ushers.

The members of the Arts club and their friends are expectant over the entertainment to be given this evening at 8 o'clock and tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in their club. There will be Japanese native dances and East Indian folk songs and recitations.

Debutantes and jackies will skate together this afternoon at the party to be given at the Chicago arena by Mrs. Ford Rodman Carter for 200 of the boys from the naval training station at Great Lakes.

Concert afternoon brought out many society women for luncheon yesterday at the Blackstone hotel preceding the symphony. Mrs. John T. Pirie and Mrs. A. A. Sprague II. were together, and Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe was with her sister, Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed. Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis entertained a party. Others there were Mrs. George A. McKinlock, Mrs. Thomas W. Hinde, and Mrs. Wilhelm H. Rehm. Miss Clara Cudahy will entertain sixteen guests at dinner at the Blackstone hotel this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Mann have gone to Washington.

On Thanksgiving day the Brownleigh club will open its dining rooms to the jackies, who will be invited to a turkey dinner to be given by members of the club.

Mrs. John J. Mitchell will have charge of a bazaar to be given all day Tuesday at the Blackstone hotel, the proceeds of which will go to the Y. M. C. A. fund.

Consul B. Singer and Mrs. Singer have moved in from their summer place in Winnetka to the Hotel La Salle, where they will live during the winter.

Carrys Domiciled in Washington Hotel; Give Up House Here

BY CINDERELLA.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Carry have given up their apartment, 1100 Lake Shore drive, stored the furniture, and are now living at a hotel in Washington. Mr. Carry is a "dollar man," one of many Americans active in the business world, who has renounced everything to serve his country.

For some time the Carrys had the idea of keeping their apartment, which is a very charming one facing Lake Michigan, but since they've been down to Washington they see things differently.

Well, anyway, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hopkins have taken the ex-Carry apartment and are still living in a very lovely one at 999 Lake Shore drive, a stone's throw away. But it's nice to move occasionally and helps the next rummage sale.

They say Washington's the most crowded place ever known. All the hotels, all the lodging houses, all the apartments are full. The population is greatly swollen by prominent men now in gover'ment circles. Some of them bring wives. But the poor wives never even see their husbands.

Even if people give dinner parties, the men who go all talk shop and contracts and war material. Somebody at table will say, "a late dispatch says the Russians are doing" so and so. Nobody pays the slightest attention. It seems so much more important what those present are doing.

The "dollar men" keep no hours. Every day's a work day, and every hour belongs to a man's country. But working eighteen and twenty hours a day and never seeing the family is not 'xactly a gay life.

But Washington isn't getting everybody. Some of our first favorites are going to New York. The departure of Col. and Mrs. William Stephenson for Governor's island station, New York harbor, means a step upwards for them but much loss to Chicago society. Mrs. Stephenson is a most attractive woman, pretty as a pink and a naturally charming hostess, and Col. Stephenson is the beau of every ballroom.

The Stephensons had a most unusual welcome here and were liked in every set. A sister, Mrs. Andrews, also of the army circle, whose husband has been in active service on the Mexican frontier, has been visiting them during the year and will go east with them.

Reid Shows Portraits.

Robert Reid's third Friday afternoon in his studio, 206 Fine Arts building, was given yesterday, when he showed some of his portrait impressions of Chicago society. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick Jr., Gordon McCormick, Charles L. Hutchinson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Francis King, Miss Elizabeth Goodrich (Mrs. Cushing), Charles Deering McCormick, Josephine Dunham, and Alexander McKinlock.

Among two hundred present during the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick, Mrs. Arthur Ryerson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCann, Mrs. C. L. Hutchinson, Mrs. Arthur Meeker, Mrs. George A. McKinlock, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Bentley, Mrs. Cecil Clark Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kitchell Webster, Mrs. Otis Skinner, Nat C. Goodwin, and Arnold Daly.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Agnes Glover, daughter of Mrs. Frederick Brown Glover of Kansas City, and Capt. Gregory Vigeant Jr., son of Mrs. Marie E. Vigeant of 1216 Astor street, will take place this evening in Kansas City at the residence of the bride's mother. Capt. Vigeant is a graduate of the University of Illinois and is now stationed at Camp Funston, Kas.

The marriage of Miss Edith Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Bailey of New Haven, Conn., to John Herbert Ware Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Herbert Ware of 674 Rush street, will take place this evening at the residence of the bride's parents.

"DINORAH" JUSTIFIES DISINTERNMENT

BY FREDERICK DONAGHEY.

Director Campanini's zeal in the interest of new parts for Galli-Curci was justified in last night's restoration of Meyerbeer's "Dinorah." It proved, in a performance given in the agitating conditions told about on the first page, so fresh and fragrant in its musical aspect, and it was so well put on, that it stimulated a shaken, jumpy, nerves-ridden audience to the most enthusiastic demonstration of the week, so far as the week is gone. And, apart from the mental panic which explicably unfitted most of those present for literate examination of the old piece, it was not, in all respects, the most felicitous of gatherings for the special occasion.

As for Galli-Curci, the demonstration which followed the shadow-song outlasted anything of the kind previously recorded of even her appearances in Chicago. She came out on the apron and repeated part of the number while the setting was changed and then was called back at least twelve times to acknowledge the tumult evoked by what was, maybe, the most exquisite exhibition of her especial gift she has thus far given.

The revival easily classifies as one of the three or four best yet made by the Chicago Opera. It is uncommonly good aside from its utility as a new implement for the brilliant young coloratura. It is set and dressed well, and put on with as much regard for nowaday methods as the quaint, naïve libretto permits. The story is a slim thing—a bit of Breton folklore about a simple maid who went mildly mad when her lover, on the wedding-day, ran off to find a hidden treasure with a curse involved. Greed gives way to love again when he finds her necklace and thinks she is dead. That's about all. He—his name is Hoël with an umlaut—believing that the first to touch the treasure shall die, takes along an unwilling deputy to attend to what Mr. Cohan would describe as the dirty work; and this part, Corentino, gave to little Dua a rich opportunity for comic acting. He is a good comic actor, in the terms of opera; and he made a definite and deserved success.

"Dinorah" was revived, as has been intimated, in the form of a good show; and all who took part were good. Rimini hardly realized the precise passional note for Hoël; but he sang well, and added to his score. Miss Lazzari, who seemed clever with a small opportunity in "Isabeau," confirmed the rumor in an incidental role as a goatherd. She did an aria so well in the second act that she was provided with urgent reason for repeating it. And a neat little hit of her own was made by another newcomer, Margary Maxwell, in a second incidental rôle.

Campanini made an effective switch of the overture—which, with the shadow-song, is about all of "Dinorah" in recent use—to the first entr'acte, where it served admirably as an intermezzo. He and the orchestra made a lot of it; and, in the doing of it, added to the inventory of reasons why last night should stick in the memory.

Returning to Galli-Curci, her contribution was much more than the shadow-song. She again exposed her rare capacity as an actress, and made of the pallid paranoiac a credible, appealing, distinctive figure—one to go with her Rosina and her Juliet. She is to do it again on Wednesday night.

Raisa and the others of the Monday cast will sing "Isabeau" for today's matinée, and "Il Trovotore" will be done tonight with Zinovieff and one of the new sopranos, Francesca Peralta.

Another change in next week's schedule eliminates the Friday extra of "La Bohême," which will be given with Melba, on Thursday. "Isabeau" will be moved forward to Tuesday, wiping out the repetition of "Aïda."

Huberdeau is back as the Friar for tomorrow afternoon's "Romeo and Juliet," instead of Goddard.

SOCIETY AT THE OPERA

CLUB'S FIGHT ON BILLBOARD TO BE DECIDED IN WEEK

Sheridan Road Owners Deny Giving Their Consent.

Within a week the city law department will give a ruling regarding the billboard at Sheridan road and Grace street, one of the largest in the city. It is contended that the board should be torn down because the necessary amount of frontage consents for its erection was not obtained.

The city ordinance regarding billboards requires that frontage consents of the property owners in the block must be obtained for their erection. The United States Supreme court has upheld the validity of the measure. The municipal art committee of the City club has waged a fight against illegally erected billboards.

Claim It Is Illegal.

A hearing on the question of ordering the Grace street billboard removed was held yesterday in the office of Chester E. Cleveland, first assistant corporation counsel. E. L. Millard and P. H. Truman of the City club said the erection of the board was illegal, and asked that it be ordered removed.

Mr. Cleveland, after hearing from the City club representatives and attorneys for the Cusack company, owners of the board, agreed to make an investigation and have a finding ready within a week. He asked all interested parties to meet in his office again next Friday.

Two Deny Giving Consent.

The board in question is 225 feet long. Mr. Millard declared consents for the board were illegally obtained. Dr. Max Torek, 646 Sheridan road, whose signature appears as one of the property owners who consented, said his consent was not obtained. Godfrey Smith, a real estate man, declared the physician had authorized him to use his name.

Mrs. Grace C. Barthlof, another property owner, declared she did not give her consent.

SUICIDE LEAVES GIRL'S NAME

A card with the name "Irene Rogers" written on it in pencil was the only article of an identifying nature found on the person of a man who took a room and committed suicide by asphyxiation yesterday in a house at 27 West Grand avenue.

AXMEN KILL 3 AUSTRIANS FOR LOYALTY TO U. S.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 16.—While the north country stood aghast tonight contemplating the triple ax murders in the "six hundred" block here early today, county officials were hurrying from Duluth to take charge of the investigation.

The murders took place in a small two story frame house. The victims were Paul Alar, miner, employed at the Alepna mine; Mrs. Paul Alar, his wife; and Peter Trepich, also a mill employé.

All were Austrians and have lived here several years. Trepich boarded with the Alars.

The three were murdered, the police believe, because they had subscribed to Liberty bonds and aided the Red Cross. Fellow countrymen, friendly to the central powers, are believed to be the murderers.

On a table in the kitchen was found a note written in Austrian. Translated, it reads as follows:

"This is what you got for being against the kaiser. You have donated to the Red Cross and you have said the kaiser could go to hell. Don't look for us, for any one who does will get the same dose."

Red Cross and Liberty loan purchase signs have disappeared from Austrian home windows since the murders.

Mothers Fight Closing Jones School Grades

Mothers of children in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades at the Jones school, Harrison street and Plymouth place, are protesting against an order issued from the board of education sending the children to the Haven school, a mile south. A petition is being circulated asking the board to keep the room at the Jones open at least during the present school year.

"Many of the mothers in the district cannot afford carfare for their children to go to the Haven school," said Mrs. Rose Stein of 71 East Seventh street.

Prize Winning Poet Gives $25 Reward to Soldiers' Tobacco Fund.

"AN astonished versifier" was among yesterday's contributors to THE TRIBUNE'S tobacco fund. The check for $25 was a prize in a patriotic poetry competition and the writer asked that it be given to the soldiers. The winner sent the check through a friend and hid his identity behind the unusual pen name.

Employes of the local bureau of animal industry have clubbed together and sent in $141.85 to supply smokes for soldiers. The givers do not wish their names announced but they have made provision for receiving postal cards from the men who are in Gen. Pershing's army.

FUNK, STILL ILL, RESIGNS JOB AND WILL AID INQUIRY

As his wife stood at his bedside, Ray M. Funk, who is at the county hospital hovering between life and death from poisoning, yesterday signed his resignation as clerk of Waukesha county, where, it is said, his accounts are in a badly muddled condition. He then turned over the keys of his office to W. A. Jones, chairman of the committee of the Waukesha county board, which is investigating Funk's affairs. He promised to return to Waukesha.

"I will take my medicine like a man and do all in my power to straighten out my accounts," was Funk's only comment.

Physicians at the county hospital declined yesterday to say that Funk was out of danger. He has been unable to take nourishment and is in a much weakened condition. It is believed, however, that he will be strong enough to be moved to Waukesha early next week.

MAYOR RENAMES TWO MEMBERS OF MERIT BOARD

Mayor Thompson yesterday reappointed Charles E. Frazier and Joseph P. Geary as members of the civil service commission. The appointments will be sent to the city council Monday. Alexander Johnson is the third member of the commission. He was appointed several months ago. At a meeting of the commission after the appointments were announced, Mr. Frazier was selected to act as president. He fills the place formerly occupied by Percy B. Coffin, now business manager of the board of education.

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY
The Store of the Christmas Spirit

The Spirit of the Nation

CHRISTMAS, with its cheery thoughts, kind deeds and joyous spirit of giving, is at our threshold—our first Yuletide in wartime.

War brings unprecedented conditions into our lives—it changes habits, upsets customs and disturbs the currents of business. But, whatever betide, the Christmas Spirit will continue to glow. It is part of our being—of our civilization—sacred with its visions of happiness and youth, friendship and fireside.

Today, however, national necessities demand readjustment by the individual. Those who seek expression for the Christmas Spirit through gifts are admonished by our government to help conserve man-power. In the face of a serious labor shortage the shopping public is asked for patriotic co-operation in eliminating such tasks as are wasteful or unnecessary.

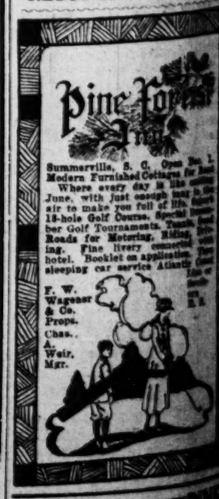

This can be accomplished best by doing as much as possible of the Christmas shopping in November. Patrons thus can release for war service the customary December host of extra salesmen and delivery employes, while in return patrons will find—

An experienced salesforce
The Store less crowded
Merchandise at its best
December's hurry avoided

'KENOSHA PLAN' PUTS WAR RELIEF IN ONE BIG FUND

Thousands Pledged to Give Wages for Half an Hour a Week.

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—The city of Kenosha today offered to the nation a new plan for meeting the costs of war benevolences. Thousands of men and women in Kenosha are enlisting as members of a new corporation, known as "the Patriots' fund."

Centralization of war relief work is the object, with the elimination of all wasted effort and expense involved in separate money raising campaigns for individual purposes. Bond issues are the only exceptions made and the fund will meet all other legitimate requests for contributions.

"Go Across or Come Across" is the slogan of the organization.

From now until the dove of peace lights thousands of Kenosha men and women will give up a half hour of their time every week for the support of the various movements to take care of the soldiers in the field and at the cantonments. This half hour is to be contributed to the one big central fund in cash.

No Exemptions Allowed.

It is going to mean something over three hundred thousand dollars a year, with something over 22,000 working people at Kenosha contributing. There will be no exemptions from payments.

The plan was conceived by Clark S. Judd and presented first to the Manufacturers' association of Kenosha. The whole design of it was to put Kenosha and not a few Kenoshans behind the war.

The card system which has been adopted pledges the worker, the man who employs him, the retired capitalist, the shop girl and the retail clerk to give to the fund. In the factories it is collected through the paymasters and sent to the central office monthly. In the shops and in offices of professional men it is collected by employés of the new corporation.

Many Already Sign.

Many persons signed the cards today. In some instances the entire employed forces of factories received the plan with cheers and signed.

Kenosha's first patriotic half hour comes next Wednesday. At half past 11 o'clock whistles will sound in every industry in the city and for the next half hour all earnings will go to the fund. The first payment from the central fund will be the quota of Kenosha for the support of the work of the Y. M. C. A. in the war camps.

Z. G. Simmons, leader of Kenosha manufacturers, who by personal efforts put Kenosha on top in the sale of the Liberty loan bonds, is the chairman of the central committee. His executive officer is Mr. Judd. Before the plan was launched every industrial organization in the city had pledged itself to give to the fund an amount equal to the total amount to be paid by all of its employés.

IRATE HUSBAND QUALIFIES FOR "K. O." HONORS

The police took Attorney Byron W. Wight, 5231 Cornell avenue, to Iroquois Memorial hospital yesterday to have the doctors fix some broken ribs, black eyes, body bruises, and cuts on the head. They had charged him with disorderly conduct and Leonard Steenman, an oil dealer living in Evanston, with assault and battery.

Steenman went home with his pretty wife, happy after a battle in Wight's office on the eleventh floor of the First National bank building. Steenman was beaming when a reporter called on him.

"Really, I'm proud of the trimming I gave him," he began. "It was like this: A short time ago, while I was in New York, this chap Wight insulted my wife, who was downtown shopping. She trailed him and learned where he had his office. We had detectives make sure it was Wight, and I took Mrs. Steenman up there today to make the identification positive.

"I gave him two pretty little wallops and he hit the floor. I picked him up and knocked him down three times in all. Finally I told him I'd take off my overcoat and make the beating complete. He rushed into another office and brought out a hammer and penknife, threatening my life. Well, I picked up my cane then and raised a few welts on his dome. Yes, there was some glass broken and considerable excitement. But I'm satisfied. I waited for the police, and they told me there would be less mashing in the loop if every husband would do as I did. It's the only treatment, I might add."

"I never saw either of them before in my life," Wight said. He declared that he believed some "pro-Germans" had been plotting to "get him."

Boy Cavemen Promise to Be Good and Win Parole

Eddie Pratt of 4347 West North avenue and Charlie Unverzagt of 1417 North Kildare, two of the six members of the "club," which had its headquarters in the shed back of the Unverzagt home, were arraigned before Judge Arnold in the Juvenile court yesterday. On Sunday the "club" was raided by the police and a cave found containing articles the boys had stolen. As neither of the boys had been in trouble before and both promised to refrain from theft in the future and to repay the storekeepers for what they had taken, both boys were put on probation.

KENOSHA PLAN

Novel Patriotic Scheme Which Aims to Centralize All War Relief Work.

FOLLOWING is the formal announcement of the "Kenosha plan" with its purpose and scope:

Patriots' fund, half an hour a week for war relief; one fund, county-wide in scope, contributed to by every patriotic member of the community; adequate to cover all legitimate demands for purposes of war relief.

ITS AIM—To eliminate wasted effort and expense involved in separate money raising campaigns for individual purposes. To avoid conflicting campaigns between equally worthy objects. To insure against levies which may be unfair in amount or intended for unjustifiable purposes. To unite all parts of the community in a reasonable and hearty support of war relief donations. To secure an open field for bond issue campaigns as the sole basis of general public solicitation.

ITS PLAN—A general fund, administered under the authority of the county council of defense by a special committee of representative citizens. Once established, no other solicitation for patriotic donations is to be sanctioned in the community. Bond issues, being an investment and not a gift, will be the only campaigns authorized. A uniform public support to such a fund by a voluntary contribution based on the plan of giving one-half hour weekly to soldiers and sailors. All wage earners in the community subscribing to this plan will authorize their employer to deduct from their pay the equivalent of one-half hour's wages each week, to be paid by check regularly to the fund, together with an equal amount on his part as a business contribution. Such others as may not be reached in this way to contribute at least an equivalent percentage of their income as a voluntary gift to the fund. A systematic disbursement of the fund by a committee who shall scrutinize every project with reference to the following tests:

Is it authorized by direct or delegated governmental authority?

Is it an unjustifiable duplication of other projects to which contributions are being made?

Is it managed efficiently so that funds contributed are not largely consumed in salaries or overhead expense?

ITS MEANING—This fund is the measure of the real patriotism of the community. If you can't go across, come across.

MISS MIX'S PINK LETTER MIXES IT FOR MILLS

A Subtle Triangle (in three parts).

Cast: Harry B. Mills, an auditor; Anna, his wife; Edith Mix, a pretty roomer; Judge Joseph Fitch; hotel clerks, court clerks, bailiffs, etc.

Act I.—Curtain rises on Edith and Anna in latter's home. They both are busy writing letters and chatting.

"Beautiful day," whispers Edith between pages.

"Certainly is," and Anna sighs.

Curtain drops on Edith going out to mail two letters.

Act II. (three days later)—Curtain rises on Harry in small town hotel. He has been auditing the Standard Accident Insurance company's books and is lonesome. Hotel clerk hands him pink letter and he sinks into well upholstered chair and reads:

"Dearie: Answer this in person. . . . Then there will be lots of things to say. 'B.,' the wife, is sitting here writing to her auntie, and she is lonesome. I wonder which one—she or I—desires you most."

Harry sighs, puffs cigar, and strolls into bar.

Act III. (months later)—Curtain rises on Anna handing pink letter to Judge Fitch. Then she tells him foregoing story.

"Mr. Clerk, let a decree be entered," orders Judge Fitch.

Three Saloons' Licenses Are Taken Away by Mayor

Mayor Thompson yesterday closed three saloons by revocation of their liquor licenses. J. J. Fisk, 625 West Madison street, is said to have allowed gambling in his place. Pater Lechowski, 848 North Carpenter street, is said to have violated the Sunday closing law, as did Al Sablon, 1230 School street.

CITY OFFICIALS EXCEED BUDGET, SAYS ALDERMAN

Council Committee Will Take Up Charges Friday.

All department heads of the city government will be questioned before the city council committee on finance on Friday as to why expenditures up to this time have exceeded the amounts appropriated by the council.

Ald. Richert, chairman of the committee, declared yesterday that at least two departments have exceeded their appropriations by upward of $57,000 each.

"If it is true," said Ald. Lipps, "I think State's Attorney Hoyne ought to be notified."

"I think the criminal statutes have been violated," said Ald. Schwartz.

Checks Up Accounts.

Ald. Richert said he was having the department expenditures checked up, and that until this was completed he would not make known the departments accused of the wrongdoing.

Authority was given by the committee for the Chicago Surface Lines to charge $17,750 to its operating expenses. This was divided thusly:

Street car tickets for poor families	$ 250
Red Cross donations	10,000
Y. M. C. A. donations	5,000
Publicity, second Liberty loan	2,500

The traction ordinances provide that the lines must have the city's consent to make charges to the operating account because of the 55-45 agreement between the lines and the city.

Wants Enabling Law.

Ald. Richert was delegated to seek an appointment with Gov. Lowden for the committee. The council wants the governor to call a special session of the legislature to give the city enabling legislation to raise more revenue.

Commissioner of Public Works Bennett declared that the financial situation of the city was so serious that contractors were threatening to charge interest on unpaid bills.

TWO SEIZED ON GIRL'S CHARGE OF ATTACK IN AUTO

First they struck her over the head with a hammer; then they left her by the side of the road for dead.

That was the nub of the story told yesterday by Grace Lytle, 18 years old, and principal witness in the trial of Lloyd Bopp for the murder of Motorcycle Policeman Herman Mallow of Oak Park. She was found in a semi-conscious condition early yesterday morning at East One Hundred and Sixteenth street and Torrence avenue and taken to the House of Correction hospital.

She was returning from a visit to Burnham, she said, with William Conroy, who gives his address as 5022 Calumet avenue; Al Chase, who says he lives at South Green and Sixty-third streets, and Frank McErlane. Conroy and Chase have been arrested. They stopped the machine at the place where she was found and left her in the street after hitting her with the hammer, the girl says.

Neither Conroy nor Chase would talk. McErlane, the police say, was also implicated in the Mallow murder case and served a term of one year in the penitentiary, but was recently released. Bopp was convicted of the murder and was sentenced to hang, but was granted a new trial.

The Lytle girl says she has been a virtual prisoner for months. Conroy kidnaped her and took her to Minneapolis and kept her there till only a few days ago, she says.

Silk Socked Hotel Porter Held as Leader of Band

Leonard Brixler, the hotel porter of costly silk underwear whose mysterious night time activities led to his arrest under suspicion that he might be a German spy, was lodged in the county jail for safe keeping yesterday. Officials are convinced that Brixler was the guiding spirit of a little company of mysterious individuals who met him in darkness each night and vanished.

WHAT GOLF DOES TO A MAN

SEEK WIDOW OF LANGMANN ON MURDER CHARGE

Armed with a warrant charging her with the murder of her husband, police last night searched in vain for Mrs. Lihse Langmann, 60 years old, of 3936 West Monroe street. The warrant was issued by Judge John R. Newcomer in the Desplaines street station.

Her husband, John Langmann, died on Oct. 22 of arsenic poisoning. Langmann's first wife, Margaret, died last June. The second Mrs. Langmann nursed Margaret in the sickness from which she died. Margaret had convulsions preceding death. A few weeks later Langmann married Lihse. He died after he had made a will leaving her his property.

Detective Sergts. Mackey and Nagle of the Desplaines street station went to the address at 3936 West Monroe street, where Mrs. Langmann had been living with her foster son, John Henry, early last evening and were informed she had left early in the day and had not returned.

Then they went to the home of her married daughter, Mrs. Fred Ackermann, 546 North Central Park avenue, where she sometimes visited, but the daughter said she had not been there.

The body of the first wife, Margaret, which was interred in Waldheim cemetery, was exhumed yesterday on orders of Coroner Peter M. Hoffman.

The murder charge against Mrs. Langmann were filed by the foster-son, John Henry.

Barber Who Weds Girl of 13 Given Year in Bridewell

John E. Brown, a barber living at 4204 Prairie avenue, was tried yesterday before Judge Stelk, charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency.

The complainant was Eunice Brown, 13 years old. According to the testimony Eunice's mother was busy nursing during the month of September and took Eunice to stay with an aunt during that time. Brown, who is 30 years old, lived across the street from the aunt's home, and there Eunice met him. Sept. 19, after a night of revelry starting at Riverview park, Brown induced Eunice to be married to him, both swearing that she was 19 years of age in order to obtain a license.

Brown was found guilty and fined $600 and sentenced to one year in the house of correction. Eunice returned to her home with her mother.

If You Have a Baby Girl to Spare Here's Home Open

There is a wonderful home waiting for some baby girl in a Wisconsin town.

Here is the letter the lonely wife writes THE TRIBUNE:

"My husband and myself are very anxious to adopt a baby girl of either American or French parentage. Can you help us? We have a very good, comfortable home at ——, Wis., and Mr. —— will make a most wonderful father, as he is one of the finest men on earth. If you can assist us in any way please let me know. I was a kindergarten teacher before I married and love children."

The couple have been married eleven years.

DISCIPLINE

Daughter of J. Louis Guyon and Youthful Husband Are Chastened, but Not for Long.

VIVIAN IRENE GUYON CHRISTOPH and her husband, Gustav W. Christoph, left Chicago last night with $1,000 and dad's blessing. But this story seems to be starting at the end.

On Nov. 10 Miss Guyon left a note for her father, Prof. J. Louis Guyon, proprietor of Guyon's "Paradise." The note said she had eloped with Gustav and that they were on their way to California. She is 19 years old and he is 20 and a senior at the Chicago College of Dental Surgery.

Last Thursday Prof. Guyon discovered that the couple were living in Chicago while the young man was attending his classes. They had been secretly married Oct. 11.

The dancing professor took the youthful bride and bridegroom home and ordered them to separate uhtil Christolph became of age. The bride, he said, must leave for a three months' trip with her mother. The young man would be permitted to say farewell at the train.

He was at the train, feeling blue. A few minutes before 8 o'clock, when the train was to leave, Prof. Guyon handed his son-in-law two tickets for New York and a roll of bills.

"You children have been disciplined enough," he said. "That's for your honeymoon."

PENT UP 10 YEARS, HIS PATRIOTISM FINDS $1,500 VENT

After twilight had fallen quite a bit last night a department of justice sleuth lurking near the federal building saw a man pull a large roll from his pocket, step up to a couple of fellows who looked like I. W. W.'s, and try to slip them the money with these words:

"Take it and see what good you can do with it."

The sleuth grabbed the money dispenser, shot him into the elevator and to the eighth floor, where the chief sits. The moneyed man threw the roll on Clabaugh's desk and said:

"My name's William H. Kruse, late of Mondovi, Wis., and I'm not going back. They made me mad up there. A gink told me to buy Liberty bonds; that it was a good investment. I told him to run along. I know where I can get 6 per cent!

"It made me so mad I left the state flat on its back. I got my money together and showed it to 'em and laughed at 'em.

"Now, you take that money and buy Liberty bonds with every cent of it—not for investment but for patriotism! That's the kind of a guy I am. Shoot it all for Uncle Sam!"

They counted the roll and found it totaled $1,500. Then they sent Mr. Kruse out to the Psycopathic hospital. When he felt better he said this was his first celebration in ten years.

Girl Out of Work Jumps from Window; May Die

Miss Margaret McCarthy, 22 years old, of 4409 Greenwood avenue, attempted to commit suicide early yesterday morning by jumping out of a second story window. She was found by a pedestrian in a semi-unconscious condition. She was taken to the county hospital, where physicians say she may die. She had been out of work for some time.

Mrs. J. E. Vincent, at whose home Miss McCarthy stayed, said she had mentioned having a love affair with a young man who had joined the army.

GOVERNMENT WITNESSES FAIL TO APPEAR.

Nobody appeared yesterday to prosecute Samuel Hyman when he was arraigned before Judge Joseph David in the Superior court for having government property in his possession and he was released. Members of the American Protective league charged a sweater stolen from the Red C was found on him.

CLEARING HOUSE OF STOLEN AUTOS IS SEEN IN PEORIA

Chicago detectives have been sent to Peoria to locate an alleged clearing house for automobiles stolen in Chicago. Assistant State's Attorney Marvin E. Barnhart is also reported to be there. Fences and thieves, part of a nation-wide organization, are expected to be rounded up, according to Chief of Police Rhoades of Peoria. Information of the clearing house is said to have been laid before State's Attorney Hoyne by "Hi Hi" Simmonds, recently arrested there.

Edward L. Richter, former Chicago attorney, has been summoned before the Peoria police and his automobile held pending investigation of deals recently made by him. He told Chief Rhoades he had bought many machines, but could not remember who from.

Since Nov. 1, 169 cars have been stolen here. No arrests have been made. Yesterday thirteen were stolen.

LAWYER'S CASE INVESTIGATED.

The investigating committee of the Chicago Bar association is taking up charges against Attorney J. O. Morris. Moses Rosenthal and Kennedy are said to have preferred the charges. Julius W. Moses refused to discuss the case.

MARSHALL FIELD MANAGEMENT IS REORGANIZED

Estate Quits Active Part in Business; Stock Changes Made.

Reorganization of the management of Marshall Field & Co. and the withdrawal of the Marshall Field estate from participation in the active conduct of the business were announced yesterday by John G. Shedd, president of Marshall Field & Co.

Under the new arrangement James Simpson will become first vice president, John McKinlay second vice president, Fred H. Reynolds treasurer, and Kersey C. Reed secretary.

Mr. Shedd Explains.

Mr. Shedd's statement, explaining the change in detail, follows:

"For more than a year past the trustees of the estate of Marshall Field have been working with James Simpson, Stanley Field, and myself on a plan by which the estate should withdraw from participation in the business except through ownership of preferred stock bearing a fixed return.

"This plan has now become operative, and in carrying it out the par value of the shares of stock has been diminished from $100 per share to $10 per share, and the number of shares increased from 60,000 to 600,000 shares, the total amount of the capital stock of the corporation remaining unchanged.

"The papers necessary under the statute to effect this change have been filed at Springfield.

Preferred Stock Taken.

"One-half of the shares of stock are now preferred and one-half common. The preferred stock has all been taken by the estate of Marshall Field, myself, and Stanley Field.

"The trustees of the estate of Marshall Field have set apart a considerable share of the preferred stock held by them, in which employés who are not owners of common stock will be able to invest their savings under especially favorable conditions. In addition to the regular dividends which the preferred stock pays, Marshall Field & Co. will pay $2 per share per annum on the preferred stock, which is held by its employés under the plan, so that they will receive a return of 9 per cent upon their investment.

"Under the plan the common stock of the company is wholly owned by persons actively engaged in the management of the business.

Stanley Field Retires.

"Stanley Field retires from active participation in the management of the business. Upon his return from France, where he is now serving as manager of the purchasing department of the American Red Cross, he will devote his time to the management of his private affairs and in the discharge of his duties as trustee of his father's estate and as president of the Field museum.

"Mr. Field's decision to retire is received with the greatest regret on the part of those interested in the business as owners or employés. James Simpson will become first vice president John McKinlay second vice president, Fred H. Reynolds treasurer, and Kersey C. Reed secretary."

VETERAN POLICE MATRON RETIRES AFTER 27 YEARS

Mrs. Bridget O'Malley, for twenty-seven years police matron at the Hyde Park station, retired yesterday. Chicago was the first city to conceive the idea of appointing women to look after female prisoners, and Mrs. O'Malley was one of the first four women assigned as an experiment. During her long term of service there was never a complaint lodged against her and she was never transferred from her station. When Mrs. O'Malley, who lives at 609 East Sixtieth street, first took her job she was in charge of the south side district, and in the old days before there was a juvenile home all the delinquent children whose homes were on the south side were lodged with her.

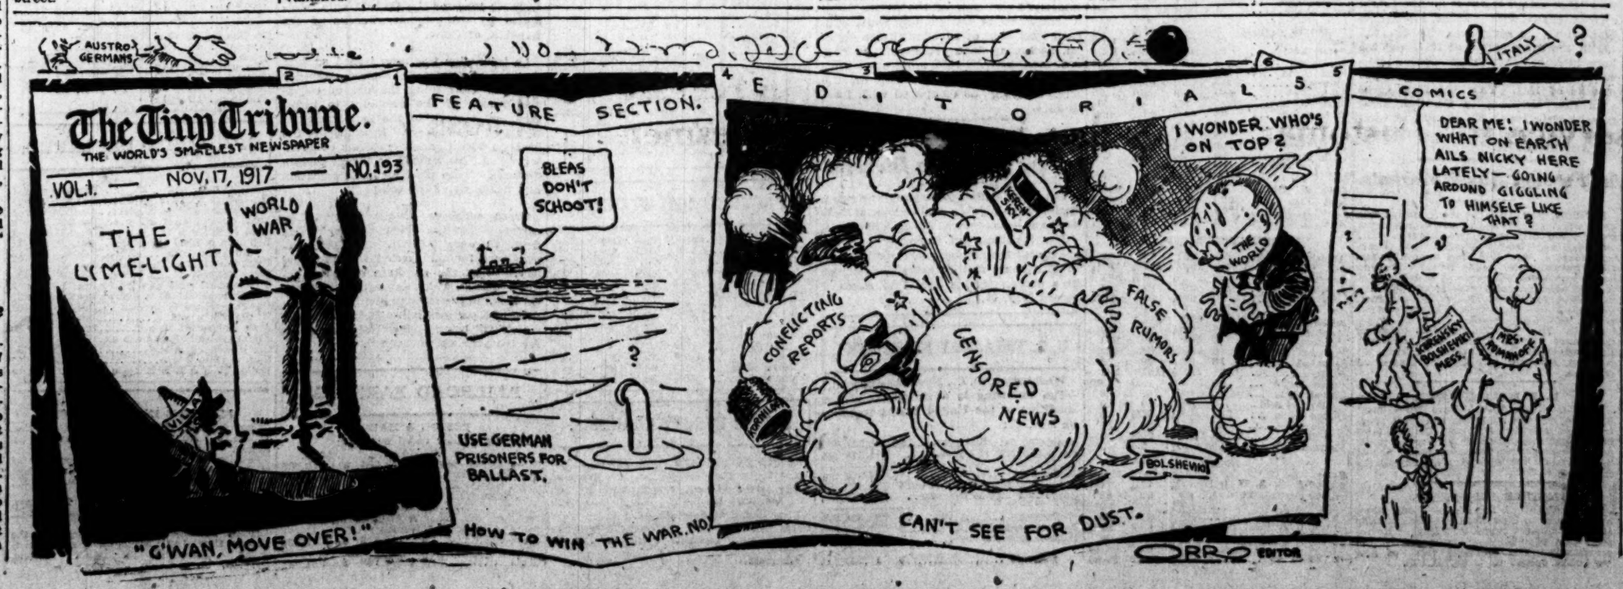

"Mrs. O'Malley is a wonderful woman," said Mrs. Anna Murphy, police matron at the Harrison street station. "I can remember what wonderful work she has done for the women. In the old days there wasn't any United Charities or much of any organized charity work, and all city relief work was done through the police department. Mrs. O'Malley wasn't satisfied to do just her regulation work. She made it known that she knew of worthy families and many were the people who brought their worn clothes and bedding to her for distribution to the poor. She took a personal interest in the women who were in her charge, and many a girl in a good home remembers with gratitude the good advice and the encouragement that set her right."

Afraid They'd Kill Him, He Sold 'Em Dope, He Says

Dr. Nathan N. Shaffner, 2401 Lawrence avenue, yesterday told federal operatives that victims of drugs had brandished knives and threatened his life and that he sold them dope in fear of death. Detectives said they began to investigate the doctor after it was learned he had bought 25,000 morphine tablets at a time.

Dr. Shaffner admitted he had sold drug addicts "just a few tablets at first." They then began to haunt his office, plead, cajole and threaten.

He was held under $2,000 bonds by United States Commissioner Mason and last night, having failed to furnish the bond, was taken to the county jail.

Total sales of stocks, 285,000 shares.

Total sales of bonds [par value], $4,270,000.

CONTRACTION OF STOCKS.

New York, Nov. 16.—[Special.]—There was further contraction in the sales on the New York stock exchange today, and there seems to be no doubt that one of the causes was the closer espionage by the governors over the short selling by floor traders.

Since the new regulation went into effect the total volume of trading has fallen off more than one-half and stocks have been firmer. There seems to be warrant, therefore, for the assumption that a large proportion of recent speculative trading has been done by floor members of the exchange and not by the public and that the market raids have originated within the walls.

Names Are Known.

Under the new rule the name of every man who sells stocks short is known to the governors, and it is said that undue bear activity is certain to lead to severe discipline. The result has been wholesome, but the evil has not been thoroughly eradicated.

For instance, there were persistent reports in Wall street today of another corner in General Motors, and that a run in of the shorts is impending. Several leading houses received notice that stock they had been lending would be taken up early next week. The stock is now lending at a premium of three-eighths of 1 per cent, over night, which is equivalent to an annual interest rate of 136 per cent. This rate is practically prohibitive.

Even Tone in Market.

The general market displayed an even tone and there was excellent buying for cash reported by many of the leading commission houses. The easy condition of the money market in the face of the great government payments was undoubtedly responsible in large measure for the improved sentiment.

WAR RESTRAINTS STILL HANDICAP TO BUSINESS

New York, Nov. 16.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

"With the increasing restraints imposed by war conditions, and with the many uncertainties of the period, business is handicapped in various ways and its progress is necessarily checkered and irregular. Not through lack of confidence but owing to the drawbacks in production and distribution, and also because of diminishing supplies of materials and merchandise, some important transactions are being held in abeyance, and the difficulties of filling requirements are not calculated to lessen with winter drawing nearer and a still greater congestion in transportation foreshadowed.

"It is particularly unfortunate, at a time when the manufacturing forces of the country should be running most smoothly to meet the extensive and growing war needs and the large demands from regular channels, that some plants have been obliged to shut down through inability to obtain fuel, and that the works in many directions continue hindered by labor shortage and other obstacles. Where uninterrupted operations are possible there are comparatively few instances where producers have not sufficient orders in hand to keep them actively occupied, and it is not uncommon to hear of ordinary business being turned aside to make room for the pressing wants of this government and its allies.

United Drug October Sales Over $4,000,000

October sales of the United Drug company were in excess of $4,000,000, an annual rate of $50,000,000. Sales for the eleven months ended Dec. 31, 1916, were slightly better than $33,000,000. Sales for the twelve months to end Dec. 31, 1917, are expected to run better than $40,000,000. The company should earn in excess of $12 a share for the common stock this year after allowing for war taxes. Some expect the earnings to run as high as $15 a share for the common.

Baldwin Turns Out One Locomotive Every Hour

According to a Philadelphia interview, President A. B. Johnson of the Baldwin Locomotive works, said: "The company is constructing seventy-eight locomotives a week. This is at the rate of more than one for every working hour of the day. It is not a maximum accomplishment. We shall do more."

ON THE BROAD STREET CURB

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—[Special.]—Business on the Broad street curb was generally small in volume and fluctuations in the majority of issues were narrow and without much significance. There was no special pressure and satisfaction was expressed over the amount of bids under the market, which had a steadying influence on the market tone. There were indications in a number of stocks that the practical restriction of buying to cash purchases will have a tendency to make the low priced shares on the curb demand more attention.

Oil stocks were heavy and ranged lower.

Mining groups were fairly active with the mixed changes.

Russian 6½s sold at 65. Canadian government 5s were firm at 94⅝.

RESERVE SYSTEM GAINS 28 BANKS SINCE NOV. 1

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Twenty-eight important state banks and trust companies have been admitted to the federal reserve system since Nov. 1 in the government's plan for strengthening the national financial structure against the shock of war. They have aggregate capital of $33,685,000, surplus of $41,187,000, and resources of $845,796,000, bringing the total resources of the 145 state institutions now members of the reserve system up to $3,929,000,000.

South American Trade Shows Enormous Gain

Trade between the United States and South America is three times as great now, when compared with the year before the war. A compilation by the National City bank of New York shows that the total exports in the eight months ended with August aggregated $188,000,000, as compared with $65,000,000 in the same period of 1914, and the imports from South America were $433,000,000, against $157,000,000 in the same months of 1914. Thus the total trade with that continent in the first eight months of 1917 was $620,000,000, as compared with $222,000,000 in the corresponding months of 1914.

In Foreign Stock Markets.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The stock market was quiet with shipping shares and Scandinavian bonds again firm and active features. The war loan was steadily supported and American Marconi was firm, but several industrials reacted under profit taking. Russian issues were steady. Money was in better supply and discount rates were steady. Bar silver, 43¼d per ounce. Money, 3⅝ per cent. Discount rates, short bills, 4⅝ per cent; 3 month bills, 4⅝ per cent.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Trading was quiet on the bourse. Rentes, 59 francs 75 centimes. Exchange on London, unofficial, 27 francs 32 centimes. Five per cent loan, 87 francs, 70 centimes.

U. S. MEAT EXPORTS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—Almost 5,500,000,000 lbs of meats and meat products were exported from the United States in the first three years of the war. Department of commerce statistics show almost 2,000,000,000 lbs were exported during the fiscal year of 1917.

MOTHER LODE MINES.

The president of the Mother Lode mines has returned to New York after six months at the company's mines in Alaska. He reports that $450,000 has been spent for improvements. The estimated value of new ore bodies opened up is $8,741,175.

New York, Nov. 16.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the federal court here today against Elmer Dwiggins, promoter of the "United States Government Liberty Loan club," through which, it is charged, thousands of dollars were collected from small investors on the $1 a week plan for the second government war loan. A receiver in bankruptcy was appointed in the federal court.

U. S. MUST HELP THE RAILROADS, VANDERLIP SAYS

Acquire the Ownership or Restore Confidence in the Securities.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Frank A. Vanderlip, New York banker and chairman of the government's war savings committee, and Paul M. Warburg, vice governor of the federal reserve board, called by the interstate commerce commission today as expert witnesses in the 15 per cent advance rate case, testified that radical action was necessary to remedy the railroad financial situation.

Mr. Vanderlip was of the opinion that the proposed rate increases only touched the surface of the situation, while Mr. Warburg declared that should it be granted its effect from a psychological standpoint in restoring confidence among investors would be a greater advantage than the immediate monetary gain it might mean to the roads.

Two Courses Open.

One of two things must be done to meet the situation, either the government must acquire ownership or some action taken to restore confidence in their securities, Mr. Vanderlip said. Granting the increase the roads request, he insisted, would act only as a poultice and not affect a real cure.

In their arguments for the increase Mr. Vanderlip said railroad men themselves failed to see below the surface and view what he believed to be fundamentally wrong—the effort to force the two regulatory principles, prevention of combinations and fixing of rates, to work smoothly together.

Restoration of Confidence.

"Either one may be all right, but not both together," he declared. "As long as rates are regulated the railroads should have the right to form combinations."

Mr. Vanderlip added that the railroads faced expenditures of one billion dollars annually to maintain their property and that this must come from the investor and, "Whatever we may think the investor must have confidence."

The question of confidence was the principal thought in the statement of Mr. Warburg. He maintained that railroad stocks had reached such a stage that the roads' only method of obtaining money was through bond issues which could not be made on a satisfactory basis now.

Looking to the Future.

It had been testified in the hearing that the railroads showed increased earnings recently and the property generally was in good condition and when this was called to Mr. Warburg's attention with the question as to why he believed there was lack of confidence among investors he said the "investors were looking to the future."

"If the public does not feel the railroads are receiving generous treatment," he added, "the money will be withheld."

Mr. Warburg stated that he would consider a railroad having equal amount of stock and bonds in an ideal financial condition, providing the stock was at or above par, but that generally railroad stocks now were so low that only bond issues were left to get money.

Deal Not Possible Now.

He pointed to the sale by the Pennsylvania railroad last March of $60,000,000 in bonds to net 4.8 as an advantageous deal for the railroad which would be impossible now for any company.

Both Mr. Vanderlip and Mr. Warburg, answering questions of counsel for the shippers, said they were not prepared to give data to bear out their statements, but had recited their impressions of the situation after being called by the commission only two days ago for statements.

FINANCIAL NOTES

OUTPUT of pleasure cars by the Studebaker corporation in 1918 will be cut 50 per cent under the output for 1917. However, the output for 1917 was so much larger than that of 1915 and 1916 that the output planned for 1918 will not be more than 20 or 25 per cent under the average output of the last three years. The company's new $2,000,000 addition to the plant is nearing completion, and, with the added facilities, will be needed for government contracts.

The 1916-'17 Cuban sugar crop has been placed at 3,019,936 long tons by the Cuban representative of the Federal Sugar Refining company. This crop has been variously estimated at from 2,900,000 to 3,300,000 tons, and compares with 3,006,624 tons for the 1914-'15 season and 3,500,000 tons for the 1917-'18 crop, estimated by the publicity bureau of the Republic of Cuba.

An injunction has been issued against the E. I. Du Pont De Nemours Powder company restraining the use of corporate assets of the company to retire the capital stock to the impairment of rights of bondholders. In rendering the decision Vice Chancellor Bakes of Trenton, N. J., condemned as illegal certain features of the plan for reorganization and financing of the company.

Gross earnings of the Barnes-King company for the third quarter ended Sept. 30 were $156,881. The only expenditure for this period was the final payment on the purchase of the Shannon property, which amounted to $61,442. On Nov. 15 the company will pay a dividend of 5 per cent on its $2,000,000 stock, which will bring dividend disbursements for the year up to $100,000.

MARKET COMMENT

NEW YORK commission houses continue to assert that the market is well liquidated. Some of them are advising the purchase of stocks for investment. The technical position is universally regarded to be so much improved that under ordinary conditions securities would be a speculative purchase for this reason alone. One large New York wire house is said to have reduced its loans at the banks from $40,000,000 to $10,000,000, which means that about three-fourths of the firm's customers have either gotten out or been shaken out of the market.

But technical conditions alone are not a final factor in the present situation. The overshadowing features are war conditions abroad with resulting taxation features at home.

Although no action has been taken by directors of the International Mercantile Marine, friends of the company do not regard the matter as important as to whether the committee report is acted on at once or not. The most important thing, from their view, is that the company has sufficient idle cash to make a considerable payment, on account of the accumulated dividend on the preferred stock, whenever a plan may be determined upon.

Earnings of the National Biscuit company are said to be running at a satisfactory rate and the company has not been obliged to borrow in order to take care of an increased inventory made necessary by the higher cost of raw materials. The shortage of sugar may result in smaller sales, but the company will concentrate its efforts in pushing lines in which there is no shortage of raw materials.

Some New York observers are predicting an early favorable decision by the interstate commerce commission because the banks, trust companies, and savings institutions must make up their asset reports at the end of the year, and it is held that restoration of confidence in the carriers would do much toward bringing back investment confidence and absorption of railroad securities to a point where higher levels would be seen.

At the annual meeting of the Crucible Steel company the chairman of the board, Herbert Dupuy, who presided, told the shareholders there was a possibility that the government would fix prices on the products manufactured by the company. The excess profits taxes, he said, are being provided for, and out of earnings for October more than $800,000 was put aside for that purpose. All directors were reëlected.

A good demand is reported for Southern Railway common and preferred. They have been largely bought for odd lot account. The earnings of southern roads continue to reflect a strong position, according to Morgan interests.

It is estimated that as much as $25 a share on the common stock of the American Sugar Refining company will be shown during the present year, after the deduction of war taxes.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

UNION CARBIDE AND CARBON had a good recovery on the local exchange, moving up to 45⅝ and closing at 45, against 43½ the previous day. According to one source of information, there was liquidated for one account, prior to yesterday, 15,000 shares. Insiders in some of the constituent companies have told their friends they are now buying the stock.

The remainder of the list was barely active. Only a few trades were recorded in Swift & Co. The price was up 1 point at the close. Stewart-Warner was ¼ better than the previous day. Peoples Gas was fractionally lower. Commonwealth Edison gained ½.

In the bond department only two local issues were traded in. Chicago City Railway 5s sold at 89¼, the lowest price they have touched, and about 10 points below where they ruled in average markets. However, this is true of all utilities bonds. Commonwealth Edison 5s, which touched 103 last year, are selling around 92. Swift & Co. 5s were steady at 93½.

MONEY MARKET CALM AS HUGE SUMS ARE PAID

$684,000,000 Liberty Loan Transaction Moves Smoothly.

Without occasioning any disturbance in money market conditions, there was paid to the United States government through the banks of the country yesterday nominally $684,000,000. And this large payment serves to illustrate the fact that it has taken the people of this country about 140 years, dating from the Declaration of Independence, to bring into existence modern banking methods in the operations of the government.

Organized primarily to improve in a modest way the banking system, the federal reserve act has far outreached in beneficent power either the expectations or dreams of its founders. It has not only helped to stabilize money rates but is, in a way, acting as a clearing house agent between the government and the banks, a function not considered when the reserve act was passed.

Sells Certificates to Banks.

The government has been selling the banks certificates of indebtedness. On these it has been raising funds in anticipation of the proceeds of Liberty bond sales. Of these certificates there are outstanding to be paid off by the government by Dec. 15 over $2,300,000,000. This sum is owed by the government to the banks. On Nov. 15, the day when the $684,000,000 was due the government on the Liberty bonds, the government stood to pay off $300,000,000 of these certificates of indebtedness held by the banks.

Here appears in effect the clearing house transaction. The certificates are credited against the money owed by the banks to the government and there is no actual transfer of funds to the amount mentioned. To complete the transaction, however, many of the banks owing money to the government on Liberty loan subscriptions qualified as government depositories. As such they became government banks and entered a credit in favor of the government to the extent of the amount due from such banks to the government.

A Nominal Transaction.

In other words, instead of paying out the money these depositary banks merely said, we owe it to you—just as they do in the case of individual depositors. So the whole $684,000,000 payment became a nominal transaction. The advantage of this is that no funds are locked up in the treasury of the United States, and that when the government needs money, and only as it needs it, the same will be withdrawn from the banks and, being immediately disbursed, will return to them.

These operations are conducted through the federal reserve system, another name for having the banks of the United States deal with one another and the government very much as the banks of any individual city deal among themselves. It has made the banking resources of the country not only liquid but available for every emergency.

Eastern Roads to Ask Help.

Washington advices are that eastern railroad executives will almost certainly ask the interstate commerce commission to grant their roads immediate relief in addition to the 15 per cent commodity rate advances pending. They have not finally agreed what form this additional relief should take, but it is thought likely to be a general advance in all rates, perhaps 15 per cent in addition to the 15 per cent involved in formal proceedings.

A passenger rate increase has been suggested, but is considered impracticable in view of the attitude of the states and the possibility of defeating higher interstate rates by buying two or more local tickets.

Money and Exchange.

Money rates in Chicago firm at 5½@6 per cent on collateral 5¼@6 per cent on commercial paper, 5½@6 per cent over the counter. New York exchange, no market. Chicago bank clearings, $107,850,121.

OATS TRADE BIG AND MARKET IS SHARPLY HIGHER

Buying of December Delivery by Cash Houses Is Feature; Corn Firmer.

Much activity and sharply higher prices featured trading in oats futures yesterday. December oats advanced to the highest level on the crop and sold at a premium over the May, whereas a few weeks ago it was at several cents discount. Closing quotations were ⅝@1c higher than previous resting spots, but were materially under the best levels of the day, as there was a great deal of realizing by longs in the latter part of the session.

Cash houses were active buyers of December oats, Bartlett-Frazier leading, and much of the remaining short interest was also covered. Thomson & McKinnon were good buyers of both December and May oats. The selling of May oats near the finish by A. J. White was a feature.

Leading elevator interests were active buyers of cash oats early in the day, but withdrew from the market later. No. 3 white oats were purchased mainly at 2c over December price, with some sales 2¼c over, and late bids about 1¾c over. Purchases on overnight bids to the country were small. Prices in the sample market were steady to 1½c higher, with shipping sales 35,000 bu. Primary receipts totaled 1,076,000 bu, against 686,000 bu a year ago.

Rally in Corn Market.

After a brief period of weakness at the outset the corn market ruled higher, drawing much of its strength from oats. Prices at the finish were 1¼c higher for December and ⅝@¾c higher for distant deliveries. Shorts in December showed more unrest, and at one time had the price 3c over the previous close, although the amounts traded in were small.

The bulge in December had more or less effect on the other months, and there was a great deal of short covering. Block-Maloney and Shearson-Hammill were heavy sellers of corn, and this induced some local pressure. The trade anticipates a larger movement on the strength of the reports that more cars have been ordered to the grain belt, and the demand for cash corn was not as good as recently.

Prices in the sample market were steady to 5c lower for new corn, but the few cars of old corn ruled steady to 3c higher, with No. 2 yellow bringing up to $2.40. Weather over the belt was generally favorable, although lower temperatures are wanted to improve the quality of the new crop. Primary markets received 488,000 bu corn, against 643,000 bu a year ago.

Small Trade in Product.

The provision market was a quiet and featureless affair, prices declining largely from lack of buying power. Higher prices for hogs and the firmness in grains failed to stimulate demand, and moderate local selling caused small recessions. Western markets received 96,100 hogs, compared with 135,565 a year ago. Local meat shipments were 2,454,000 lbs, against 2,307,000 lbs a year ago, while lard shipments were 236,000 lbs, against 627,000 lbs last year.

Steady Market for Rye.

Rye was steady. Cash No. 2 sold $1.80@1.80½; No. 3, $1.79, and No. 4, $1.76½. Receipts were 13 cars.

Barley ruled 1c higher. Malting was quoted $1.20@1.36 and sold $1.26@1.35; feed and mixing quotable $1.05@1.25, with sales at $1.14@1.15, and as high as $1.31 was paid by feed men for malting; screenings were quoted 60c@1.02 and sold 62c@1.00, with choice at $1.20. Receipts, 48 cars.

Timothy seed was quiet. March closed $8.25 bid and $8.50 asked. Cash lots sold $6.25. Clover seed ruled easy. Cash lots were quoted $20.00@26.00 and spot prime $26.75.

Flax closed 5c lower, with cash $3.31 @3.33.

GOSSIP OF THE PIT

GRAIN traders are much worked up over the various interpretations of the food license rule. Howard B. Jackson, vice president of the food administration, in a letter to the secretary of the Board of Trade, stated that a license is now required from practically every one dealing in grain, whether for their own account or as commission merchants, and that the only exception is covering pit transactions, and even these come within the ruling, due to the deliveries of cash grain on contracts.

He said that it is his belief that every member of the board trading in or out of the pit should do so only under a license. Officials of the Board of Trade have been under the impression that pit transactions were exempt, basing this belief on the reading of the president's proclamation.

John R. Mauff, acting president of the Board of Trade, states that they expect to hear something from their committee in Washington on the subject not later than Monday.

Modern Miller says: "The winter wheat crop already seeded will exceed 42,000,000 acres. In some districts of the southwest they are still seeding, mainly in Texas and Oklahoma. The seeding in the dry sections of western Kansas is reported finished. On the Pacific coast there is yet some seeding to be done.

"The crop, with the exception of the limited dry districts in the southwest, has made favorable progress under good conditions. In some parts of the belt stock is grazing on the plant."

A Washington, D. C., message to D. N. Williams of the Western Union states that the department of agriculture will issue a review of crop production and values this year on Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 1 p. m., central time. On Wednesday, Dec. 19, at 11:30 a. m. an estimate of winter wheat and rye acreage and condition will be issued.

Joseph Wade of Memphis, Tenn., was a visitor here yesterday, and said that they have a lot of good corn in his section, but that they are handicapped by the lack of sufficient corn shellers. Some crude methods are practiced because of the shortage of machinery, and this detracts from the quality of the grain. He reports a steady demand.

Bradstreet's reported exports of wheat and flour from both coasts this week at 3,728,000 bu, a decrease of 435,000 bu. Corn exports were placed at 362,000 bu, decreasing 24,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

Since July 1	93,621,000	10,888,000
Year ago	150,224,000	21,554,000

Argentine shipments of wheat this week decreased 523,000 bu, while corn decreased 157,000 bu and flaxseed decreased 50,000 bu. Oats exports were 253,000 bu, against none last week. Comparative totals follow:

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—SUGAR—The following prices were quoted by wholesale dealers per 100 lbs: Powdered standard, $9.00; Rushton, $7.50; beet, $7.75; cane, $7.75.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—SUGAR—There was no change in raw sugar prices, but there were sales again, including 450 tons of Demerara November arrival, and later yesterday there were sales of about 25,000 bags of Cubas, specified November clearances to the commission, at equal to 6.90c for centrifugal delivered. Prices were quoted at 5¾c for Cubas cost and freight, equal to 6.90c for centrifugal and 6.02c for molasses. In refined prices were unchanged at 8.35c for fine granulated, with the demand still in excess of the supply. Some little relief has been afforded by the distribution of the recently acquired export sugars, but no western beets have arrived as yet to relieve the situation.

COTTON.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—COTTON—The market opened barely steady at a decline of 3@18 points and sold about 20@30 points net lower during the early trading. The trade buying, which had been such a prominent feature earlier in the week, was less active, while there was scattered southern selling, liquidation, and local pressure. Reports of an easier spot basis were circulating on the decline and doubtless increased the disposition to even up long commitments for over the week end after the sharp advances of the last few days. March rallied and active months generally recovered their early losses, but the list soon weakened again under renewed liquidation, with selling active and excited late in the afternoon. December and March broke, with the general market selling about 46@65 points net lower. Exports today, 19,593 bales, making 1,509,772 so far this season. United States port stocks, 1,110,168. Today's port receipts, 38,281 bales. Reports of increased spot offerings were received from both eastern and western sections of the belt. Futures:

Cotton, spot quiet; middling uplands, 29.55c; no sales.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 16.—COTTON—Nervous fluctuations, quick declines, and fitful recoveries featured the trading in cotton here today. The market remained below the level of yesterday's close most of the session and closed at the lowest, a net loss of 29@41 points. Futures:

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—COFFEE—A steadier feeling showed itself in the market for coffee futures. Trade interests were also credited with buying, possibly to undo hedges against sales out of the local stock, and after opening 1 to 2 points higher, active months sold 3 or 4 points above last night's closing figures. December touched 7.02c and May 7.43c. The close was a shade off from the best under realizing, but steady at a net gain of 1 to 3 points. Closing bids: December, 7.01c; January, 7.09c; March, 7.26c; May, 7.43c; July, 7.60c; September, 7.77c. Spot coffee steady; Rio 7s, 7⅝c; Santos 4s, 9½c.

As yesterday was a holiday in Brazil no official cables were received from primary markets and no change was reported in the cost and freight situation.

Firmness pervaded the market for hogs at Chicago yesterday and the bulk of fresh receipts sold at an advance of 10@15c. Pigs, on the other hand, were mostly 25c lower. Receipts of 21,000 head included a lot of pigs. The proportion of choice butcher hogs was small, and they sold at the full advance, with tops at $17.85 and the bulk at $17.65@17.80. Most of the packing grades sold at $17.35@17.60. Pigs topped at $17.25.

Cattle trade was quiet and steady. Receipts were posted at 4,500. This supply was ample for requirements, as most of the best buyers were either out of the market or so well supplied they needed only a few. Cows, heifers, and calves were steady for the day.

Sheep and lamb market had a buoyant undertone, and prices were unchanged to 15c higher. Lambs topped at $17.25, a new top for the week. Prime fat ewes sold up to $11.50. Total receipts of 7,000 were well taken, and the market closed strong at an advance for the week.

BROKERS FACE REFUND OF CASH KELLEY GAMBLED

Creditors May Sue for Amounts Shown on Check Stubs.

Chicago stock brokers may have to make good to the stockholders of the insolvent People's Building and Loan association the thousands lost through them in speculation by Harrison Kelley, secretary of the association, who was found $217,000 short in his accounts two days after his body was washed in from the lake at Winnetka.

The name of King-Farnum & Co. appears as the payee on $20,000 worth of checks drawn by Kelley during 1911-'12-'13, and for $500 on stubs for a small portion of 1914. Walker-Wrenn & Co., and John Wrenn & Co., appear to have been paid $60,000 by Kelley. These latter payments started in 1892. During that year and the years 1893 and 1894 they were paid $10,000. In 1895 they got $10,000 more, and various amounts afterward.

Checks Tell the Story.

A perfunctory tabulation of the amounts paid to King-Farnum & Co. during 1911, 1912 and 1913, and the dates on which the checks were drawn, tells its own story:

1911.

April 19	$ 500	Sept. 9	$1,000
April 26	500	Oct. 17	1,000
July 7	500	Nov. 22	500
Sept. 2	1,000	Dec. 14	1,000

1912.

March 18	$2,000	Nov. 19	$2,500
Oct. 26	3,000	Dec. 20	800

1913.

March 12	$1,000	May 5	$1,000
March 19	500	May 26	500
April 24	1,000

The tabulations were made by a committee of stockholders who are investigating the wrecking of the association, Attorney Willard M. McEwen, chairman of this committee, said.

"It is possible we may be able to recover from some of the brokers. I know of many instances where recoveries have been made—somewhere the money was paid back threefold. Just what the legal status in this instance is I have not yet determined."

Other Names Shown.

An official of King-Farnum & Co. recently denied to a reporter for THE TRIBUNE that the name of Harrison Kelley appears on that concern's books.

One Holligan and one L. G. Dominick, also believed to be or have been stock brokers, appear by the check stubs to have been paid $10,000 each by Kelley over a period of years.

John S. Kowalski, an examiner for the state auditor, was interrogated by committee members yesterday. He told how he had audited the books of the association. His "testimony" developed little other than that the examination of the state auditor is "not an audit" or a thorough check of a building and loan association's condition.

3 MORE BROKERS PROMISE U. S. THEY'LL BE GOOD

Representatives of three more brokerage houses, members of the Board of Trade, were called to the office of Robert W. Childs, special assistant attorney general, investigating foods here, and put through a course of questioning to determine what they know of board speculations. It is charged that a little coterie of speculators "ran riot" recently, buying corn and oats futures recklessly.

Those who reported, on request, spoke for the following concerns:

Bartlett, Frazier & Co.
Jackson Bros. & Co.
Lewis & Co.

Mr. Childs said yesterday that all who had visited him so far had agreed that they would, in the future, live up to the requests of the food administration and refrain from speculation. He intimated that others will appear in the immediate future.

Unless speculation in grain contracts, the sort where no delivery is contemplated, is stopped at once, the government plans to turn its evidence over to the grand jury. It is hoped to limit sales to actual grain purchased to be delivered to elevators or mills.

Real Estate Transfers

Real estate transfers filed for record yesterday totaled 164, of which 127 were in the city and 37 outside, including 18 under the Torrens system. Transfers were as follows:

Lake View	10	Cicero	12
Jefferson	20	Stickney	7
South Town	5	Rogers Park	2
Hyde Park	18	Calumet	4
Lake	25	Bremen	1
West Town	38	Lyons	2
North Town	5	Maine	2

Proviso	2

A transaction involving the erection of two thirty-six apartment buildings, to cost about $115,000 each, on Cornelia avenue near Rokeby street, and an acre purchase by William H. Britigan in the outlying west part of the city comprised the most interesting features of yesterday's real estate news.

The Cornelia avenue transaction covers the premises 841-49 and 851-59, lot 180x143 feet, north front, which has been sold by Beatrice Hillinger to Adolph Turnbull, a nominal consideration being given. The sale, however, is said to have been on the basis of about $175 a front foot. Mr. Turnbull plans to erect on the property at 841-49 the Weller apartments and on the remainder of the frontage, 851-59, the Virginia apartments, each to contain thirty-six apartments, to cost, as indicated, about $115,000. In this connection he has secured two loans from the Chicago Title and Trust company, trustee, each for $65,000, six years, at 6 per cent.

Adjoins Parkholme Subdivision.

Mr. Britigan's purchase comprises twenty acres adjoining his Parkholme subdivision near the plant of the Western Electric company, which he acquired from Raymond Mulvaney. The consideration is not disclosed, but it is said to have been on the basis of about $5,000 an acre. The tract, which adjoins the Douglas Park branch of the Metropolitan elevated road near Fifty-second avenue, has been subdivided into 180 lots and is to be sold with underground improvements and sidewalks. Mr. Britigan opened his Parkholme subdivision of eighty acres about a year ago and reports having sold nearly all of the original 640 lots into which it was subdivided.

Bernard G. Brady has purchased from Emma R. Newell the high grade six apartment building, with lot 52x180 feet, at 5027-29 Washington boulevard, having a gross annual rental of $3,990. The price is not disclosed but is said to have been about $32,500, the transfer being subject to an incumbrance of $16,500. In part payment the purchaser conveyed the nine room brick dwelling at the southwest corner of Thirty-first street and Home avenue, Berwyn, valued at $10,000. W. M. Breckenridge of Breckenridge & Co. represented the purchaser and John J. Walsh of P. M. Walsh & Co. the seller.

Flat Changes Hands.

The eighteen apartment building at the northeast corner of Ridgeway and Belle Plaine avenues has been conveyed by George Rosen to John Hendricks for a reported consideration of $38,000, subject to an incumbrance of $22,500. The purchaser conveyed in part payment the property at the northeast corner of Seventeenth street and Ashland avenue, improved with a building containing one store and eight flats, at a valuation of $14,500, subject to an incumbrance of $5,500. Hyman and Harry Berkson were the brokers.

Comfort H. Compere, a real estate broker, has purchased from Frederick H. Smith the residence property at 770 Sheridan road, Glencoe, on the west side of the road, about 200 feet north of Beach road. The lot is 82x177 feet, improved with an attractive two and a half story brick and stucco dwelling containing ten rooms, with sleeping porch and sun parlor. The consideration is not disclosed, but is said to have been in the neighborhood of $17,000.

Buys Apartment.

The apartment property in Galt avenue, 222 feet east of Sheridan road, lot 60x127 feet, south front, has been conveyed by Frank O. Case to Katerina Kosatka, a nominal consideration being given, subject to an incumbrance of $22,500.

The American Bond and Mortgage company has made a 5 per cent loan on apartment property. It is for $45,000, runs five years, and is secured by the property at the northeast corner of Central Park boulevard and Monroe street, overlooking Garfield park. The borrowers are Robert and Barbara K. Smithson.

MARSHALL FIELD REVIEW.

Marshall Field & Co., in their weekly review of the dry goods trade, says:

"Current wholesale distribution of dry goods is running ahead of the heavy shipments for the same period a year ago. The total volume of road sales for both immediate and future deliveries has been in excess of the same week in 1916. Merchants have been in the market in fewer numbers. Collections are well ahead."

Texas.

FOR SALE—NEW FARM OPPORTUNITY IN A GREAT STATE. A new SANTA FE line is tapping a fertile prairie section of Northwest Texas, near Oklahoma border, where many farmers have MADE GOOD with wheat, hogs, and live stock. HERE, if you ACT NOW, you can get first choice. You can get in AHEAD of the railway and the people whom the railway will bring. Chance of a lifetime for a man of moderate means. A certain number of thrifty, farseeing farmers can acquire good land at an astonishingly low figure and on long, easy terms. Why say good-by to good rent money every year when same money invested here will pay big returns and make you OWNER of a fine big farm? A great railroad, like the Santa Fe, would only recommend what it considers a good thing; it wants to see new territory developed and wants newcomers to PROSPER and PRODUCE. Climate is pleasant, rainfall comes in growing season, winters are mild, stock can run in open year around. Schools, churches, telephones, good roads. Everything here but enough men with families. The farmers' BEST CHANCE is on good low priced land raising products that bring big returns. Be one of the fortunate first comers to reap the advantages of a section inspected by a Santa Fe agricultural agent and pronounced RIGHT. Twenty-dollar-an-acre land here has made 26% YEARLY, compared with 6% on $150 land in Illinois and Iowa corn belt. Write me for our free illustrated folder with particulars, giving experience of farmers now here and results achieved in short time on small capital. C. L. SEAGRAVES, Industrial Commissioner, Santa Fe Ry., 1105 Railway Exch., Chicago.

Dan Canary

The Automobile Expert.

It Will Cost You Nothing

My expert advice is free for the asking.

If you are going to buy a new or used automobile, see me and I will save you money.

There is a most excellent reason. I have no connection with any manufacturer, or with any one make of car.

If you will give me five minutes of your time I can quickly convince you of the difference between the man who knows and the other fellow who thinks he knows.

If you are sick, you consult the BEST DOCTOR of known ability and reputation. If you have a question of law to be settled you consult the BEST POSTED LAWYER. If you are going to invest your money in stocks, bonds, or real estate you consult the BEST POSTED BROKER. If you are going to buy an automobile consult me—the BEST POSTED AUTOMOBILE MAN in CHICAGO.
